WILSON GUARDED ON RAIL PEACE OUTLOOK

Roads Have Proposal to Accept 8-Hour Day, With Application to Be Worked Out by Others.

Washington, Aug. 15.—After the committee of railroad managers had another conference with President Wilson early today, it became known that a proposal was under consideration by which the railroads would accept the principle of an eight-hour day and leave the working out of its application to the interstate commerce commission or some body formed for the purpose.

Statement from Tumulty.

Secretary Tumulty issued the following statement:

"The president spent an hour and a half this morning with the representatives of the railway management. After the conference he said that it was impossible as yet to report on the results; all that he could say was that a very candid and honest discussion was in progress about practicable bases of settlement."

Just before 3 o'clock the brotherhood leaders moved to the white house to renew their conferences with the president, who, it was said, would lay the railroad managers' proposal before them.

Lee Declines to Talk.

The committee of railroad managers reached the white house to continue their conference with President Wilson at 9 a. m. Elisha Lee, the managers' chairman, refused to say whether a counter proposal for submission to the employes had been drawn up.

The members of the committee looked haggard from their prolonged meeting, which lasted until an early hour this morning. They straggled into the white house by twos and threes. All were ready for the president when he entered the conference room promptly at 9 o'clock.

"At this stage of the proceedings, I can say absolutely nothing," said Mr. Lee as he entered the white house. He carried a portfolio of papers.

After an hour and a half of conference with the president, the managers committee left the white house by a side door, hoping to evade questioners.

Elisha Lee, the chairman, said: "We are entirely in the president's hands and have agreed with him that he will make any statement."

While the managers were at the white house the brotherhood leaders conferred among themselves and awaited the call for their conference. The general opinion among them was that the president was putting the burden of averting a strike up to the railroads and that the prospects for a settlement were good.

Having agreed practically to the principle of arbitration, the brotherhood leaders inclined to the view that the controversy could be settled by the railroads granting the basic eight-hour day and arbitrating the demands for time and a half for over time or by eliminating the double compensation features and having the railroads make a flat agreement to put in the eight-hour system.

The attitude of the managers as they went to the white house was said to be one of yielding something. They had

FUNERALS OF FIFTEEN WRECK VICTIMS HELD

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 15.—The number of dead in the street car accident at Echo last week was today increased to 27, when it was reported to the coroner that Mrs. Hanna Rager, of South Fork, Pa., had been instantly killed and her body removed.

The funerals of ten victims were held today from the little United Evangelical church at Tanneryville, and of five others from churches in nearby towns. All the persons buried at Tanneryville were relatives. Four of the injured still in hospitals here were said to be in a serious condition and their recovery was not expected.

WHEAT IN ANOTHER SENSATIONAL JUMP

Reports of Crop Damage Send Chicago Market Skyward.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The wheat market made another sensational advance on crop damage reports today. December options forty minutes before the close had advanced an extreme 8 cents from $1.38 to $1.46 per bushel. September less active, rose from $1.35, where it sold early today to $1.42.

The advance began with the statement of a well-known expert that the latest reports showed that the recent government report which sent prices up 11 cents a few days ago had not exaggerated crop damage. On top of this came a statement by the Manitoba, Canada, minister of agriculture, to the effect that the damage was worse than had been previously estimated. Bernard Snow, an expert whose name has been mentioned in connection with a possible federal investigation of the rise in prices, said:

"Today's market is a full answer to any questions which may have arisen in the minds of federal officers as to whether there has been anything artificial in the questions of the grain market."

Whether a federal investigation is to be made into the recent rise in the price of wheat and the subsequent advance in the price of bakery goods will be decided at a conference late today between Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission, and Charles F. Clyne, United States district attorney. Mr. Clyne said today that the heads of several large baking concerns had discussed the situation with him and made threats of an immediate advance in prices.

POLICE PICK UP TWO IN BLACKHAND CASE

Italian Truck Farmers at New Orleans Are Put Under Arrest.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 15.—John Lavacke and Frank Montfre, Italian truck farmers, were under arrest today on suspicion of sending blackhand letters to several of their countrymen.

Police authorities said they believed Lavacke was the "collector" for an organized gang of blackhanders. Montfre said the detectives, is suspected of being the writer of many black hand letters. A letter recently received by Orazio Campagni, a farmer, demanded $2,000 under penalty of death if he refused. The letter, said the police, was marked with a skull and cross bones. A heart penetrated with a dagger and a coffin, under which were printed in Italian the words "If you do not give this money you will be killed." Lavacke, the police said, arranged to collect $300 as a compromise between Campagni and the sender of the letter when he was arrested. None of the letters were sent through the mails.

FORMER LOCAL LADY DIES.

Mrs. D. Walters, 2008 North Barr street, received word from Spring Valley, Minn., Tuesday morning announcing the death of Mrs. Daniel Shutt, a former resident of Fort Wayne. The messag gave no particulars.

ALL CHILDREN UNDER 16 YEARS NOW BARRED FROM NEW JERSEY

New York, Aug. 15.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis has taken a turn for the worse despite the continuation of unusually cool weather. During the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m. today 163 new cases of the disease and 39 deaths were reported to the health department. This is an increase in new cases of nearly 100 per cent. over yesterday's figures, which showed 95 were stricken with the plague and 31 were killed. Failure of physicians to report cases over the Sunday holiday was suggested as a reason for the increase in today's figures. There have been 6,532 cases and 1,463 deaths.

New Jersey's state wide quarantine against the plague was put into effect today. Special guards were placed at all terminal points to prevent children under sixteen years of age from entering the state and local restrictions of a most stringent character were ordered at the various coast resorts.

300 DROWN WHEN ITALIAN WARSHIP BLOWS UP

WILL USE TEN BEEF QUARTERS

Six Thousand People Will Be Fed at Democratic Barbecue.

300 GALLONS OF MILK ARE ORDERED

Congressman Cline Writes That He Hopes to Be in Attendance.

Ten quarters of beef, 300 watermelons, 3,000 ears of corn and 300 gallons of milk are on the fare of the democratic barbecue committee having in charge preparations of the feast which will be spread before party workers at Robison park Saturday, August 19, when John A. M. Adair, of Portland, democratic candidate for governor, will be the principal speaker.

Miles M. Morris, of Fort Wayne, has been employed to serve the barbecue crowd and it is anticipated that at least 6,000 persons will attend the democratic meeting.

Fort Wayne has yet to hold its first big barbecue and unusual interest attaches to the ensuing event aside from its political features. Members of the barbecue committee will hold a meeting Tuesday night at the office of Dr. A. G. Emrick, chairman, to discuss final plans.

Cline May Come.

Cyrus Cline, congressman, has written Martin H. Leucke, democratic district chairman, that he will attend the barbecue Saturday, unless conference reports are on the legislative program for that day. Congressman Cline has shown a decided interest in the barbecue from his post in Washington. Earl Peters, secretary to the congressman, is now in Fort Wayne, assisting commit-

PRICE OF POTATOES HITCHED TO BALLOON

Spuds Are Retailing for $1.60 Per Bushel and May Go Higher.

The price of potatoes apparently has been hitched to a balloon, as it is soaring up out of sight. Tuesday the retail price advanced ten cents on a bushel and the "Irish spuds" are now retailing at forty cents a peck or $1.60 a bushel. Commission men and others interested in markets, declare that it is a safe bet that the price will even go higher.

Just a year ago at this time potatoes were selling to the consumer for almost half this price. They could be purchased anywhere in the city from eighty to ninety cents a bushel.

The potato crop locally is nearly a failure. The early crop especially has been very short and farmers declare that the yield per acreage this year is about forty bushels. Last year the acreage was between 140 and 160 bushels.

The late crop does not give any better promise at the present time. A farmer on the market Tuesday morning declared that it would not be any better than the early crop. He stated that he had examined several hills and found that on an average there are only four and five potatoes. Besides the few that are there are very small.

Farmers attribute the cause of the shortage in the crop to the extremely hot weather which was experienced this summer. They state that the heat dried up the stalks, thereby killing the growth of the plant underneath the ground. Bugs also were very numerous this year, another cause for the failure.

Commission men state that reports from the potato districts in Michigan are to the effect that the crop there will also be short. In fact the general outlook of crops in Michigan are very poor this year. The peach crop, which was a bumper last year, will only be about a third as large. Apples will also be scarce, according to the report.

GETS OFF EASILY FOR SHOOTING WIFE

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 15.—William R. McCoy, a farmer who pursued his wife across a field and shot her as she turned onto the premises of a neighbor a few days ago has been sentenced to the Indiana state prison for from 2 to 14 years for assault and battery with intent to kill. He pleaded guilty. In addition he was fined $500. Mrs. McCoy is recovering.

PORTO RICAN MAYOR MAY NOW BE OUSTED

Was Levying Tribute in Violation of Civil Service Laws.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Mayor Rafele Rivera Esbri, of Ponce, the second largest city of the island, may be removed in view of his conviction on a charge of conspiracy to violate the civil service laws of the island in forcing political contributions from teachers in the public schools. He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 and costs. He has appealed.

At the trial it was proved that the mayor had admitted the debt of $28,000 of the unionist party of Ponce, of which he was a leader, was almost paid off through the system of levying assessments on teachers and other municipal employes.

Convicted with Mayor Rivera were Eduardo Wys, secretary of the local party organization, and Alvaro Santa Ella, another party leader.

Revised Measure is Given Approval by Democrats in Caucus.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The revised administration revenue bill which is expected to yield $205,000,000 annually was ready today for submission to the senate. It was finally approved by senate democrats in caucus last night as amended by the finance committee. The bill probably will be submitted to the senate tomorrow and taken up for consideration as soon as the shipping bill is disposed of.

Features of the revised measure are a sur-tax on incomes, an inheritance tax, a 10 per cent net profit tax on the manufactures of war munitions, a 5 per cent tax on manufactures of materials entering into munitions, a corporation license tax, liquor taxes and miscellaneous taxes.

The measure retains the house provision for a non-partisan tariff commission, provides for a tariff on coal, tar, dyestuffs and medicinal derivatives and increases the taxes on wines over the house bill.

SMITH TO HAVE HIS LEG PROPERLY SET

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Art Smith, the Fort Wayne aviator, accompanied by William Bastar, came to Chicago from San Francisco yesterday to undergo an operation to properly set his leg, broken in an accident while Smith was flying in Japan. He has entered the Hahnaman hospital and an X-ray examination made by Dr. H. R. Chislett revealed that the leg had shortened and it will be necessary to operate to mend the bones.

Smith will next invade ustralia, according to a statement made by him here today, but has reached no decision when he will leave. Smith's parents, of Fort Wayne, are with him here and expect to remain for several days. It is not known whether he will return home with them.

JAPAN AND CHINA ARE PREPARING TO MIX IT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—The attack by Chinese troops on the Japanese garrison at Cheng Chiatun in eastern Mongolia, as reported from Tokio, disturbs official circles here today as the possible forerunner of difficulties between the two powers. No details are known, but the fact that Japanese reinforcements are being rushed there has led to the belief that Japanese may intend a more vigorous handling of disputes as to her jurisdiction in China.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that a new railroad, branching off from the Mukden-Harbin line, is being constructed through Chen Chiatun to eastern Mongolia and it is possible that Japanese railroad jurisdiction may be held to apply to the city.

BELATED ENTRIES COME.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Belated entries received today brought the field for the western open golf championship, which starts at the Blue Mound Country club in Milwaukee, Thursday, up to eighty-three. The field is stronger than that of last year. Tom McNamara, last year's champion, is not entered.

BRITISH GAIN NEW FOOTING

Land in German First Line Trenches in Thiepval-Pozieres Front.

KAISER GOES TO EASTERN FRONT

German Monarch Goes to Inspire Men in Stemming Russian Drive.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Emperor William is again on the eastern front, where the Austro-German armies are struggling desperately to withstand the heavy strokes of the Russians in Galicia and Volhynia. In the latter region the opposing forces apparently are at a standstill, but in Galicia the onward sweep of General Brussiloff's forces is continuing with rapidity.

The Zlota-Lipa line, to which the Austrians fell back after the forced evacuation of their positions along the Stripa, is apparently not destined to hold for any length of time. Petrograd today reports the Russians crossing to the western banks of the Zlota Lipa river at some points, thus menacing the flank of General von Bothmer's lines elsewhere along that stream. Further south General Letchitzky is continuing his advance below Halicz across the Bystritza-Slotovina line, while to the north the Russians are moving along the upper Stripa upon the new positions west of the Teutons' toll line.

The Germans did not long hold the trenches recaptured from the British northwest of Pozieres on the Somme front, according to London. The British war office today reports the clearing of the Germans from nearly all the trenches in that region in which they gained a footing Sunday. The French in the Verdun region have resumed their hammering tactics and, according to Paris, have recaptured German trenches in the Vaux-Fleury sector east of the Meuse to a depth of 100 yards along a 300-yard front.

Rome announces further advances for the Italians in the Carso plateau south of Gorizia. The official buletin chronicles the capture of Austrian entrenchments in that region and also positions farther northeast of Gorizia.

The Italian navy has lost one of its big dreadnaughts, according to a Turin dispatch through Paris, which tells of the blowing up of the 22-000-ton Leonardo da Vinci in Taranto harbor as the result of a fire. Of the crew 300 were drowned.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—After attacks of the greatest violence on the Somme front, continuing until late last night, the British obtained a footing in first line German trenches in the Thiepval-Pozieres front, the war office announced today.

Austro-German troops, under Gen. Count von Bothmer, are offering determined resistance to the Russian advance along the upper Stripa in northern Galicia. They have completely repulsed strong attacks in the Zborow-Koninchy

TO CALL ADJUTANT GENERAL BY 'PHONE

If no word was received Tuesday afternoon from Indianapolis, Captain John C. Scheffer, of the local battery organization, intends to call the adjutant general at his office in the capital building late Tuesday afternoon in regard to the orders of mobilization.

The men who have joined the artillery in this city are anxiously awaiting the call and are becoming tired of laying around. However, they have not lost interest, but at any rate the orders will be greatly appreciated.

It is very evident that the war department expects to call battery D to service. The department is keeping Sergeant Lee Hensley, of the United States regulars, stationed here, and if the officials had no intention of calling the local organization they would not keep the regular service man here, it is believed.

WELCOMES CIVILIANS IN NAVAL TRAINING

Daniels Sends Greetings as Cruise for National Defense Begins.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Messages from Secretary Daniels welcoming more than 2,000 civilians participating in the naval training cruise for national defense were published today upon all the ships. The messages were as follows:

"Upon the embarking of more than 2,000 civilians who are to take part in the civilian cruise, I wish to convey to them the congratulations of the navy department that we can welcome them as the newest recruits of the first arm of the national defense. I am sure under the instructions which officers will give them their cruise will be of great benefit to them and their country."

THE ILLINOIS SAILS.

ALABAMA IS READY.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 15.—With civilians from eight southern states, including her crew, the battleship Alabama was expected to sail from here late today for a four weeks' practice cruise with the Atlantic fleet during which the volunteers will receive instruction designed to prepare them for naval service during war or in times of emergency.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS TO HEAR LESLIE SHAW

Harry G. Hogan, republican district chairman, announced Tuesday that Byron Sommers, Twelfth district secretary, and a party of Fort Wayne republicans would go to Huntington Wednesday to hear the Hon. Leslie Shaw, ex-secretary of the treasury, speak before a republican barbecue. J. E. Watson and Harry S. New, republican senatorial nominees, are also on the program. The Huntington trip will be made by auto.

Mr. Hogan states that a republican meeting will be held in Pleasant township in the Sheldon elevator office Saturday night. J. C. Newlin, W. C. Geake and Harley Sommers will be in charge.

SEPT. 2 IS DATE FOR WILSON NOTIFICATION

Washington, Aug. 15.—Formal notification to President Wilson of his nomination will take place Sept. 2. That day was definitely selected today when arrangements were made for the president to go to Long Branch, N. J., for the ceremony.

The president has already completed his speech of acceptance. The notification speech will be made by Senator James. The president probably will remain at Long Branch until he leaves for Hodgensville, Ky., to speak Sept. 4 at the Lincoln ceremony.

TAKES UP NEW WORK.

T. Lee Miller Will Be Made Vice-president of Traction Company.

T. Lee Miller, of New York city, an expert electrical engineer whose appointment as vice-president and efficiency engineer for the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company was announced some weeks ago, is here to take up his new work. He will have an office in the Lincoln Life building. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Cornell university.

SHIP BLAST AFTER FIRE

Magazine Explodes Before Imperiled Warship Can Be Flooded.

Paris, Aug. 15.—The Italian dreadnought Leonardo Da Vinci caught fire and blew up in the harbor of Taranto, Italy, and 300 of her crew were drowned, says a Turin dispatch to the Petit Journal. The date of the disaster is given only as a day in August.

The fire, says the dispatch, was discovered in the dreadnought's kitchen and spread rapidly. The captain immediately ordered the magazines flooded, but one magazine exploded before this could be done.

The vessel was turned over on her side and a large number of the crew were thrown into the sea. It is believed that the battleship can be righted and refloated.

The Leonardo Da Vinci was a sister ship of the Conte Di Cavour and of the Giulio Cesare and was launched in October, 1911. Her displacement was 22,000 tons and she was 575½ feet long, 91¾ feet beam and carried a total complement of 897 men. Her main battery consisted of thirteen 12-inch guns and her secondary battery to stand off torpedo attack was composed of eighteen 4.7 inch guns. Her engines were of 24,000-horsepower designed to develop a speed of 22.5 knots.

DEUTSCHLAND'S DYES ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 15.—The first consignment of dyes brought from Germany by the submarine freighter Deutschland has been received by a coloring company in this city and constitutes the first shipment of the kind to reach this city from German manufacturers since the beginning of the war. Other dyestuff users have received bills of lading for some of the Deutschland's cargo, which is estimated to have included about 200 tons of dyes valued in excess of $1,000,000. It is reported that high prices are demanded for these dyes, but one of the consignees here said that it was absurd to believe that fabulous profits will be realized on their sale. He declared that the cost of the dyes in Germany is at least twice what it was before the war.

PIGEONS FLY AGAINST WIND TO LAFAYETTE

Over two hundred homing pigeons representing the loft of the members of the Old Fort Homing club, were released at 7:30 Sunday morning, with Lafayette as their destination. The birds had to fight a stiff wind all the way and consequently their speed was low. The winning bird made a speed of 801 yards a minute. The rest followed close behind. The time of the arrival to the various lofts was as follows: E. Lenz, 11:06; H. Kellermeyer, 11:08; O. W. Anderson, 11:11; C. W. Oetting, 11:13; A. Menefee, 11:19; E. Braun, 11:27; S. Nahrwold, 11:26; R. Eggeman, 11:25; O'Rourke, 11:27; C. H. Volmerding, 11:33; A. Roudot, 11:45; J. Schilling, 11:46 and 31 seconds; A. W. Berger, 11:46 and 51 seconds; H. Beach, 11:48; C. Minser, 11:49.

Ft. Wayne Would Starve in Month's Time, 'Tis Claimed

Fort Wayne could live reasonably comfortable for about one month in the event of a railroad strike. After that it would begin to starve.

However, there would be fresh meat for only a few days and no doubt it would be necessary to apportion it after the German style, in small daily rations. The packers, the wholesale grocery concerns and the storage houses began Tuesday to look into their supplies and are unable to give accurate estimates as to the length of time their supplies would last in case of a tie-up of the railroads.

Retail grocers are said to be understocked, due to the high prices and raises in a number of food products. The sugar supply is said to be low. The same is true of the supply of canned goods, inasmuch as canned goods are only beginning to come in. The supply of flour is scarcely normal.

One dealer estimated that in his opinion all the groceries would be exhausted in one month's time. The coal supply also would not last long.

In case of an emergency a large quantity of goods in storage never meant for home consumption could be used, it is said.

Movement of Remaining Mobilized Guardsmen to Border Delayed.

RAIL SITUATION IS CAUSE FOR CHANGE

Might Be Called Upon to Preserve Order in the Event of Strike.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Orders for the remaining mobilized units of the national guard to proceed to the border have been suspended by the war department. No official explanation has been made, but it is known that the delicacy of the railroad strike situation has been the moving consideration.

The suspension of the orders to the troops, which would have moved 25,000 men to the border, should not be taken as an indication that the president's negotiations with the railroad brotherhood and the railroad managers have taken an unfavorable turn, but is a measure of caution.

It was considered highly undesirable that all the remaining guardsmen should be moved to the border while there was a possibility of a railroad strike in which they might be called upon to preserve order throughout some of the states. There is even the possibility that some of the troops in the event of a strike might be called upon to guard or operate mail trains and trains supplying the troops already on the border.

Order Not Revoked.

The suspension of the orders prevent the immediate movement of the troops from Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont and the movement of all other mobilized units which were to have gone forward as soon as they were equipped. Some of the Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont troops were about ready to go to the border. It is clear that the suspension is not a revocation of the orders and that if the railroad strike situation clears up the troops will be moved to the border line.

The official explanation of the change at the war department is that difficulties of transportation and equipment suddenly developed have made a delay necessary. It is known, however, that the railway situation is the real cause.

RECOMMENDED BY FUNSTON.

A telegram from Major General Funston made public by the war department disclosed that the general recommended the suspension of orders. His telegram follows:

"In view of possibility of a general railroad strike, I desire to call attention of the war department to difficulties that will follow in maintaining food supplies not only of troops in this department, but of the civilian population as well. These border states produce but little foodstuff except, cattle. In view of foregoing I recommend that national guard organizations which are about to start for border stations be retained in their mobilization camps until such time as the question of a general strike shall have been determined."

REMAIN IN STATE CAMPS.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 15.—The order for the remainder of the country's militia, about 25,000 men, to proceed to the border, has been revoked according to announcement made at southern department headquarters today. The war department notified headquarters here that troops would continue to be held in their state mobilization camps.

OHIO BUILDING EN ROUTE.

San Francisco Structure to Be Towed 23 Miles Across Bay.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—The Ohio building, San Francisco home of visitors from the Buckeye state at the Panama Pacific exposition last year, was embarked today on a twenty-three mile voyage on San Francisco bay to its new site, where it will become the abode of the San Carlos Country club. The pavilion, which is 132 feet long and eighty feet wide, and which weighs approximately a thousand tons, will travel on grows and will be towed by ocean going tugs.

SALUTES WOMEN AS FELLOW CITIZENS

Spokane Female Voters Delighted With Speech by Hughes.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 15.—Charles E. Hughes yesterday addressed his first audience composed solely of women voters. They heard him in the first of two speeches delivered here. Mr. Hughes touched upon suffrage and his views concerning it, and reiterated to a large extent attacks on the administration made earlier at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

"I speak to you women as I do men," the nominee said. "I did not come here to make a different kind of speech from the kind I make to men. I know you are solicitous about the welfare of this country. There is no doubt that the heart of womanhood is patriotic all through."

Are "Fellow Citizens.

Mr. Hughes' salutation of the women as "fellow citizens" was applauded. He told them that he was interested in "good national housekeeping" and the means of effecting it.

"We must have in this country a different notion about the conduct of our business than we have had in the years gone by," he said. "This world is not the world of even twenty-five years ago This world is a world that has found itself. It has found itself in the depression of a terrible Gethsemane.

"Horrible as is the spectacle of war, frightful as the waste, we cannot look upon them without realizing that a new Europe is emerging from this struggle. We cannot contemplate the conditions of the twentieth century without knowing that there is to be a new spirit in the United States if our prosperity is to have a firm foundation. It must be a spirit which demands efficient, impartial government in the interests of all the people.

New Patriotism Needed.

"It is easy for some people to become enthusiastic when the bands are playing and the flags unfurled; when they hear the strains of the national anthem and the crowds are around them. But we must have a new spirit of enthusiasm in the humdrum work of administration—the spirit of patriotism in the administration of government. That is the hardest lesson for popular government to learn. Every day in the year is a more severe test of patriotism than the Fourth of July."

Mr. Hughes declared that he considered a protective tariff essential to a continuance of prosperity. "The only chance that the present administration has to carry this election," he said, "is because the European war has saved it from a demonstration of its inefficiency.

URGES BLOOD SERUM TAKEN FROM PARENTS

Doctor Has New Plan to Immunize from Infantile Paralysis.

New York, Aug. 15.—Family physicians were advised today by Dr. Abraham Zingher, of Willard-Parker hospital, to try the use of "Normal" blood serum obtained from parents as a method of rendering their children immune to infantile paralysis. Many cases of this disease have been treated in Willard-Parker hospital during the present epidemic.

The theory on which Dr. Zingher and his associates are working is that the blood of the normal adult contains the anti-bodies which neutralize the virus of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis. Some physicians believe the presence of these anti-bodies is due to the fact that the parents have had the disease in an unrecognized form. It is stated that if the theory of the anti-bodies is correct, the blood serum treatment may prove as effective in preventing infantile paralysis as vaccination is in preventing typhoid fever.

"The treatment is entirely harmless and the experiment is worth trying," said Dr. Zingher. "It can be administered easily by any reputable family physician."

DENOUNCES GOMPERS AS PUBLIC NUISANCE

Washington, Aug. 15.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was characterized as a "public nuisance" by Senator Sherman of Illinois in a digression yesterday from a Senate speech on the shipping bill.

"There is no more tyrranical, outrageous injustice than that of leaders who live on the sweat of other people's brows," said Senator Sherman. "Mr. Gompers is a public nuisance."

Referring to the Indianapolis and Los Angeles dynamite trials, Senator Sherman declared the federation president had "prostituted the cause of labor by using funds of laboring men for the defense of these criminals."

"Mr. Gompers never apologized to anybody," he continued, "but it was the most fortunate thing that ever happened to Mr. Gompers that he himself escaped indictment on these same charges.

"I've been owing this to Mr. Gompers for some time and I'm handing it to him now, and I'm responsible politically and personally."

MORE COTTON IS USED

Past Year's Consumption in U. S. Shows Marked Gain.

FORMER OFFICIALS OWE $4,623, REPORT

State Accountants Lodge Claims Against Former Incumbents.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Reports of the findings of the state board of accounts in the cases of five former city and township officials are now in the hands of Governor Ralston preliminary to being turned over to county prosecuting attorneys for collection. Sums aggregating $4,623.06 are alleged to be due the city and townships named.

The largest amount involved in a single case is in that of Henry J. Adams, former trustee of Nevins township, Vigo county. Examinations of his books for the year 1914 show that he owes the township $3,713.17, according to the state examiners. The papers show that the largest item is $2,490.52 said to be due the township by reason of substitution of cheaper material than was originally called for in a contract for the installation of a heating system in one of the township schools. Other items listed as being in error are alleged excessive expense accounts and office rent, amounting to $685.

Charles Miller, a former trustee of Harrison township, Pulaski county, is alleged to owe the township $125 by reason of errors in 1914, and $276.60 in 1913. It is charged that an architect was overpaid $276.70 for plans and superintending the construction of a school building. A reduction in the cost of the building did not result in a deduction fro mthe amount paid to the architect whose fee was to be based on a per cent of the cost of the building.

W. C. Jay, former city treasurer of Gas City, is alleged to owe the city $428.29 for the year 1915. In the list of errors is "excess salary, 5393.29," and "excess compensation, $35." William M. Peugh, a former trustee of Monroe township, Washington county, is alleged to have overdrawn $60.90 for office rent and services in 1914. Walter Erhart, a former constable of Warren township, Marion county, is alleged to owe $19 for fines and costs unaccounted for.

ROCKEFELLER PLAN IS CALLED FAILURE

Industrial System Adopted in Colorado Denounced by Labor Man.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 15.—A wide range of labor topics is dealt with in the annual report of John McLennan, president of the Colorado Federation of Labor, submitted to the convention of the federation here today. The so-called "Rockefeller plan" adopted by the Colorado Fuel & Iron company is declared to be an unqualified failure.

The industrial commission and workmen's compensation laws of Colorado are severely criticized in some respects and praised in others. Conditions in the coal mining fields are reviewed, and a glowing report is given of the growth of unionism in the state and legislation deemed necessary is outlined. Referring to the effects of the recent coal strike, President McLennan says conditions have been improved, but declares these improvements are due not to the Rockefeller plan, but the result of publicity gained during the strike.

LOCAL ARCHITECT IS MERCHANT'S DESIRE

Asking that a local architect be employed to design the new Y. M. C. A. building in Fort Wayne a committee from the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association waited on A. F. Hall, heading the "Y" publicity division, Monday. The committee, composed of Col. D. N. Foster, Harry P. Fletcher and C. A. Niebergall, was appointed by the executive committee of the association.

The committee in charge of the Y. M. C. A. has so far picked no architect and no action has been taken that would put local architects out of the running. The merchants' association committee realizes the value of technical skill of men specializing in Y. M. C. A. designing, but held that a local architect should be employed as chief.

TURNS UP TO PROVE HE DIDN'T SUICIDE

Andrew Schwab, a former resident of Fort Wayne, committed suicide in Louisville, Ky., four years ago, so the papers said. His obituary notice was a very long one and it contined many nice things about the supposedly dead man.

Mr. Schwab is now back in Fort Wayne and is here to stay for some time. At present he is holding the position of night clerk at the Alt Heidelberg hotel.

When he left Fort Wayne four years ago he went into business with a partner in Louisville. His partner committed suicide and in some unknown manner Andrew's name was substituted and the Fort Wayne papers printed the news of his sad death.

SAYS WRECKED CAR BELONGED TO SISTER

John Harris Clears Mystery Surrounding Accident on St. Joe Road.

Scratches on the face and arms of John Harris, janitor of the Swinney block, led police to question him about the big Lexington automobile which turned over twice on the St. Joe road Sunday and hurled its seven occupants through the air, while it wrecked itself in the ditch.

Harris admitted that he was driving the machine at the time of the accident. The car belonged to his sister, Mrs. E. Pieldgren, of Gary. Harris said he had borrowed the machine for a little drive and had bad luck.

The seven-year-old boy who was buried under four of the men when the party was thrown out as the auto turned over, was George Harris, grandson of Charles Harris. The boy was not injured, Harris claims, and none of the party was hurt beyond bruises and cuts.

Other members of the auto party were Joe Hermes, Adam Kramer, Mat Harris and "two other gentlemen friends."

The big car is almost a total wreck. It was hauled into Fort Wayne Monday, where an attempt will be made to repair it.

Aged Man Improving.

August Cook, 75, of Sturgis, Mich., injured when the automobile driven by his son collided with a car piloted by William Koenig, of Woodburn, is thought to be improving, although his condition is critical. His back was injured when he was thrown against the front of the car as the two machines shocked together. His advanced age adds to the seriousness of his injuries.

Cook, who was first rushed to the Hope hospital and later taken to the home of a relative, Adam Campbell, 1420 Columbia avenue, was a resident near Fort Wayne years ago. He tells that he once plowed for corn over the ground where the Hope hospital now stands.

Condition of the aged man will govern the final charge to be made against Koenig by the police. Koenig will be tried in police court next week and if Cook recovers will be handled on a charge of assault and battery.

PRICE OF TOMATOES HIGH FOR SEASON

Tomatoes, which under normal conditions retail from 50 to 75 cents a bushel at this season of the year, are now retailing at much more, depending entirely upon the quality. Lack of rain has caused a shortage. With a few good rains it is believed the vines will be revived sufficiently to produce a large quantity. Potatoes also have increased in price. The short crop of late potatoes in various parts of the country is the cause.

BIG MOOSERS GO BACK

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Four former progressives who were active in party affairs in this state in past campaigns have accepted invitations by the republican state central committee to become members of the executive committee, which will be known as the campaign committee, according to announcement made here. The four are George Ade, author; W. C. Bobbs, Indianapolis, publisher; Neil McGreevey, Logansport, contractor, and William A. Endicott, Crawfordsville, business man. Other members of this committee are, State Chairman W. H. Hays, Sullivan; Secretary L. W. Henley, Indianapolis; William G. Irwin, Columbus; Charles F. Artes, Evansville; E. C. Toner, Anderson; V. W. VanFleet, South Bend, and W. J. Riley, of Benton Harbor.

Kaiser Goes to East Front.

"The emperor has again left for the eastern front," says an official statement issued here today, "after having visited, toward the end of his stay of several days on the western front, the army of the crown prince, and accompanied by the commander-in-chief various units behind the battle front.

GERMAN TRENCHES TAKEN

Paris, Aug. 15.—(12:30 p. m.)—French troops captured German trenches on a front about 300 yards long and 100 yards deep north of Chapel of Sainte Fine, at the intersection of the Fleury and Vaux roads, on the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector last night, says the war office statement today. On the Somme front, the French artillery was very active at Belltoe, Estres and Lihons. Elsewhere the night was calm.

Italian troops have entered the suburbs of Tolmino, which is under continuous shell fire according to a despatch to La Liberte from Turin today. The Austrians, says the despatch, are evacuating the city.

ITALIANS NEAR TRIEST.

Geneva, Aug. 15.—The Italian advance guard, moving southeast from Gorizia, is within 13 miles of Triest, whence the greater part of the Austrian fleet has sailed for an unknown destination, according to a telegram from Bucz, Switzerland, today.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE CONTINUES.

Petrograd, Aug. 15—The rapid Russian advance in Galicia continues. Russian troops are crossing to the western banks of the Zlota Lipa and the Bystritza-Zoltvina and are advancing along the upper Stripa, the war office announced today.

NEW REVERSE FOR AUSTRIANS

Rome, Aug. 15.—(Via London, 3 p. m.)—On the Carso plateau and to the east of Gorizia along the Isonzo front the Austrians have suffered further reverses at the hands of the Italians, today's official statement says. Austrian entrenchments in both these regions were captured.

BRITISH RETAKE TRENCHES.

London, Aug. 15.—(3:30 p. m.)—Nearly all of the remaining trenches northwest of Povieres, on the Somme front, in which the Germains gained the footing on Sunday, have been retaken, the war office announced today.

Lloyds repors the sinking of the 3,500 ton Italian steamship Teti in the Mediterranean. Part of the crew was landed at Genoa.

FRANCE'S WAR BILL.

Paris, Aug. 15.—(4 p. m.)—The war bill of France at the end of July was 39,000,000,000 francs, according to figures available today. The miscellaneous expense of the government were ten billion francs. The average cost of the war, the figures show, is not 1,987,000,000 francs monthly.

To Brotherhoods Next.

Whether this plan can be worked out will not be known until President Wilson presents it to the brotherhood leaders. The railroads are understood to be ready to concede the principle of the eight hour day, providing concessions be made by the employes so too heavy a burden will not be placed upon the railroads.

The men take the stand that they principally want the eight hour day on conditions that it shall be enforced whenever possible. The railroads are said to believe it impossible to accept the eight hour day unless a workable system of application can be built up. Members of the managers committee said they had no plans for the future and did not know whether they would be called to the white house again.

The managers took the position that the eight hour day and the collateral issues are inseparable and that it would not be practicable to accept the eight hour day and submit the other question to arbitration. All of the issues are interwoven, they contend, and must be decided together. Representatives of the brotherhoods heard the proposal with interest, but insisted, however, that the proposition was not a new one.

"I knew a week ago," one of the officials said, "that the railroad managers had such a proposition in mind."

Not Very Optimistic.

None of the brotherhood officials would commit himself on what the attitude of the employes would be toward such a proposal, but they did not appear optimistic over the likelihood of it proving acceptable. It was pointed out by the employes' representatives, however, that if such a proposition were tendered in concrete form to them they could only refer it to the general board, composed of six hundred committee chairmen now in New York.

It was probable, one of the officials said, that if such a proposal were submitted to them through the president today, that they would return to New York and place it before the general board.

tees in campaign plans of the Twelfth district.

Auburn is Coming.

Auburn, DeKalb county, will send a big delegation to the barbecue. Two special cars carrying party workers and a band, it is announced, will make the trip to Fort Wayne Saturday. Many counties of the district are making up delegations, some of which will probably be accompanied by bands.

Arrangements have been made for taking pictures of the barbecue on a scale similar to those taken during centennial week. The committee in charge of the affair desire in some way to preserve in photo the success of the political meeting.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

SECKLER REFUSES TO SAY WHY HE DID IT

Uniondale Man, Sorry But Silent, in Jail at Bluffton for Shooting His Sister-in-Law.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 15.—John Seckler, 40, well known Uniondale man, is sorry he shot his sister-in-law, Carrie Laturner Holcomb, 22. Seckler is in jail here, but refuses to talk. He is despondent. The girl, whom he attempted to murder because she wanted to leave his home and accept employment in Huntington, it is alleged, will recover. He fired two shots from a 38-caliber revolver, one striking her in the right breast and making a wound four inches long and an inch and a half deep.

The shooting occurred at the Seckler home. The Holcomb woman was standing on the porch talking to her sister, Mrs. Seckler, when the man stepped to the door, opened the screen and fired. The young woman was turning to face the door just as the shot was fired and the bullet struck her in the right breast, passing four inches to the center of her chest, where it lodged. Screaming at the top of her voice she started running north with Seckler a few feet behind her. He fired another shot on the run, but it went wild. The revolver was snapped again, but the cap failed to explode. On the advice of Henry Falk, standing nearby, she ran into the Falk home, a half block from the scene of the shooting, and bolted the door. When she entered the house Seckler turned back to his own home, where he was found by the sheriff. He still carried the revolver and it had been refilled with cartridges.

"Jealous of Me."

"I guess he was jealous of me and didn't want me to go to Huntington." This was the statement of the Holcomb woman to a newspaper representative at the Falk home shortly after the shooting. She added that Seckler wanted her to continue to live with him and had insisted that she remain there and not go to Huntington.

Says Husband Was Insane.

Mrs. Seckler was at the bedside of her sister. "John was insanely mad," she said, in telling of the shooting. She added that her sister was the mother of a babe through misfortune and said that she and Seckler had made a home for them for many months, and had often denied themselves in order that the baby should not be kept among strangers while the mother was working.

FUNERAL IS HELD.

SPEAKS AT PICNIC.

Corunna, Ind., Aug. 15.—Rev. R. R. Detwiler was the principal speaker at a picnic held at Decatur Saturday.

Great Plans Are Being Made at Huntington for Erie Booster Week.

Huntington, Aug. 15.—More than 1,000 officials and employes of the Erie railroad will be entertained by the city of Huntington during Erie Booster week, August 22, 23 and 24, which will mark the first time any municipality has ever entertained the entire list of officials of a trunk line. Officials of the Pennsylvania, Wabash and other railroads have been invited and will be present.

Besides the many free attractions, the Commercial association is putting on a $10,000 night spectacular pageant. The "War and Peace" pageant is an original idea worked out for Tampa, Florida, and will be staged in that city next winter.

Other attractions will include a scheduled base ball tournament between teams representing the various division points of the Erie lines between New York and Chicago. The division point bands will contest for prizes, as will the Erie teams.

President Underwood, of the Erie, together with the other officials, will remain in Huntington during the booster days. This is the first time high officials of a large railroad line have joined with employes in any large event and this new policy will be watched with interest by visiting officials of other lines.

CULVER CADET ROBBED.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 15.—One of the members of the Culver Black Horse troop, that spent Saturday at Winona Lake, was robbed of his money and other small articles Sunday afternoon while bathing in Tippecanoe lake at Cripplegate Heights. It is said that several articles such as keys and knives were found on the person of a Leesburg boy, but when the search was made the money could not be located. While camping near the lake several of the boys went in bathing and dressed in the bath house at Cripplegate. During their plunge it is said that several boys broke into the building and rifled the clothing of one of the cadets. Suspicion immediately rested on many small boys who had been seen near the place. When a search was made all the missing articles with the exception of the money were found.

TAKES NEW POSITION.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 15.—Prof. Arthur B. Carter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carter, who has been an instructor in chemistry in Chicago university for a number of years, has resigned his position there to accept the superintendency of the manufacturing department of the Central Scientific company, of Chicago. The new position offers a great opportunity for advancement and it is a decided recognition of his ability. Mr. Carter has been spending a short vacation here with his parents and sisters, Mrs. Charles Marrow, of Tampa, Fla., who is visiting here, and Mrs. Vern Diffenda-fer.

KOKOMO MEN IN ACCIDENT.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 15.—Homer Potter and Joe Perry, two young men residing in Kokomo, met with an automobile accident at the township line jog west of the city on the Smoky Row pike about 5 o'clock last night and both were badly cut, Potter being hurt the worst. They failed to see the jog in the road and ran into the ditch and against a wire fence. The machine turned over and both men were thrown out. Potter has three gashes across his right cheek, three in his scalp, is minus a tooth and has bruises about his body. Perry has just a few cuts and bruises.

CARBOLIC ACID POOR GRADE.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 15.—An attempt by Dave Minger to end his life was frustrated late Sunday evening when the carbolic acid he swallowed failed to do the work intended. Minger was sued for divorce less than a week ago when his wife left his home on West Walnut street, taking with her their little daughter and leaving the son in the care of the husband and father. Since then Minger has been unable to locate his wife and daughter and has been staying at the home of Luther Coulson, on West Second street.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 15.—William Trine, a farmer living near Oswego, was thrown about ten feet from his car Sunday afternoon and escaped injury by alighting in soft mud. He was traveling south on the Leesburg road and had reached the Wheeler bridge, which is about two miles north of Warsaw, when the car left the road. The car leaped a pile of lumber stacked on the west side of the road and cleared the eight-foot embankment, landing in the mud right side up.

HENRY HARTER DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 15.—The death of Henry Harter occurred at Central, Kas., last week. The deceased was well known among the older residents of Kosciusko county and was a brother of Mrs. Asbury Cook, and an uncle of Wilbur F. Maish, both of this city. The body was cremated and the ashes will be interred at Union cemetery, west of Warsaw.

LAUNDRY EMPLOYE BURNED.

Tobacco Habit Easily Overcome

A New Yorker of wide experience, has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and quickly banished in three days with delightful benefit. The author, Edward J. Woods, 1312 E. Station E, New York City, will mail his book free on request.

The health improves wonderfully after tobacco craving is conquered. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. Get rid of that nervous, irritable feeling; no more need of pipe, cigar, cigarette, snuff or chewing tobacco to pacify morbid desire.—Advertisement.

FIREFLY SHOWS US THE WAY TO HEATLESS LIGHT.

New York, Aug. 15.—Man has taken a lesson from the firefly, and now is producing cold light.

Francois Dussand, the producer, is backed by Edouard Branly, famous physicist, in the statement the new heatless light soon will be commercially feasible, and that it will revolutionize illuminating engineering.

Dussaud's light comes intermittently from large numbers of tungsten filaments, each of which is heated white hot for a brief instant and then kept cool for fifteen times as long as it was giving out light.

Great brilliance of illumination and almost complete absence of heat waves are claimed for this new invention!

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

Acts 19:8-20.

8. And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9. But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10. And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

11. And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12. So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13. ¶ Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14. And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15. And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16. And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17. And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18. And many that believed came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19. Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20. So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

The Issues of the Campaign

Regardless of the dust that is being kicked up on the side lines by President Wilson's foes as a preliminary to the real battle of the campaign, the contest, which ends in November, is going to be finally decided upon the basis of definite issues. There will be something more substantial upon which to base judgment than ill-tempered complaint of general character. There will be placed before the people for sober analysis and the exercise of thoughtful, patriotic discretion some very vital issues both of purpose and accomplishment that infinitely transcend in their importance either the mere desire of one party to retain power or of another to regain it. Democracy is prepared to insist upon election-day judgment on this basis, and it can safely make its appeal to the people on this ground.

Some of these issues were outlined in a statement made by Secretary of War Baker in his remarks to the democratic county convention at Cleveland, Monday night. Coming directly from the president, there is every reason to assume that this member of the president's official family spoke with authority when he put forward the claims on which Wilson will base his fight for re-election. The secretary placed first and foremost as an argument for the retention of Mr. Wilson in the executive chair the fact that he has kept the United States out of war. Those who hold the belief that the American people will consider this accomplishment an inconsequential affair will find themselves mistaken. The American voters who in the past two years have again and again seen this land drawn perilously near to war's precipice by the ramification of events in Europe, but each time guided safely back into peaceful pathways through the patriotism, the skill and the sane, good judgment of President Wilson, will not fail to register their approval of his course in trying times when they have opportunity to do so at the polls in November.

Supplementing this, as cited by Secretary Baker, is the most impressive completed program of legislative accomplishment achieved by any political party in a generation. It includes the federal reserve bank act, the Underwood tariff bill, the rural credits bill, the child labor bill now in congress and certain to pass, the preparedness policy and other measures which have not claimed so large a measure of public attention, but which are of much importance nevertheless. The Wilson administration has from the outset responded in the fullest measure in the redemption of its promises to the people. It makes no claims to absolute perfection, but it has not dodged, it has not evaded and it has not shrunk from responsibility. It confidently believes it has faithfully and competently executed the high trust given into its hands. It is upon this basis, and this alone, it is making its appeal in the present campaign. It will make its fight squarely upon the issues.

The United States chamber of commerce announces, as a result of extended investigation over the country, that business is going right ahead despite the approach of campaign activity, and that there is nowhere manifest a disposition to subordinate business to politics. It formerly was the fashion for business to "ease up" during campaign year, though nobody was ever able to give a good excuse for the custom. It is a happy indication to note that that sort of thing is passing.

The action of the Retail Merchants' association in urging that a Fort Wayne architect be chosen to prepare the plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building is a point well taken, and it will be given the most substantial endorsement by the Fort Wayne people whose generosity made the splendid project possible. The work of Fort Wayne architects is not an unknown quantity. Handsome monuments to their genius adorn every section of the city. Such special technical information as may be required for a structure of this particular kind can easily be secured through a consulting specialist, if necessary, but let Fort Wayne's new Y. M. C. A. be a home production throughout.

James P. Goodrich, republican nominee for governor, is the latest Indiana candidate to get into the movies, a film of Mr. Goodrich to be used for campaign purposes having been taken of him at his home in Winchester last Sunday morning. The eminent Mr. C. Chaplin and other well-known movie stars may well begin to view the situation with alarm. The movie realm is likely to suffer a bit of crowding when a lot of these candidates later discover that the filmland profession is a lot easier than successfully negotiating public office.

And, besides, there is this difference: While Mr. Hughes is endorsing woman suffrage in his talks over the country, President Wilson made the trip back home to New Jersey to cast his vote for equal suffrage when the opportunity to register his stand on the question presented itself.

"With Love---Mother"

DIPLOMAS FOR MAYORS?

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Governor Capper of Kansas has before him a petition signed by 500 citizens asking that the University of Kansas establish a course of study that will train men and women to be mayors, city managers, street commissioners, park commissioners, county clerks, registers of deeds, treasurers, and for other county and city offices. The petitioners reside in the town of Chapman, and argue that the law should require every candidate for public office to show his diploma or his credentials of successful experience as an officeholder.

A public officeholder, said the spokesman for the petitioners, "fills a position of as much importance and responsibility as any professional or business man in the community. Our public officials have generally been men untrained for the positions to which they aspired." We have special departments in our colleges and universities for the training of men for the practice of medicine, law, ministry, engineering and teaching, but no attention is given to training men for the duties of public office, although the entire community is affected by their fitness or unfitness. Such a course, he said, would elevate politics into a real profession.

Kansas may think this is another innovation discovered in that fertile soil but, as a matter of fact, Germany has put the idea into practice these many years. Municipal government over there is a profession for which men are trained with the expectation of making it their life work. It is not likely that even in Kansas the voters are yet ready to demand diplomas of fitness from candidates for public office, but the spread of the city manager form of administration, in which fitness and not politics is the sole test, is going to make an opening for trained men in public affairs. When cities begin selecting managers for their municipal activities instead of electing politicians to office they will demand that candidates be able to show their qualifications for the job.

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL?

Unnatural History, by Eugene Ahern.

FEET.

Feet are the flivvers of the human system!

They were made to walk with and for other people to walk on.

Each foot is equipped with five unnecessary toes. They are always in a state of revolution that would make the Mexican affair look about as exciting as a christening. And you can't blame some feet for kicking, especially the feet whose male owners enshroud them in socks that are louder and noisier than a prizefighter's manager, or the women who give their No. 7 feet a life sentence in a pair of No. 4 shoes.

Feet grow to an enormous size on lazy persons. Did you ever notice the floor space taken up by the feet of policemen, detectives, politicians and society women?

REGISTRATION DAY IS IMPORTANT EVENT

BY WILLIS S. THOMPSON.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15. Most important of your duties as an individual voter is to see that you are properly registered. Next in importance is seeing that your neighbor is registered, else he cannot vote in November. Democratic district, county, ward, township and precinct committeemen have no more important task than to see that all persons who intend to vote the democratic ticket in November are registered on October 9th, the date set by state law.

The thing to do at this moment is to find out who are not registered, and have the list ready when registration day comes. Then see that every unregistered man goes to the registration place and gets his name on the list of qualified voters. The thoroughness with which this work is done will measure the size of certain Indiana majority for the democratic national and state tickets in November.

There are many ways in which names might get off the registration lists. For instance, Candidate Charles Evans Hughes is not qualified to vote in his home state of New York. The records show he has neglected to exercise his duty as an American citizen and cast his vote since 1910, after he was given a life job as a member of the supreme court. Such lack of interest in political affairs is not very general among patriotic Americans, however, and it is not likely that many such will be found in Indiana.

But your name, or that of your neighbor, may of been omitted for other cause, and maybe for some cause over which you have had no control. For the purpose of having an agreed interpretation of the registration law, the chairmen of the democratic, progressive and republican state central committees each named an attorney for appointment by the governor to prepare such interpretation. This committee of lawyers has reported. Here is a part of the report referring to purging and renewal of the lists. It will be well to see that the duties assigned to county officials are properly performed and the lists checked as early as possible.

Committee's Observations.

Here are the observations of the committee of lawyers on the points mentioned:

"The general election law requires the clerk of the circuit court of a county to safely keep the poll books of the voters made by the clerks at the general election held in November, 1914, for six months, after which time they may be destroyed. If such poll books of any precincts are destroyed or are not accessible then all of the voters in such precinct must register in 1916.

"In all precincts where the poll books made by the clerks at the general election held in November, 1914, have not been destroyed, and are accessible, the auditor shall strike off the registration books of such precincts for the year 1914, the names of all registered voters who failed to vote at the general election in November, 1914. The names should be stricken off both in the registration proper and in the index of the registration book.

Theory of Law.

"The theory of the registration law is that the registration books of each precinct shall constitute a permanent registration record unless they have been destroyed, mutilated or are inaccessible or are for any other reasonable cause unfit to be used. in either of which events there must be an entire new registration of all voters residing within a precinct where such condition exists.

"The law contemplates, however, that the names of the registered voters who failed to exercise the right of suffrage at the last election next preceding shall be determined by comparing the registration books used for the identification of voters and the books kept by the poll clerk at the last general election next preceding and that the names of those who were registered but did not vote shall be stricken from the registration lists. In any precinct where the poll books have been destroyed or cannot be found, it will be impossible to correct the registration books as contemplated by the statute and the registration books are thereby rendered unfit for use, and in such precincts the necessity exists for a complete re-registration.

"If the registration books are destroyed, mutilated, inaccessible or are for any other reasonable cause unfit for use or if the poll books kept by the poll clerks at the last general election have been destroyed or lost, or for any other reason it is impossible for the auditor to obtain the possession of the same, then the auditor shall give notice for a registration of all voters resident within such precinct.

We recommend that the question of whether there is to be a complete registration of all voters resident in any of the precincts be determined at once by the several county auditors and notice thereof given by them at once to the county chairman of all political parties in their counties.

Indoor Life Makes Fat

TRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; foosteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial. —Advertisement.

CONGRESS OF OLD LADIES ROBISON PARK, WED. AUGUST 23RD.

The annual Congress of Old Ladies will be held at Robison Park on Women's Day, Wednesday, Aug. 23rd. Every old lady, 75 years of age or older is invited to attend the congress. The Old Ladies' Parade will take place at 2 p. m. Register your name and age in the pavilion on the day of the congress, as the souvenirs will be distributed in the theatre at the roll call. The registration book will be open from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Each old lady will carry an American flag in the parade. Headed by the LaOtto band, the line will move to the theatre building where the exercises will be held.

MEMBER OF AVIATION CORPS IS BACK HOME

Fred Bolton, a member of the United States army aviation corps and a son of William Bolton, 1721 Calhoun street, is home from war-torn Mexico on a sixty-day furlough. He has been given this time off from duty to give him a chance to heal his injuries which consist of four fractured ribs and a number of painful bruises which he sustained in a 200-foot fall from an aeroplane.

Aviator Bolton expects to be back in perfect condition in a few weeks. He states that the government is treating the boys along the border in tip-top shape and that the various unfavorable reports which have come back are all unfounded. He also believes that America will eventually be forced to intervene in Mexico by armed force in order to restore peace.

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

Few realize how many society women now wash their own hair, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. The thousands who have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only, say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can enjoy this, the best that is known, for about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Mrs. C. C. Williams and son, Herschel, of Middleport, O., returned home on Monday after a week's visit with Mrs. Williams' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hardinger. Mr. and Mrs. Hardinger and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Burton gave a dinner party at Robison park on Sunday in honor of the visitors.

L. Eastwood Siebold, of Philadelphia, whose parents were former Fort Wayne residents, has dramatized "The Story of Kennett" as a pageant and will produce it on the lawn of his home, "Cedarcroft," September 21 to 23, inclusive. Mr. Siebold organized a dramatic club a year ago known as the Eastwood players. He is a nephew of Mrs. Newell Ransom, of this city.

Misses Angeline and Florence Roy entertained a company of young people in honor of their guest, Miss Helen Cassidy, of Michigan City, at Robison park on Sunday evening. An excellent supper was served and enjoyed by Helen Cassidy, Margaret Miller, Marie Cronin-ger, Angeline and Florence Roy, and Messrs. Louis Branning, Henry Hoffman, George Poinsett, Bill Keenor, Walter Branning and Arthur Weseloh.

A Protest Against the Kimono.

(By Betty Brown.)

A house garment with two legs and jacket. Here it is!

"A protest against the shapeless kimona," is what the modiste who designed it, calls this garment, and we'll admit that it is a pert little "protest."

The woman who has honest-to-goodness housework to do will probably never hear of or see the Pajama-dress, but the woman who "just fusses around in the morning" is said to be delighted with it.

The pajamed person pictured here chose "old blue" for her "house dress"—the material is pongee silk. Bands of brick red taffeta and little cubist patches of red lend quite an Oriental air to it.

Red ribbon trims the blue silk cap. And note the veil—but then if you are going to extremes in fads why not go all the way, and a veil on boudoir cap is going some ways.

GAY AS A POPPY.

By Betty Brown.

The scarlet poppy may have been the model for this quaint little beach suit with skirt cut in petal points. It's made of taffeta as many bathing suits are this summer—and it is as gay colored as the rainbow.

The skirt and deep girdle are scarlet. The underwaist and baggy bloomers are black striped in poppy color. It is a practical little suit and not at all beyond the reach of the home dressmaker. The waist and "trousers" are, of course, all of a piece. The skirt and deep girdle are separate.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IN COUNTRY.

A fine birthday party was given at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Busse at Thurman Sunday in honor of Mr. Busse. The beautiful day was keenly enjoyed, and so were the amusements—music, dancing card playing, taking pictures of the large company (about fifty persons) at a time, and the elegant supper which Mr. and Mrs. Busse served. The guests hated to leave the hospitable home, but a late hour finally impressed itself upon them as a necessity for starting. There were present to enjoy the happy time Mr. and Mrs. William Bergmann, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hambrook, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Busse, Mr. and Mrs. William Buhr, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Busse, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Poepel, Mr. and Mrs. August Busse, Mr. and Mrs. August Hamsot, Mr. and Mrs. William Busse, Mrs. Conrad Getty, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stellhorn, Elmer, Frieda, Hilda and Arthur Busse, Kenes Bergmann, Lorenz Hambrook, Marvin Poepel, Ruth and Arthur Busse, Clara, Herman, Erma, Ella and Nora Weber, Theodore and Clara Buhr, Martin and Emiel Schafer, Ervin Herbet, Erna Stellhorn, Edith and Fred Anderson.

BY BETTY BROWN.

Fashion announces autumn brides will wear the quaint little mop-cap instead of a wreath on bridal days.

Prettiest of the bridal caps I've seen in several trousseaux now in the making is the one I'm picturing here, a little fluff of Lame lace and silver ribbon designed by Mme. Alla Ripley, of the Fashion Art League of America.

It makes an especially pretty frame for a girlish face, and the bride who wears bobbed hair, or dresses her hair in the "bobbed effect' will find it particularly becoming.

The be-capped bride shown here is Mme. Ripleys daughter, Jean Ripley, the noted landscape artist, who recently became the bride of Harold S. Johnson, of Chicago.

The fitted crown of the cap is made of tulle. From the band of ribbon falls the court trained veil of tulle. A spray of orange blossoms is caught lightly in the pleats of tulle at the right.

The Ladies' Occult Science society will hold its regular meeting in Vordermark hall Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

PARTICULARLY SUITED TO THE YOUTHFUL FIGURE

IN CHOOSING styles it is one's duty to keep in mind the effect of various features on the outlines of the body. It is a crime for the youthful figure to adopt lines which add five or ten years to her appearance; while, on the other hand, it is absurd for the woman with a mature figure to wear styles which are unbecomingly youthful in effect.

Here is a model which is particularly suited to the youthful figure. It is developed in blue serge, the old reliable color and material, and lives up to the edict that serge and satin are a fashionable combination. Blue satin is used for the sleeves and for an inset flown either side of the front.

White bone buttons and white satin collar and cuffs stand out in bold relief against the dark background.

USING LEMON RIND

THE next time you make lemonade or have occasion to use lemon juice for any purpose grate the rind from the lemon before squeezing the fruit. The grated substance you can then stow away in a jar and use it occasionally for flavoring when a lemon taste is desired.

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING

IN THE home of a recently married couple the kitchen closets testify to careful planning on the part of the little bride who superintended this part of the building. There were two closets without the cupboard, and they were built out from the wall of lovely yellow pine boards. They were painted to match the wainscoting of the kitchen —a lovely greyish green.

One closet reached to the height of six feet, was about two feet deep and about 3½ feet wide. The door, which swung out very easily on hinges, was very shallow at the bottom, but widened to a depth of a foot at least at the top. This made the closet look as if it were a long box put on end and slit diagonally down its length. On the door were many shelves and racks for saucepans, cooking utensils of all kinds and trays, the coffee and tea pots. In the shallow part of the closet at the top were nails for ladles and long spoons which would not fit in the kitchen table drawer. Beneath the closet was deep enough to hold the dishpans and large kettles.

The advantage of this closet is that one can get at any article without reaching too high and without disturbing any other article. Not a pan or tray obtrudes itself on this spotless kitchen, and because everything has a place everything stays in its place.

The cupboard doors were provided on the inside of one door with racks for cake and pie tins, and on the other door with guarded shelves for spice jars, etc.

Another built-out closet was just high enough to hold the brooms, sweeper and vacuum cleaner. A shelf at one end was provided for the dusters and housecloths, and hooks were inserted for brushes and dustpans. This left room on the floor for buckets. Soap was spread out to dry along a shallow shelf which ran the length of this closet. This third closet left the bottom of the cupboard free for flour, salt and sugar bins and other dry groceries.

HOW TO GET REFLECTED LIGHT

IT IS the common experience in many homes to have a high, electrically lighted dome, or globe, or bulb, which is attached to a perfectly good fixture, but which throws a cold, thin light. It has been proved that the reflected light is the most restful of any for general lighting purposes; so if you do not care to change your fixture immediately, make your own reflected light.

You can use almost any sort of an electric light shade that is not open at the top. String this on three cords or chains and suspend it upside down under your light, attaching the chains to the center of your fixture at the ceiling. Wicker shades lined with silk or all-silk shades act very well this way and throw an even glow over the room.

Another pretty arrangement is to take a Japanese umbrella and suspend it in the same way, using the handle of the umbrella to attach it to the fixture at the top. This is a pretty scheme for summer cottages. If one is careful, one may try the same arrangements with gas lights, provided the shade is not hung too close and the heat from the gas jet is arranged to ascend.

A HOT-WEATHER CENTERPIECE

IF YOU have any intention of entertaining in hot weather, be sure to make any decorations which you might have as cool and unobtrusive as possible. In fact, a bowl of flowers in the middle of the refreshment table is often quite enough. A pretty way to make this bowl of flowers more than usually interesting is to use carbonated water. Have your bowl as transparent as possible and select flowers with broad, flat leaf surfaces, like nasturtiums or even pansies. As the gas escapes from the water it covers the leaves and flowers with a moisture which looks like dew and gives a most refreshingly cool effect.

MARABOU ON SILK JERSEY

MARABOU is a very smart trimming and is used effectively on a number of afternoon and evening gowns. Here it is seen on a gown of the former type. Pink silk jersey is the material employed for the making of the frock, which shows the Russian influence on styles. The objection which many persons have to silk jersey is that it has no body and clings too closely to the figure. Such objection is overruled in this instance by the use of many pleats falling from the shoulders to the bottom of long coat A legion of tiny ball buttons and hemstitching is among the points which add to the beauty of the gown.

The underskirt is made perfectly plain and obtains its fullness by means of gathers at the waistband.

(By Betty Brown.)

If frocks will spread themselves over the landscape five yards or more, then it follows that petticoats must spread. So with the aid of featherbone and haircloth, they have taken on great width.

It's on the petticoat boned and stiffened that our 1830 frocks lean for their magnificent five-yard flare, and because of this all manner of hip-distensions and flares have been devised to give the necessary bouffancy to fluffy gowns of tulle, or voile organdy.

To show how wide a proper petticoat can be I sketched this combination of petticoat and camisole of Chemit satin; the vandyke points of the three tiered-skirt are trimmed with Dresden ribbon. Threads of featherbone and haircloth, light as cobwebs, are used to give the proper distension.

Less elaborate, but practical for the ordinary frock are the little distenders of commerce—the kind you will find in the shops. As you see in the upper sketch they are made of bobbinet and properly "distended" with featherbone.

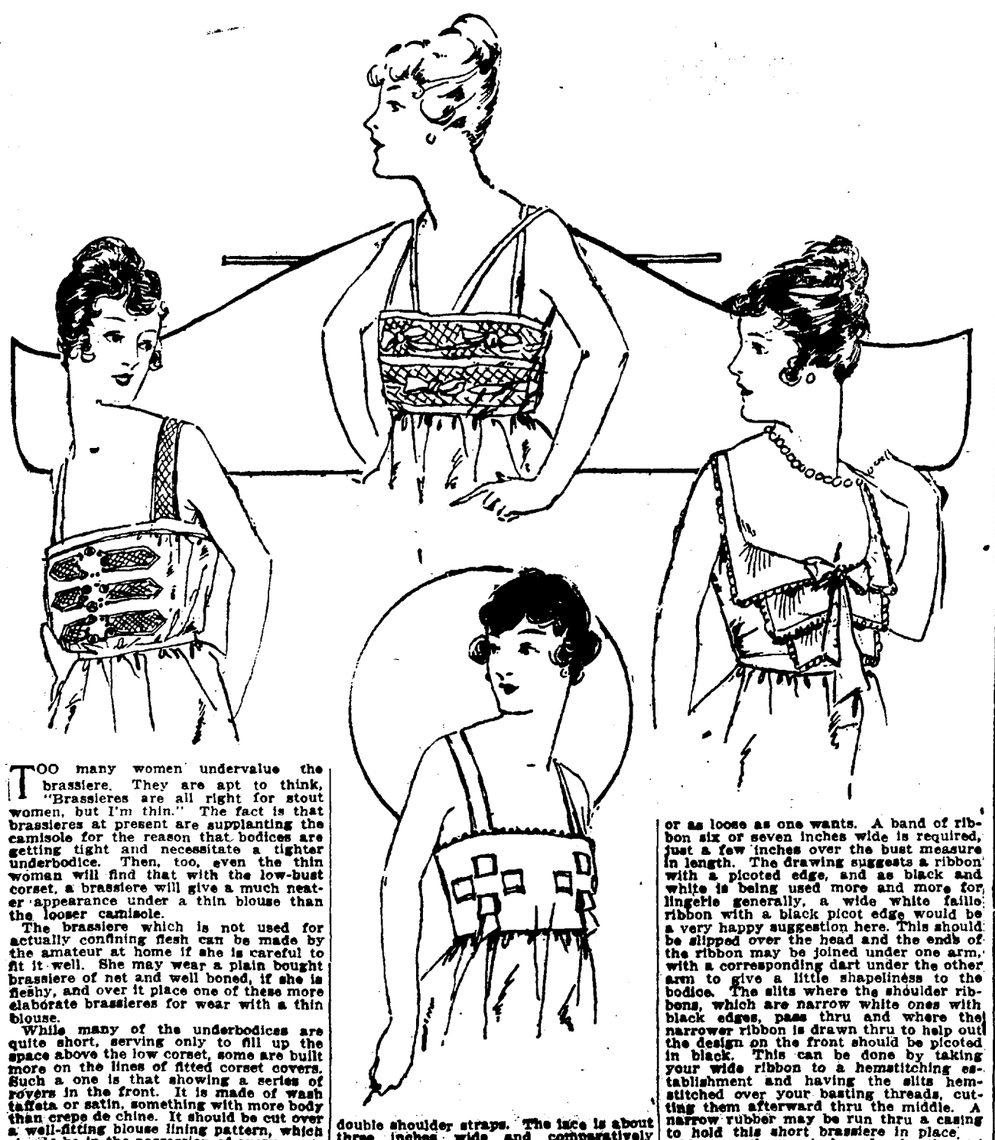
UNDERBODICES FOR THE THIN BLOUSE



TOO many women undervalue the brassiere. They are apt to think, "Brassieres are all right for stout women, but I'm thin." The fact is that brassieres at present are supplanting the camisole for the reason that bodices are getting tight and necessitate a tighter underbodice. Then, too, even the thin woman will find that with the low-bust corset, a brassiere will give a much neater appearance under a thin blouse than the looser camisole.

The brassiere which is not used for actually confining flesh can be made by the amateur at home if she is careful to fit it well. She may wear a plain bought brassiere of net and well boned, if she is fleshy, and over it place one of these more elaborate brassieres for wear with a thin blouse.

While many of the underbodices are quite short, serving only to fill up the space above the low corset, some are built more on the lines of fitted corset covers. Such a one is that showing a series of rovers in the front. It is made of wash taffeta or satin, something with more body than crepe de chine. It should be cut over a well-fitting blouse lining pattern, which should be in the possession of every woman who does her own sewing. The top rovers and shoulder straps are cut in one like a deep yoke, and this rover continues the same in back. In front, two other rovers are added and a bow of ribbon is tacked at the middle. The rovers are edged with val lace. This model would never do for the stout woman, but for the thinner girl is very attractive. It fastens down the back with hooks and eyes, sewed on tape, under a blind opening of the silk.

Lace and ribbon are used together to fashion the very pretty little bodice with double shoulder straps. The lace is about three inches wide and comparatively heavy. A filet mesh, a cluny lace or a torchon would be practical. Narrow grosgrain ribbon in white, flesh or blue is then run thru the lace at wide intervals and tied in bows at the front. The same ribbon is used to join and bind the two pieces of lace. Crossed straps of the ribbons hold this bodice over the shoulders. Darts at the side will make this fit rather snugly. It may be slipped over the head without any opening unless it is fit too tightly, when an underarm fastening will be necessary.

Entirely of ribbon is the other short bodice. This, too, may be made as tight or as loose as one wants. A band of ribbon six or seven inches wide is required, just a few inches over the bust measure in length. The drawing suggests a ribbon with a picoted edge, and as black and white is being used more and more for lingerie generally, a wide white faille ribbon with a black picot edge would be a very happy suggestion here. This should be slipped over the head and the ends of the ribbon may be joined under one arm, with a corresponding dart under the other arm to give a little shapeliness to the bodice. The slits where the shoulder ribbons, which are narrow white ones with black edges, pass thru and where the narrower ribbon is drawn thru to help out the design on the front should be picoted in black. This can be done by taking your wide ribbon to a hemstitching establishment and having the slits hemstitched over your basting threads, cutting them afterward thru the middle. A narrow rubber may be run thru a casing to hold this short brassiere in place.

More on the camisole order for the girl who never likes anything tight is the fourth sketch. Crepe de chine, a double layer of chiffon, thin nainsook or silk muslin will make this model. A casing is run at top and bottom of a straight piece of material, made slightly fuller than the bust measures. Narrow rubber is run thru the bottom casing and a narrow tape or ribbon thru the top. Lace is employed for the shoulder straps and makes the pointed bands across the front. The flower wreaths may be embroidered or made of ribbon or chiffon. This goes on over the head.

THE JOHN ROBINSON CIRCUS HERE SEPT. 6

The John Robinson circus comes to Fort Wayne on Wednesday, September 6, for two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., and for a magnificent street parade at 10 o'clock a. m.

Every day when the 1,000 members of the John Robinson circus finish breakfast, they begin active preparation for the parade. Well-fed horses and ponies in shining harness and wavering plumes take their places before glittering parade chariots, the sound of music is heard from bands perched hazardously high; clowns, charioteers, jockeys, Roman hippodrome riders; camels from the great desert with native riders and ponderous elephants, some bearing a weight of feminine beauty in Oriental costume, make appearance in a picturesque, kaleidoscopic pageant more than two miles long.

A man on horseback in a deep voice cries the oft repeated warning, "Look out for your horses, the elephants are coming." Behind him a bevy of pretty buglers trumpet their clarion-voiced instruments and then Jeanne d'Arc, in polished armor, with clanking curtains of chain mail. The flush of tan has tinted her ears and cheeks. She is a young woman adopted by a wealthy aunt in New Haven, Conn., who sent her to Europe to keep her from entering circus life. Her sudden return and her romantic marriage with a clown caused daily papers all over the country to devote considerable space to the incident.

St. Louis Heiress Declares He Broke Love Pact With Her.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 15.—In an effort to recover $4,000 she alleges she loaned to Capt. Harry Davis as the result of his "systematic love making," Miss Mamie Hoffman, St. Louis heiress, has filed suit in the circuit court to have a receiver appointed for the company operating the steamer Golden-fleece, operated by Davis out of this port and in which Miss Hoffman says she owns a third interest, given her as security for the loan.

Miss Hoffman says she was engaged to Davis at the time the loan was made. She says the engagement was later broken. Davis asserts that Miss Hoffman visited the city while he was operating the boat out of Memphis, Tenn., and that the suit is the result of jealousy exhibited by the St. Louis woman over his treatment of a girl he had met in the Tennessee city.

COLLEGE BOYS TO QUIT ARMY CAMP VERY SOON

About Sept. 1 is Date When Indiana Lads Will Begin Trip North.

Llano Grande, Texas, Aug. 15.—Official orders from the war department, providing for the release from military service of college students as soon as practicable after Sept. 1, providing no emergency exists at that time, have just reached General Lewis, in command of the Indiana brigade here. The order affects the Indiana University band of the Second Indiana infantry and Battery B, a Purdue University organization of the Indiana Field Artillery battalion. Men of other organizations who can show bona fide intentions of entering college or returning to college also will be discharged.

Company I of the First Indiana infantry is composed largely of Indiana university students and graduates, but it is not recognized as a college organization. It is said that more than one-half of the members of this company will be eligible for discharge because of being students. A few who do not desire discharges may seek transfers to other companies.

The student soldiers do not take the attitude that there is any better reason for their discharge than any other class of men here, but since the war department has seen fit to announce such a policy they are eager to take advantage of it and return to their studies.

Must Form New Band.

Most of the students say that they have enjoyed their service here, but with no prospect of immediate active service they would regret to delay their graduation from school. The Indiana University band has been here without instruments, though the government instruments are expected to arrive most any day. A new regimental band will be organized if the students go home, by detailing musicians from various companies of the regiment. It is expected that the Indiana brigade will lose about 250 men by the discharge of students. Several men who had not thought of going to college are taking a sudden interest in acquiring more education and they may enroll in order to return to Indiana.

"We figure that the government intends to send all the troops home by November or December, so we think we had just as well go home at the beginning of the semester," said one of the student soldiers. "We all would be glad to stay if it looked like business."

Lieut. Col. Emmett F. Branch, of the Second Indiana, presided at a social meeting of 150 members of the masonic lodge who are soldiers in the Indiana, Minnesota and Nebraska regiments. Officers and privates alike were all on the same footing in this meeting. Addresses were by Maj. Ezra Clemens, of the Second Minnesota infantry, and by F. M. M. Richardson, the general secretary of the three camp Y. M. C. A. organizations. The Masonic Grand Lodge of Indiana has declined to grant a special dispensation for the organization of a camp lodge.

Tossed Into Ambulance.

Harold Shumate, of Evansville, a mounted orderly of the Second Indiana, figured in an acrobatic stunt with the aid of an army horse, which holds the camp record. He was riding Maj. Noble's horse Dynamite when he was tossed from the animal's back onto the cot of a passing ambulance wagon. The ambulance hauled Shumate to the regimental infirmary, where his bruised leg was bandaged. Shumate was able to return to his quarters.

Guy T. Buckles, of Nebraska, and Walter Hornaday, of Indianapolis, advertised as the former sparring partner of Jack Dillon, appeared in a ten-round sparring match staged yesterday afternoon at one of the camp picture theaters. The match was declared a draw. Military officers were present to see that the contest was clean and the crowd orderly.

James Wheeler, one of the cooks of the Mount Vernon company, Second Indiana, fell from a freight car at two o'clock yesterday morning, but escaped with only a sprained ankle.

He had gone to Donna, a few miles west of here, and was on the train to return to camp when he fell. He was brought here to the camp hospital.

Investigation Under Way.

Members of the Winamac company First Indiana infantry, were considerably embarrassed yesterday when an official inquiry instigated by the war department, on request of Senator Kern, was begun to determine how they are being treated and under what conditions they are living in camp. The men of the company say they can see no use for the investigation.

The inquiry is being conducted by Brig. Gen. Hulen, commander of the First Texas brigade. It is said that sympathetic citizens of Winamac, affected by letters written by the boys when they first went into camp when conditions naturally were somewhat rough, complained to Senator Kern and caused the entire company to be embarrassed by an unnecessary inquiry.

I visited the men in their tents and asked them about their camp life. Most of them complained because of the investigation, saying that their company was placed in a ridiculous light. All seemed to be in high spirits, though married men with financial problems are anxiously awaiting their discharges.

"We are not a bunch of sissies," said one of the men who spoke with the approval of others. "Those people up home took those letters too seriously. Of course it was a little rough at first when camp life was new, and we did not know how to take care of ourselves. Some of the boys, I guess, wrote scare stories home to get a little sympathy and of course all of us, we must confess, were homesick. We are comfortable and happy now and there is nothing to complain about. This investigation makes us all smile. The mess is good and we are all in good health and spirit."

Gen. Hulen's report, when completed, will be filed with the war department.

Mrs. Wilbur C. Bloom, of Spokane, Wash., was operated upon at the St. Joseph hospital Monday for appendicitis. She was visiting at the home of her father, Clark Beatty, and Mr. Bloom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bloom, when she was taken ill. She is getting along as well as could be expected.

GERMANY JUSTIFIES REPRISALS BY AIR

White Book Sets Out Berlin Position After Baralong Incident.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The German government has transmitted to the reichstag a white book in regard to the case of the British patrol boat Baralong, members of whose crew are reported to have killed Germans from a submarine sunk by the British a year ago. The white book contains official German and British documents.

The final report, according to a statement given out today by the Overseas news agency says:

"The German government, replying to the declarations of the British government in regard to the German memorandum of January 10, 1916, on the Baralong case (in which Germany rejected the British proposal to submit the case to a neutral board,) said it had decided, on account of the British government's attitude, that it was impossible to continue negotiations. At the same time the government announced it would take reprisals of a nature corresponding with the provocation, adding:

"Of course the government has declined to respond to the crimes committed by the British seamen by carrying out similar reprisals; for instance, the shooting of British prisoners of war. German airships will convince the English people that Germany has the means of preventing from going unatoned the cruelties of the officers and crew of the Baralong."

The German reply points out that formerly particular consideration was given in employing persons for military purposes to the civilian population, although there was unavoidable danger to civilians, but said that in view of the Baralong incident a different attitude would be adopted. The government's purpose is quoted as follows by the news agency: Airships will be used against England within the limits of the law of nations, without any other regard. Every airship which throws destructive bombs on London or other defended towns or on towns which contain establishments of a military character will cause England to remember the Baralong case.

PREPARE TO TELL MR. FAIRBANKS ABOUT IT

Big Doings Planned When Indiana Man is Notified of Nomination.

Chicago, Aug. 15. Republicans of the middle west are expected to concentrate at Indianapolis Aug. 31. Formal notification of Charles Warren Fairbanks as the party's nominee for vice-president is scheduled for that day.

Extensive preparations for the ceremony are being made at Indianapolis, and it is to be marked by one of the greatest republican demonstrations in Indiana's history, state leaders have reported to Alvin T. Hert, western manager of the Hughes-Fairbanks campaign, in the Conway building.

Marching clubs and delegations from the larger cities of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Kentucky are to participate in a big parade.

United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman will be chairman of the notification committee and break the news officially to Mr. Fairbanks that he was selected as the running mate with Mr. Hughes by the Chicago convention.

The notification is to take place on the lawn of the Fairbanks home. The lawn is big enough to hold several thousand persons. A regulation Indiana barbecue with a menu large enough to feed all comers is to be a feature.

The vice-presidential nominee is now in northern Michigan completing his summer vacation. It is understood that Manager Hert and a group of Indiana republican leaders were in conference with him over the week-end.

Immediately after the Indianapolis notification Mr. Fairbanks is expected to start upon a campaigning swing through all northern states.

DISPUTES G. O. P. PLATFORM.

Galloway Denies Charge of Creating Many New Offices Outside Law.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The white house has made public a letter from Charles M. Galloway, acting chairman of the civil service commission, denying assertions of the republican platform that the democratic administration has created 30,000 offices outside the civil service law, which cost $44,000,000 a year. Mr. Galloway gave figures to combat the republican declaration and to show that the number of outside offices is small.

POLICE FIND SUSPECT HAS CRIMINAL RECORD

Man Sentenced for Profanity is "Gipsy Bob" in World of Crime.

There was something in the drawn eyes and the faded star once tattooed in bright blue on the forehead of Robert Thurston, 38, which caused Prosecutor Hoffman to pause when [illegible] ing the man, held on a [illegible] ng profanity, Tuesday.

"Have you [illegible] in the penitentiary?" Hoffman asked him.

"No, sir," came the unwavering answer. Hoffman was dogged and asked the question twice. There was a negative reply again. Thurston was fined $3 and costs because he spoke vilely of Traffic Officer Paul Monday afternoon.

But Detective Sergeant Brennan could not rest. He was sure he had seen that face before in the thousands of pictures he handles every week. He hunted through most of the morning hours until he came on a picture in the criminal album of 1910. The man with the star on his forehead had a long record.

He is best known in the underworld as "Gipsy Bob." The fact that he is an expert tatooer is only a side line. He has tattooed many young men in Fort Wayne during the past few days he has loafed about the saloons here, but the police think he was looking for a chance to commit a crime.

His record started in 1897, nineteen years ago. He was convicted of robbery in Birmingham, N. Y., and sent to the Rochester Industrial school. He escaped from the institution. In 1903 he was again taken at Birmingham, N. Y., and convicted of third degree robbery. He served five years in the Elmira prison.

On Christmas night, 1908, he was arrested in St. Louis on a charge of first degree robbery. He pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and robbery before the grand jury and was sentenced to Jefferson City, Mo. He served two years.

Here his record ends as far as police can find. Some of his names are Robert Thurston, Arthur Flint, Arthur Harper and Robert Polack. He is best known as "Gipsy Bob."

Police have no other charge against him here than using profanity. He will be released from the county jail in two weeks. Police think he will hurry to leave town since his prison past has been revealed and he knows a watch will be kept on him.

TRIO OF AFTERNOON SPEECHES BY HUGHES

Busy Tacoma Program for the Nominee Before Dash to Seattle.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 15.—Charles E. Hughes reached Tacoma shortly before noon today. Three addresses are on his program before he leaves for Seattle, where he will address a meeting tonight.

Three addresses here were to be made to the republican editors of the state, the Tacoma chapter of the Red Cross and an open air meeting in the stadium. On arrival the nominee and his wife were taken for an automobile ride through the city.

Mr. Hughes was up before 6 o'clock and out on the train platform to view the Cascade mountains. At Orting he shook hands with a number of inmates of the soldiers' home, and at Huyallup, where another stop was made, met women employes of canning factories who came to the station in their white working clothes and white caps.

HOLD UP POWDER FOR U. S.

Jersey City Authorities Will Not Permit It to Pass Through.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 15.—A shipment of forty-four cases of black powder over the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad consigned to the United States government for use at Fort Totten, N. Y., was held up today by the police under the munition order prohibiting shipments of explosives into the city, promulgated after the Black Tom disaster. It is understood the Lackawanna will try to re-ship the consignment by another route.

The right of the city to hold up shipments is now being tested in the courts.

WILLSON ORDERS THE TORPEDO PUT INDOORS

I. W. W. Combat Recruiting Efforts of Ft. Wayne Naval Officer.

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 15.—Because advertisements for recruits for the United States navy have been repeatedly torn down, and in many instances literature recruiting officers say they placed with industrial workers of the world, instruc-industrial workers of the world has been destroyed, instructions were issued today by Lieutenant James D. Willson, in charge of recruiting in the northwest, to place indoors the Whitehead torpedo which has been left in the street here to interest recruits. Navy advertisements also have been destroyed in Minneapolis and other places, according to recruiting officers.

Lieutenant Willson mentioned in the above dispatch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, 2310 Hoagland avenue. He has been in the navy fourteen years and was but recently transferred to recruiting service in the northwest from the Boston navy yard. He is in charge of seven stations.

Former Democratic Chieftain Relegated to Rear at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 15. Roger C. Sullivan, former democratic national committeeman from Illinois, will not take an active part in the management of the bout. According to the report those who democratic national campaign this fall, according to a report here today. Furthermore none of Mr. Sullivan's close political friends will be given positions in the western headquarters, according to the same report.

According to the story influential friends of President Wilson are inclined to blame Mr. Sullivan for Raymond Robins' support of Charles E. Hughes despite the fact that representatives of Mr. Sullivan offered the support of the regular state democratic organization to Mr. Robins if he would run for governor against Edward F. Dunne, the incumbent. According to the reort those who will be the principal assistants to Senator Walsh of Montana in the management of the western campaign are Senator Owen of Oklahoma and Irving Chuman, Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, and Morgan Davies, of Illinois.

The democratic senatorial campaign will be conducted from the Chicago headquarters by Senators Willard Saulsbury of Delaware, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Wm. J. Stone of Missouri.

AMATEUR BASEBALL MEN DRAFT RULES

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15.—Delegates from Pittsburg, Louisville, Cleveland, Lincoln, Neb., St. Paul and Detroit were present today when the special meeting of the Amateur Base Ball association was called to order. The purpose of the meeting was to draft rules to govern the championship games to be played in the fall, andl to decide the place where the games shall be played.

It was suggested that local teams play in foreign cities until the final deciding game, but no definite action was taken. Houston, Texas, has asked for the entire championship series. Tacoma, Wash., Los Angeles and Sacramento, Cal., and Duluth, Minn., sent word they will not participate in the series because of the expense, but will continue their membership in the association.

ICKES RETURNS TO GET INTO GAME FOR HUGHES

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Harold L. Ickes, former progressive leader and now a member of the republican national campaign committee, returned to Chicago from a three weeks' vacation today prepared to devote his entire time to the campaign of Charles E. Hughes for president.

He expressed himself as well pleased with the appointment of Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky, as manager of the western campaign headquarters of the republican national committee and said that former progressives would co-operate with him in working for the success of the republican national ticket. Mr. Hert, who has been at Mackinac Island, will return to Chicago tomorrow and begin the organization of his staff assistants.

FEAR OF PREJUDICE KEEP NICKEL LOAF

Loss in Costly Competition May Result in Bakers' Organization.

Competition among bakeries keeps the jitney loaf of bread on the Fort Wayne market.

"We are not making anything on our small loaves of bread now and the prices are getting worse, but we can only hold on," a prominent baker said, Tuesday.

"If one would start we would all raise the price, but none of us dare to make the first move because of the prejudice it would create against our bakery," said another.

"It is a costly game of freeze out which bakers of Fort Wayne are playing. We have always been at swords' points. We would all like to get together, but nobody has ever started the movement," another told.

Individual bakers say they expect to speak to councilmen about changing the ordinance governing the size of a nickle loaf of bread. There would be a chance to change the size with the uncertain market then, they claim.

If prices of flour continue to go up bakers will be forced to raise the price when their present supply of flour is gone, they say. That is only a matter of days.

"But we should not wait. We are holding our flour at less than we can sell it for at our present rating. It is not fair to us. I will not be first to break, however," said a baker.

The Haffner Star bakery, 333 East Lewis street, has prepared an enlightening circular for its customers, explaining the cause of a raise which looks sure to come later. The printed sheets will be distributed Wednesday.

Under the title of "Wheat," it says: "Quality of wheat changes from year to year. Wheat prices change from day to day. Fluctuations are due to crop and market conditions. Boards of trade influence the cost of wheat by speculations.

"Flour is made from sound wheat only. Five bushels of wheat make one barrel of flour. A raise of one cent a bushel on wheat means a five cent raise at least on a barrel of flour.

"Bread is made of wheat flour. When the cost of flour advances thirty per cent. the price of bread should keep pace. Special loaves of bread should come and a special price, because of the extra labor, extra time, oven space and baking put in them.

"We recommend the ten cent loaf of bread to persons desiring better flavored bread, which cannot be obtained in the smaller loaf," the article reads. "We believe the co-operation of dealers and consumers is necessary if the price is to be kept reasonable at all in this crisis. Dealers should sell out their supply daily. Consumers should not be too choicy and should not refuse bread which is twenty-four hours oid, because by this method only can all waste be climinated."

WILL TAKE UP DANISH TREATY.

Stone Calls Meeting of Foreign Relations Committee.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Ratification yesterday by the Danish lower house of parliament of the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States has served to hasten consideration of the treaty in the senate here.

Chairman Stone today called a meeting of the foreign relations committee for tomorrow and he hopes to report a recommendation for its ratification to the senate by tomorrow night.

CAESARIAN OPERATION.

One Is Performed on Mrs. Harry F. Starke at St. Joseph Hospital.

Mrs. Della Starke, wife of Harry F. Starke, 1223 Spy Run avenue, submitted to a Caesarian operation at St. Joseph hospital Tuesday morning. According to reports from the institution both mother and babe are in as good a condition as can be expected. Mr. Starke is foreman of the blacksmith shop for the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

ACTION IS POSTPONED.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The Rainy bill to repeal existing duties on mixed flour, said to be designed to afford cheaper bread, was considered today by the house ways and means committee, but action was postponed.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY FOR INSPECTORS

Fifty Lawns Are Visited on Tuesday in Final Look Over the City.

The inspection committee of the beautification contest worked early and late Tuesday and more than fifty flower bedecked back yards were visited in the course of the day. All work of judging the 800 properties where children have entered the contest, will be finished by Saturday.

The past few weeks have developed remarkable improvements in many of the laws, women of the committee say. The judging for all prizes will be on fine points, they give out.

A meeting of the entire committee will be called in the assembly room of the court house one day next week and the winners of prizes will be determined. Prizes will not be given out, however, until the second day of the flower show, on Sept. 7.

Women making up the inspection committee, that is touring the city this week, are: Mrs. O. N. Guildin, Mrs. A. E. Fauve, Mrs. Albert Schaaf, Mrs. W. O. Seavey, Mrs Fred McCulloch, Miss Minnette Baum, Mrs. W. A. Bayer, Mrs. W. O. Granger, Mrs. Ed White, Mrs. B. H. Barnett, Mrs. Cour, Mrs. C. B. Fitch, Mrs W. K. Noble, Mrs. Henry Bowerfind, Mrs H. G. Keegan, Mrs. S. E. Mulholland, Mrs. J. W. Stemen, Mrs. J. W. Lipkey, Mrs. M. G. Walker, Mrs. William Grosvenor, Mrs. M. H. Durnell, Mrs. John Curran, Mrs. John Brunski, Mrs. Milner Thomas, Mrs. Florence Schiefer, Mrs. H. C. Proehl, Mrs. R. B. McKeeman, Mrs. Elwin Hulse, Mrs. Robert Meyer, Mrs. J. G. OFFERS EXCUSES FOR DELAYING U. S. MAILS

Britain Pleads Hidden Contraband as Justifying Examinations.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—An explanatory statement of how Great Britain's examination of mails is being conducted was presented today to Secretary Lansing by the British embassy. It is preparatory to the more comprehensive reply to American representations now being prepared jointly by the London and Paris foreign offices.

Figures given in the statement show the average time for examination of intercepted mail is from one to three days. The minimum delay to mail between the United States and Holland is given at two days and the maximum at seven. Danish mails have been delayed from seven to ten days when it has been necessary to remove them from a ship; otherwise only four days.

"It is admitted," the statement says, "that at the outset neutral correspondence in which enemy interests were in no way concerned was subjected to a delay which is greatly regretted and which has since been reduced to a minimum.

Much Disguised Contraband.

"It must not be imagined that the mails were removed from neutral ships for examination without careful consideration of the arrangements which would be required to deal with them as quickly as possible. All preparations which seemed necessary were with this object, but, unfortunately, those responsible for them were not aware of some of the difficulties which would be encountered.

"For instance, there was no reason to suppose that (as proved to be the case) mail bags marked as dispatched from one neutral country to another neutral country would contain nothing but mails for or from an enemy country, that bags represented as containing printed matter would contain rubber, coffee, jewelry, etc., sometimes disguised as newspapers, as well as correspondence of all kinds, registered and unregistered, or that persons writing to or from enemy countries would already have adopted the practices of sending their letters under cover to intermediaries in neutral countries.

Find German Propaganda.

"It also could not be supposed that great numbers of complete sacks appearing to contain merely business circulars from neutral countries would contain in reality nothing but propaganda from Germany under covers bearing neutral postage stamps.

"These and similar unforeseen peculiarities made it impossible, until the staff engaged had been largely increased and had become accustomed to them, to select on any fixed principle those mail bags which, when all could not be examined within a reasonable period, should be forwarded without examination.

"The delay of shipping documents carried by the same ship as the cargo to which they refer can be, and has been in some cases, avoided by the simple expedient of inclosing such documents in specially marked bags."

The statement concludes by showing why the dispatch of intercepted mails is best facilitated by exmaination in London and not at points nearer the seizure, as has been suggested.

The Royal Neighbors' degree team will meet at the home of Mrs. Wyatt, at St. Martin and Warsaw, Thursday evening. The order will give a farewell reception to Mrs. Debrow, Friday evening. She is moving to Jackson, Mich., where she will make her future home.

GETTING ESTIMATE ON RESERVOIR ROOF

May Be Able to Cover Tank for Much Less Than Had Been Expected.

Careful estimate of the cost of sealing the top of the reservoir tank, which is 208 feet long and 108 feet wide, is being prepared by architects under orders from the works board. It is probable that the large basin can be covered for less than $5,000, board members were told Tuesday.

The big roof will be built about three feet above the top of the tank. The sides will be protected with several screen layers. This will allow free circulation of air and keep out the midge flies.

Advice from Purdue university experts is that the roofing plan would probably be best to insure protection against the bugs, whose eggs develop the worms some times found in city water. If the midge flies could be kept from alighting on the surface of the body of water the problem would be solved, board members have been told.

The other recourse is that of saturating the city water with a disinfecting solution. A chloride solution is said by experts in this line to be harmless and yet to keep away insects and prove deadly to their larvae. The cost of treating the storage water will be looked into.

The big reservoir is being emptied of its million gallon supply at this time for a thorough cleaning. The scrubbing out of the big tank proves ineffective, however, except for a few weeks. After a certain length of time the insects alight on the tank and lay the eggs, which later produce the little worms found now and then in city water.

City Hall Brevities.

Deputy Meat and Milk Inspector C. P. Josse returned home Monday after a two weeks' vacation at Lake James.

The new traffic signs are being distributed by George Herrmann, James J. Hayes and Calvin K. Rieman, of the board of public safety.

Park Board Inspects.

After the regular meeting of the park board, Monday afternoon, an inspection tour of the boulevard system of the city was made. In Abe Ackerman's big machine the board members went over all boulevards under construction. Work is advancing rapidly they report.

Miss Thekla Schmidt, of the park board office, is spending her vacation at Big Star lake, near Baldwin, Mich.

Birth Record.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Boyle, 2425 Schele avenue—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. William Roffelson, R. F. D. 13—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider, 3207 Victoria street—a girl.

Building Permits.

Permits to build were granted A. G. W. Curdes to erect a $3,000 frame residence at 3605 Hanna street, and a dwelling to cost $3,000 on Hamilton avenue.

CAMPAIGN TOUR FOR WILSON ABANDONED

Washington, Aug. 15.—After a conference today between President Wilson and the members of the democratic campaign committee Vance G. McCormick, chairman of the national committee, announced that the president would make no speaking tour, but probably would accept invitations to speak at different places.

The president conferred with the democratic campaign committee at luncheon. He will see the associate committee of progressives later.

In the senate today Senator Hardwick of Georgia, democrat, made reply to references by Charles E. Hughes to the predominance of southern members in committee chairmanships in congress. Mr. Hardwick accused the republican presidential nominee of "waving the bloody shirt to stir passion and prejudice."

CARRANZA OFFICER KILLED.

American Provost Guard Returns Mexican's Fire.

San Antonio, Aug. 15.—A lieutenant of the Carranza army was shot and killed by an American provost guard at Colonia Dublan three days ago, according to a report to Gen. Funston today by Gen. Pershing. Gen. Pershing said the Mexican officer became angry at a railroad brakeman and chased and fired on him. The provost guard ordered the officer to halt. The latter turned and fired at the American. The provost guard then shot and killed the lieutenant. He was exonerated.

DETROIT POLICE HOLD ONE.

Seek Two Others for Swindling Lafayette Man.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15.—One man has been detained by the Detroit police as the result of a charge made by Don M. Kelly, of Lafayette, Ind., that he lost $15,000 in a race horse swindle. Two other men accused by Kelly are being sought. He alleges that he met the men in a local hotel and allowed them to place several small bets for him. His money and "winnings" were returned, he said. Then, he delares, he was induced to give the men $15,000 to bet. This time, Kelly told the police, he did not get any money back.

SPEEDING TO CHICAGO FOR SURGICAL ORDEAL

Special Train Carries California Millionaire With Strange Malady.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 15.—Alvin Daniels, multimillionaire mining man, yachtsman and golf enthusiast, who for some time has been confined to his home at Coronado, afflicted with a strange malady that affected one of his legs, is speeding toward Chicago for an operation after an attempt to stay the progress of the trouble with medicine proved unsuccessful.

Upon advice of physicians attending the millionaire, the trip was arranged and a special car was chartered, which left over the Santa Fe.

Mr. Daniels is accompanied by his San Diego physician, Mrs. Daniels and several children, also Percival Thompson, brother of Chicago's mayor, and Mrs. Thompson.

According to Santa Fe officials quick time is being made and close connections at terminal points have been arranged.

Chicago District Attorney Suspects Manipulation of Market.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Federal Judge Landis may be asked today by District Attorney Clyne to summon a special grand jury to investigate the alleged manipulation of the wheat market by speculators. That the district attorney's office is in possession of evidence tending to show a conspiracy between big milling interests of the northwest and speculators to boom the price of wheat was intimated by Mr. Clyne yesterday.

The only action that can be taken by the district attorney to get the facts, and to prove or disaprove the evidence at hand, is the calling of a grand jury. Whether this will be done before Thursday is a question upon which Mr. Clyne refused to comment. That grand jury action is a probability, however, was admitted by the district attorney after E. N. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission, had been consulted.

Holds Conference Today.

Mr. Clyne and Mr. Hurley will hold a conference today with a number of wheat dealers who are expected to appear in response to the district attorney's open invitation. Late last night Mr. Hurley and the district attorney held a conference and a plan to be followed today was outlined.

The most important angle to be taken up at the present in the government's investigation is the bread question, according to Mr. Clyne. Paul Schulze, president of the Schulze Baking company visited the office of the federal prosecutor during the day and placed additional information on the proposed increase in the price of bread before him.

May Keep Hands Off.

The government's investigation, according to the district attorney, concerns only the alleged manipulation of the wheat market by speculators who are accused of conspiring to raise prices in violation of the law. If it is determined that the jump in price is due to natural causes the government will keep its hands off.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Fleming continued to work over the reports gathered by investigators from the office of Hinton G. Clabaugh. His report to Mr. Clyne will not be made for several days. In the meantime several assistants in Mr. Clyne's office are compiling figures and other data to be used in the event a grand jury is called.

PREPARE FOR REUNION.

Veterans of Ninth Indiana Will Meet at Elkhart.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15.—The Ninth Indiana volunteers will hold their annual reunion at Elkhart Sept. 8 and 9. It is expected that about ninety members of the old organization will be present. Maj. J. D. Brandon, of Elkhart, is the only surviving field officer of the regiment. During the civil war the regiment was classed as one of the fighting units, being regarded by Historian Foax as one of the commands that withstood more than its share of the real fighting.

The annual reunion of the Seventy-fourth regiment of Indiana volunteers will be held at Etna Green, Ind., Sept. 14 and 15. David Poor, of Etna Green, is president of the regimental association and William F. Peddycord, of Chicago, is secretary.

POLICE THWART CUPID'S FREAK.

White Boy Was Determined to Wed a Colored Girl at Marion.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 15.—The police yesterday frustrated the attempts of Lyle Courtney, 19 years old (white), of Newcastle, and Florence Hill, 18 years old (colored), of this city, to marry. They were arrested and Courtney was released from jail upon his promise to return to his home and give up his attachment for the colored girl.

Each was steadfast in avowing love for the other to Chief of Police Phillips, who had been apprised of Courtney's purpose by the police of Newcastle. Courtney's father, who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, was shocked to learn of his son's action and his mother was frantic.

Complexion Fresh As a Daisy--Not a Wrinkle

By Mlle. Mareix, France's Great Prize Beauty.

It's wonderful to look beautiful and youthful. The Countess de Chevanne, who at seventy years of age possesses a marvelously soft, smooth, velvet-like skin and an almost girl-like complexion without a wrinkle in sight, told the writer personally in Paris that she owed it all to the discovery of skin osmosis. With this marvelous discovery every complexion blemish can be banished in three nights in many instances and you can awaken in the morning with a beautiful natural rose colored complexion fresh as a daisy.

I have known dozens of hollow-cheeked, wrinkled, aged-looking women, who had given up all hope of ever looking beautiful and youthful again, to "Come back" and again become most beautiful, youthful and fascinating in from two to three weeks' time by this wonderful simple method.

No matter what your age or what you have tried unsuccessfully, skin osmosis will positively bring you new beauty and youth Merely wash your face in warm water at night and rub in a teaspoonful or two of any good pure roseated cream which you can obtain from your druggist. In the morning wash the face with cold water and rub in more cream.

In three weeks or less watch the magic transformation. See how the old, hardened, coarse, rough skin turns into new, fresh, soft, youthful looking skin almost before your very eyes, all due to simple skin osmosis produced solely by warm water and roseated cream, but be sure to use only pure roseated cream, as it is an entirely different thing from ordinary face creams and must not be confounded with them. I personally prefer Creme Tokalon (Roseated), but any good brand will do. If you have wrinkles get a box of Japanese Ice Pencils and use them in connection with the cream and you get quick action on the deepest wrinkles, no matter of how long standing, in one night's time and awaken on the morrow to witness most astonishing results.

I personally guarantee success in every case, in any of my newspaper articles which I write on subjects relating to beauty, or I will refund the amount paid for any products which I recommend, provided you take your dealer's receipt at the time you make your purchase. My American address is Simone Mariex, 20 West 22nd street, New York.

NOTE:—The manufacturers of Creme Tokalon Roseated have such unbounded confidence in their particular brand, that they offer to forfeit $200.00 to any charitable institution, if it can be shown that it will not banish every complexion blemish and give most astonishing new beauty to wrinkled, care-worn, aged women in three days time in many instances. It can be obtained absolutely fresh and guaranteed pure from Meyer Bros. Co., or most any good druggist in this city. —Advertisement.

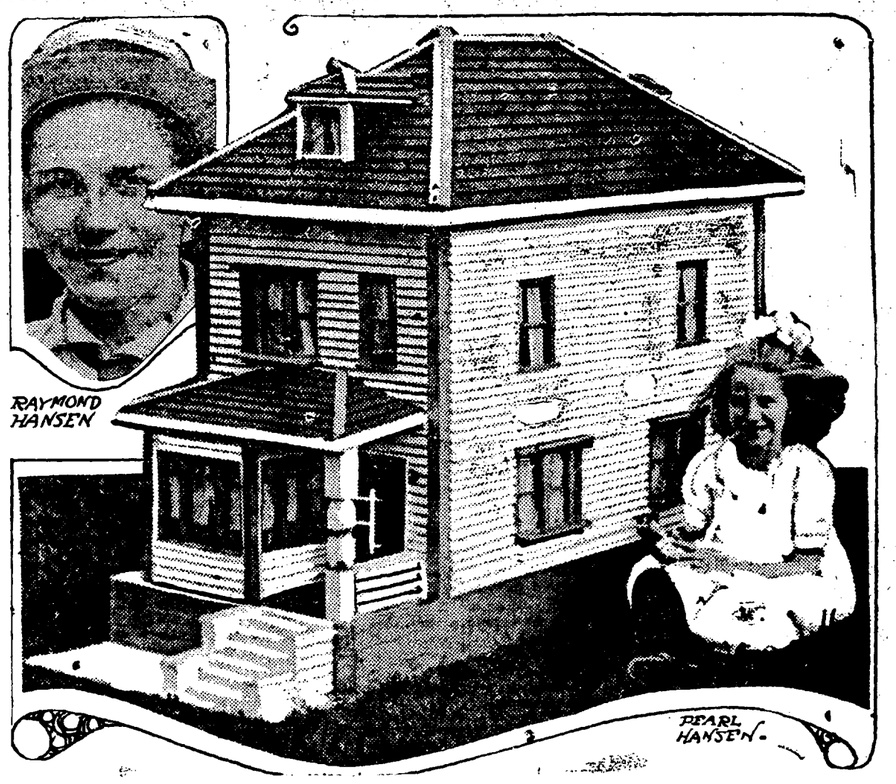
BOY IS NEW SANTA CLAUS; WILL QUIT MILK WAGON JOB FOR FORTUNE AS TOYMAKER.



Ray Hansen, the boy Santa Claus, his sister, Pearl, for whom he built his first dollhouse, and his latest creation which has made such a hit with toy dealers they are making him big offers.

Cicago, Aug. 15.—Let us introduce the boy Santa Claus.

His name is Ray Hansen and he is 18.

His regular job is driving a milk wagon. But he will soon quit the milk business because in him the world has discovered a genius.

He makes dollhouses and makes them so well toy dealers are beating a pathway to his door with big offers. He looks to be on the way to a fortune for he makes just the kind of playhouses dealers have been looking for.

He is liable to become so famous in his line some day he will not have to actually make the houses, but just design them.

This boy Santa Claus never took lessons in drawing or manual training. He just works out his own ideas.

His latest "mansion" is a two-story building with sun parlor, gable windows, real doors on real hinges and a shingled roof.

WEATHER MEN CAN'T EXPLAIN HEAT SPELL

Uncle Sam's Sharks Are Mystified and Can Give No Cause.

(By Frederick M. Kerby.)
(Staff Special.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—The heat and drouth that have hurt American crops are just as much mysteries to the government's weather sharks as to the farmers!

If you can tell why dice fall as they do, you can answer the question, why this weather? say the experts at the weather bureau.

Official crop reports show the composite condition of all crops on Aug. 1 was 4.1 per cent. below that of July 1 and 9.3 per cent. below last year's final.

Crops are below the average everywhere except in the North Atlantic states. Compared to last year, they average: Corn, 90.9 per cent.; wheat, 64.6; oats, 82.7; barley, 82.3; rye, 85.2; buckwheat, 108.2; potatoes, 101.4; sweet potatoes, 95.6. Heat and drouth are the causes.

"But why the heat and drouth?" I asked Prof. Alfred J. Henry, forecast division, weather bureau.

"If you have looked through a kaleidoscope, at the different patterns formed by turning it, you can get some idea of how the weather acts," he said.

"We know that weather conditions in general are the results of the atmospheric currents that flow about the earth's surface.

"But to say why it is hot at any particular time and place or why it does or does not rain is impossible."

Prof. Henry showed how United States weather comes mostly from the west and goes across the country until it loses itself in the Atlantic. He explained the mysteries of "high" and "low" areas—a "high" being a center of high atmospheric pressure and usually causing a lower temperature, and a "low" being a center of low pressure and causing higher temperature.

A low pressure area, Henry said, acts as a partial vacuum, drawing in warm currents of air and causing a consequent rise in temperature.

Air, heated at the earth's surface in the tropics, has a tendency to rise and flow outward like the spray from a fountain. Incursions of this heated air coming north cause the heat waves. Northern breezes coming down from the Canadian northwest relieve the hot spell.

Weather predicting consists in the accurate recording of actual weather conditions and forwarding the information by wire to other stations. Thus a storm, or "low" or "high" pressure area is recorded, its movement watched, and predictions made for its effect 24 hours or more in advance.

Bald-Heads This Will Grow Hair

"Vola-Vita," One of the Greatest Scientific Hair Discoveries Ever Known.

The most important discovery ever made on hair is Vola-Vita. It has been proven by actual results. It will prove it in your case, too. Vola-Vita has proven that hair falling, grayness and dandruff nearly always result when one or more of the principal elements of hair are missing. Hair has now been analyzed and its elements known. When these missing elements are restored, all hair and scalp troubles vanish and hair is compelled to grow luxuriantly.

This is why Vola-Vita has done many remarkable things to hair and scalp. It positively restores the missing elements. That's why it forces hair to grow luxuriantly on heads shiny bald for years. It stops dandruff and itching positively. Hair stops falling because it increases wonderfully in vitality.

Vola-Vita scientifically restores the vigor of the color glands. That's why it absolutely restores the original color to gray, faded or bleached hair, no matter what that original color was. It is not a dye. It contains no alcohol to dry up the hair secretions and ruin hair vigor. Use it and that'll prove it. Start now. Satisfaction guaranteed.

"Vola-Vita" is sold at all drug stores in 50c and $1.00 bottles, or sent direct by Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size.

Resigns Rather Than Take Up Blind Tiger Affidavits.

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was sumitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Dreier & Meyer Drug Co.'s Sells It.

Three New Monster Freighters from Lima Works Received.

The motive power of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road received quite an addition yesterday when three large new locomotives were received from the Lima Locomotive works. They are freighters of the H-10-S stoker pattern, equipped with superheaters, and are numbered 105, 106 and 107. They have four pair of drivers and when in working order weight 250,000 pounds. They are also equipped with the hand screw reverse gear, the latest thing in its line, and taken as a whole are considered the acme of locomotive construction. One of these locomotives is out on its trial trip this afternoon, taking a string of freight cars to Richmond. They have a rating of 2,900 tons. All will be in service before the end of the week.

STATE DELEGATES NAMED.

Fort Wayne Federation of Labor Named Them Last Night.

The most important action of the Fort Wayne Federation at the meeting last night was the selection of the delegates to the convention of the Indiana State Federation of Labor on September 25. The election resulted as follows: President Joseph D. Shaw, Secretary A. C. Berger, J. J. Berger, J. J. Perrey, P. R. Bell and F. J. Schwanz; alternates, C. N. Feltz, H. J. Hoeltje, J. C. Hahn, C. B. Huston and S. W. Burgoon.

President J. D. Shaw also appointed the following visiting committee: F. J. Schwanz, of the sheet metal workers, chairman; Joseph Seimon, of the moulders; Joseph Lambert, also of the sheet metal workers; William Mensing, of the musicians, and T. B. Burberick, of the carpenters' local.

Credentials were also ordered issued by the federation to J. J. Perrey and P. R. Bell, volunteer organizers in the Fort Wayne district, and two of the best workers in the central body. The federation seated five delegates from the iron workers' local and received a number of reports from the various organizations.

PORTABLE RAILWAY TRACKS.

(London Railway Gazette.)

On the eastern front, light railways have been used to a very large extent. Most of these lines have been improvised, and as the track is sent to the front in sections, the work of building has in many instances been extremely rapid. The extent to which these light railways are being used in the Russian campaign may be gauged from the fact that among the booty captured within the last few days by the victorious Russians no fewer than twenty miles of track were taken in the course of a single operation. Exact details are lacking regarding the transport of a heavy ordnance in this way, but it may be said that even a very narrow gauge light railway affords a better means of conveyance than the apologies for roads in Galicia and Poland, which during winter and spring are seas of the thickest and heaviest mud. As the light railways are not intended for high speed, heavy guns can be carried so long as the individual axle load is kept within bounds, and the distribution of the weight over a number of vehicles is just as feasible on a light railway as on a standard gauge line, where heavy artillery is invariably conveyed in such a manner that the weight is spread over a number of wagons forming an articulated whole.

"DICK" THOMPSON VERY SICK.

Col. R. G. Thompson, who for several years has been connected with the immigration department of the Northwestern road, with headquarters in Chicago, is in a bad way physically, with little prospect of recovery. Colonel Thompson suffered a nervous breakdown while visiting in Fort Wayne three or four months ago and went to Hope hospital for treatment. Later he was taken to a private sanitarium, but received no benefits from the treatment. Sunday, at the colonel's request, he was taken to Chicago, Mrs. Thompson and Harry M. Quicksell accompanying him. A year ago Colonel Thompson weighed 225 pounds; today he weighs only 92 pounds. Colonel Thompson was connected with the passenger department of the Wabash over a quarter of a century, his last service being the capacity of district passenger agent.

DIED ON OPERATING TABLE.

The remains of Engineer George Meany were buried at Ashtabula yesterday, the funeral being attended by many Nickel Plate employes, including two or three from Fort Wayne. Physicians were preparing to perform an operation on Mr. Meany for quinsy last Friday and he died suddenly before the operation began. For a number of years the deceased was employed on the Nickel Plate, first as fireman and later as engineer, residing at Bellevue. He was visiting his parents at Ashtabula when taken sick. He is survived by the widow, two children, his parents and several brothers and sisters. Mr. Meany was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the B. L. E.

C. MOORE IS CROSSING WATCHMAN

Finley Beam, who attained his seventieth birthday last July, retired from the position of watchman at the Calhoun street gates of the Nickel Plate this week and has been succeeded by C. Moore. During the twelve years Mr. Beam presided over that crossing there was not a single accident and so courteously did he perform the duties that he made a friend of everyone who came in touch with him. As stated by The Sentinel several months ago, Mr. Beam has purchased land in the south and will move upon it.

NEED ONLY MECHANICS

"We are not hiring any but machinists and machine operators at present," said Employment Agent W. F. Melching, of the General Electric works, this morning. "Up to the present we have been taking on laborers and all other classes," he continued, "but only skilled workmen and a few wiremen will be hired until the new shops are up and equipped."

MASHED THUMB WITH HAMMER.

Fred Keifhaber, of the General Electric works, had the misfortune to smash the end of his left thumb by a misdirected blow with a hammer this morning. The flesh was bursted on both sides of the nail, and Dr. F. J. Schulz had to take several stitches in dressing the wound. Mr. Keifhaber refused to lay off on account of the injury, and resumed work when the injured thumb had been dressed.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

F. A. Opatz, foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, has left for Chicago, where he will attend the convention of the Master Blacksmiths' association. The convention will be held at the Hotel Sherman, and will be in session for three days. Mr. Opatz has attended several of the association's meetings.

BERT BAUGHMAN OUT

Nickel Plate Engineer Bert Baughman, who has been sick for the past year, some of the time in a serious condition, is now on the road to recovery. He is a member of the Nickel Plate safety committee, and yesterday, for the first time in many months, he surprised the other members by appearing among them and taking part in the discussion.

EAST ON BUSINESS

Tonight E. A. Wagner, chief engineer in the transformer department of the General Electric works, will leave for Pittsfield on business for the company. Later he will go to Schenectady and will not return home until the latter part of the week.

BROTHERHOODS MAY SPURN NEW PROPOSAL

Washington, Aug. 15.—As the heads of the railroad brotherhoods assembled at the white house at 3 o'clock this afternoon for their second conference with President Wilson there were expressions of doubt among officials close to the situation over whether the men would accept the proposal of the railroads made to the president earlier in the day by the managers' committee.

In effect, the railroads proposed, it was understood, to grant the basic eight-hour day and leave the question of its application to be decided by some commission.

The heads of the brotherhoods said before going to the president's conference that they themselves could not pass upon such a proposition but would have to refer it back to the general committee of union heads in New York. As they entered the president's room, however, the union leaders gave outward evidence of pessimism.

"Let us pray," was the cryptic response of A. B. Garretson, head of the conductors, when asked what he thought of the outcome.

"I pray to the Lord this conference will be favorable," said Lee, of the conductors.

It was indicated that the optimism which prevailed yesterday had mysteriously been dissipated and that all recognized the situation as more grave.

GOMPERS MAKES REPLY TO SENATOR SHERMAN

Washington, Aug. 16.—Samuel Gompers made reply today to Senator Sherman who yesterday denounced him in the senate as a "public nuisance" during a characterization of certain labor leaders as arbitrary and tyrannical.

"It is impossible for me to be arbitrary and tyrannical," said Mr. Gompers, "for their are no powers vested in the president of the American Federation of Labor. I never have attempted and do not now attempt, as I have not the power, to deliver the vote of any man or group of men."

THE DEATHS

ADDITIONAL COURTS

WANT RECEIVER NAMED.

Judge Yaple Will Take up Restaurant Case Wednesday.

Judge Carl Yaple will hear in superior court Wednesday morning the petition of Mattie Wright, waitress, that the National restaurant be thrown into the hands of a receiver benefiting her, she claims, in sum of $67, alleged to be due from Jerry Herron, proprietor.

Hans Meland, attorney for the waitress and former cashier for Herron's place, brought his client into court on Tuesday, but Leonard Bane, attorney for the restaurant owner, asked that the case go over. The waitress asks the receiver be named on the ground that Herron is inexperienced as a restaurant proprietor and that its business will slump, preventing her getting money due.

Husband Drunkard, Claim.

Alice Lung has filed suit in superior court asking a divorce from Daniel Lung. Cruel treatment and runkenness are charged to the defendant. Colerick & Hogan are attorneys for the plaintiff.

For Ohio: Probably showers tonight and Wednesday; warmer.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure is low in northern and western sections, and relatively high over the south Atlantic states. A disturbance of slight intensity is centered over southeastern Kansas and another one of similar force but of greater area, covers northwestern Canada. During the last 24 hours scattered showers occurred over portions of the central valleys, Tennessee, Georgia, west gulf states and in the southern portion of the Rocky mountain region. Moderate temperatures prevail in all sections of the country. Since Monday morning the temperature changes have been unimportant in southern and western districts but in northern and central sections to the eastward of the Rockies the weather is somewhat warmer.

LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP

Switch Engine Boiler Cuts Loose in Bedford Round House.

Bedford, Ind., Aug. 15.—The boiler of a switch engine owned by the Monon railroad, exploded in the round house here today, but the only damage was to the engine and building. The steam dome and whistle were blown high in the air, making two large holes in the roof. The engine had been placed in the round house shortly before the explosion.

George S. Fowler, who is at his summer camp, Torch lake, Michigan, with his daughters, Miss Harriet Fowler and Mrs. Peter Pickard and family, is seriously ill.

NO TAKERS FOR A TEN-DOLLAR BILL

Denver, Col., Aug 15.—United States District Attorney Tedrow has a $10 bill nobody seems to want. It's a perfectly good "sawbuck," too.

The bill belongs to James Barnes, who has disappeared. Barnes gave it to two men who were illegally selling inter-state railroad tickets, and it was used as evidence against them.

Tedrow sent the bill to Washington to be turned into the United States treasury. The treasury department sent it back.

Now, Tedrow will ask a local court for an order to deliver the money to the clerk of the United States court where it must remain five years before it can be taken by the treasury department.

BASEBALL ATHLETICS

Local Aggregation Has Dropped the Name of Blackbirds.

"Another team like Butler? Well, I should say so," says Mart Cleary. The Portland team, managed by Nate James, will invade the private scoring field of the Clearyites next Sunday. The team is a fast, hard hiting outfit and will bid for a victory over the local tossers. The team is composed of veteran players and contain some names among the lineup that are old friends to the fans here. The first on the list is Manier, of the Ohio State league; Kelly, of the minors for ten years; Walls, with Dayton Central league club; James, formerly catcher for Clarksville, Tenn., in the Kitty league, and Biersdorfer, with Fort Wayne Central league club, and many other fast ones. This team is no misfit bunch but a ball team of class. Last Sunday the Portland team beat the strong Urbana team by the score of 2 to 0. The management thinks that this booking is the best the team has had for a long ime.

For some time there has been a mixup concerning what the name "Blackbirds" means, and for the benefit of the fans who still are in the dark it is announced hereafter the name of the team will be "The Fort Wayne City Team." All correspondence will reach the manager if addressed to Mart Cleary, care of Cleary & Bailey, Fort Wayne, Ind.

CARDINALS MAY GET BODIE.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Roy Cerhan and a large sum in real money have been offered the San Francisco club for Ping Bodie by the St. Louis Nationals, it was learned here Monday. Manager Wolverton will probably decide Tuesday whether to part with the slugger on these terms. Bodie will not be delivered to any purchaser until spring.

CITY TENNIS FANS FORM ORGANIZATION

New Association Plans Big Things for the Fans of City.

The city has at last an organization that will help boost the popular game of tennis. Last night in a meeting the organization was born with Dr. M. F. Porter, jr., as the president, John Berghoff vice president, Clinton Burton secretary, and Edgar Bradley treasurer. Many things were talked over by the members in attendance, one of importance was the plan to see the park board concerning the courts of Swinney park for the association. George Baihle and W. A. Lansche were selected to meet the park board and make every possible effort to get the consent of the board for the courts and to ask the board to assist in the construction of a temporary club house. The above members will also look into the matter of securing a place to play indoors this winter.

The association plans a city tennis tournament from Aug. 21 to Sept. 4. M. C. McDougal, of the Fort Wayne Country club, offered the club's courts for part of the tournament and the association accepted the kindness of Mr. McDougal and will play part of the meet at the club.

Among the many things to confront the new organization was the matter of dues and the association is holding the matter under consideration until the club is on a firmer basis.

The association wants a large membership and all those who are desirous of becoming members are requested to get in touch with President Porter or Secretary Burton.

The committee for the city tournament are George Baihle, chairman; L. H. Popp, C. Burton, J. Berghoff, Erick Gawehn. The tournament will be open to all Fort Wayne players and the committee wants everyone who can wield a racket to enter.

BIG ARENA FOR WHITE-WELSH GO

Seating Capacity to Accommodate Nearly Fifteen Thousand People.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 15.—The contract for the arena in which the lightweight championship twenty round bout between Charlie White and Freddie Welsh to be held here Labor day, was let Monday. The structure is to have a seating capacity to accommodate 15,000 people. Both of the principals are arranging to secure cottages here for headquarters in which to finish training.

Freddie Welsh and Charlie White took preliminary workouts in Denver Monday. They go late this week to Colorado Springs for the final fortnight's training for their fight there on Labor day afternoon. Both declare they never were in better shape and appearances bear them out.

"They all fall if they get hit hard enough," said White, announcing that his famous left hook was itching for the Englishman's jaw.

"I've fought White three times and don't fear him," Champion Welsh stated.

BAN SUSPENDS BOBBY.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 15.—Bobby Roth, Cleveland's star pinch hitter, who won Monday's game for the Indians from St. Louis when he clouted a home run in the ninth, was suspended indefinitely Tuesday by President Ban Johnson, of the American league.

Roth was suspended for throwing a pop bottle into the stands Monday, after fans had showered him with glassware. Danger of Roth hitting a spectator was the reason given for the drastic sentence.

Elmer Smith took Roth's place in right field against the Detroit Tigers Tuesday.

GETS SENSATIONAL PITCHER.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15.—"Red" Donovan, who has made a great record with the Winnipeg club of the Northern league, was purchased Saturday by the Milwaukee club. Donovan won ten of his last thirteen games.

Where are the stars of yesteryear?

What has become of the old champions who made history on the cinder path and the athletic field?

Circle the globe and you'll find them scattered here and there. Many have run their last race. Scores have succeeded in the commercial world while others have failed. Fickle fortune has played many pranks with the old guard.

Johnny Owens, the first amateur to run 100 yards in 0:09 4-5, is one of the country's foremost automobile builders, with headquarters in Detroit and New York.

Bernie Wefers, once king of sprinters, is coach of Columbia university athletics.

Bartow S. Weeks, the old Mercury Foot sprinter, is a supreme court judge in New York.

Wendell Baker and Harry Brooks, sprinters, are officials of one of the biggest telephone companies in the east.

Martin Sheridan, the greatest all around man of them all, is a detective-sergeant in the New York police department.

Charley McIvor, the old 100-yard title holder, owns the famous Buena Vista vineyards in California. Charley Stage, the former 100 and 200-yard champion, and later an umpire in the National league, is a lawyer in Cleveland.

Dan Kelly, the former speed marvel, is in business in Portland, Ore.

Warren Schutt, famous Cornell distancer, is in the consular service in Europe. John Paul Jones is working in Chicago. Mel Shepard holds a job in the customs service and John Flangan is a farmer in Ireland.

Alf Ing, old-time hammer-throwing champion, is a piano tuner. Johnny Hayes, the London marathon winner, is a playgrounds director in New Jersey. His great rival, Dorando Pietri, runs a spaghetti restaurant in Carpi, Italy. Over the door is a sign which reads, "Fatto da Piedo," which, translated, means "Made by the feet"—the restaurant, of course.

Lewis Tewanima, the great Indian distance runner, is back among the Hopis, trying to help his tribesmen with the knowledge he acquired at Carlisle. Gwinn Henry, the sprinter, is in business in Texas. Jim Crowley, the fifteen mile record holder, is a bricklayer, and Henry St. Yves is an aviator.

Ira Davenport, Chicago's famous middle distancer, spends his time on his ranch in New Mexico. Simon Gillies, the weight thrower, is a movie actor. Tom Tunney, veteran sprinter, is a New York police captain, and at present in command of the bomb squad. Dutch Arnold is shouldering a gun in the regular army, and Alexander Grant, the former two mile record holder, is a professor at Hill school.

PROS ASSEMBLE FOR WESTERN OPEN MEET

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15.—The Blue Mound Country club course, where the western open championship will be played with the special accompanying events from Tuesday to Friday, is filled with professionals from all parts of the country, arriving to get their shots tempered to the course, over which few of them have played.

Some fine scores were recorded on Sunday. Jack Hutchinson, of Pittsburg, landed premier honors of the day by doing the course in 68, four under par and only three above the course record.

The program for today is an amateur-professional best ball match.

Late entries received Monday by Secretary E. Hoover Bankard, jr., brought the field for the western open championship at the Blue Mound Country club of Milwaukee up to eighty-three. Jim Donaldson, of Glen View, was one of the late comers. Up to last night Tom McNamara, last year's champion, had not entered.

The field is stronger than that of last year, but the Chicago representation is small, only thirteen local professionals being listed. The amateurs from Chicago are Kenneth Baldwin, F. D. Burgess, Robert Markwell, F. R. Blossom, J. Code, W. E. Code, G. Code and R. A. Bowker.

SHE'S A FREAK SWIMMER.

New York, Aug. 15.—With her brother, weighing 265 pounds, tied on her back so that he could hardly move, Miss Ida Elelonsky, 17 years old, of New London, Conn., swam three miles down the North river Sunday, and was prevented from finishing her swim to the battery only by an accident to a rowboat and launch that was accompanying her.

One Minute Talks with Ballplayers

JACK COOMBS, BROOKLYN DODGERS:

"Baseball is a peculiar game. The life is hard and the game fast but there is a fascination about it that just holds one. There is something that comes of matching your eye against a sweeping curve ball that can be found in no other game in the world. Once you get inside the flannels you hate to lay them aside.

"We Brooklyn men should win this pennant. We have a fair lead and at the clip we are traveling should not have much trouble in holding our position.

"We arrived at the top through good baseball and no one can down us. However, there are fifty-five games to play and accidents may cut us down."

"STUFFY" M'INNIS, PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS:

"The one best way for the young fellow breaking into the major leagues to get along is to keep his eyes and ears open at all times.

"The bench is one great training school. The men there discuss the weakness of every player on the opposing team and before long you learn that So-and-So can't hit one kind of a curve but will murder another, and that Bill Whoosit feeds on a fast ball that's high and that certain other batters murder certain kinds of curves but can't touch others.

"Youngsters who listen carefully learn these points and when they get out on the field they can use the knowledge to good advantage."

THIS BIRD IS SOME HURLER.

Marinette, Mich., Aug. 15.—What is believed to be a record in baseball history was accomplished Sunday when Pitcher Ewick, of a Crivitz baseball team in an eleven inning game with Marinette struck out twenty-five men. The contest resulted in a 2 to 1 victory for Crivitz.

MANY CARS ENTER GRAND PRIX RACE

DePalma, D'Alene, Chevrolet and Other Famous Drivers to Take Part.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—At least thirteen cars will attempt to qualify for Saturday's Speedway Grand Prix race in the elimination trials to be held today, Thursday and Friday on the Maywood course, and on past performances all should attain the requisite speed of 100 miles per hour. As entries do not close until midnight tonight, several additional nominations are expected by the promoters.

The entries to date include the two Packards, Ralph De Palma's Mercedes, Dario Resta's Peugeot, Eddie O'Donnell's Hoskins' Special, two Duesenbergs, which will be driven by Wilbur D'Alene and Tommy Milton, two Sunbeams, which will be tooled by Josef Christiaens, and Frank Galvin, Louis Chevrolet's Frontenac, a Hoskins Special, to which Eddie Rickenbacher has fallen heir, and a Peugeot and Hudson, both nominated by Ralph Mulford in a telegram received from Colorado Springs yesterday.

Starter Wagner on Scene.

Starter Fred J. Wagner already is here to take charge of practice and most of the drivers will be out on the course this afternoon tuning up their cars for the eliminations. Resta, who left New York yesterday, and Christiaens, who has been in Washington on diplomatic business, are expected to establish camp at the Speedway this morning. Their cars arrived yesterday. Galvin chaperoned the Sunbeams in their trip from the east, and the English cars look better than ever. Their aluminum bodies have been polished by a silversmith and they shine like the shield of a Roman gladiator.

Eddie Rickenbacher, who failed to check in as scheduled yesterday, also is expected today. C. C. Hoskins, the wealthy young Kansas City sportsman, is backing Rick's mount, which is a duplicate of O'Donnell's car. Mulford has shipped the Peugeot and Hudson from Colorado Springs, where he participated in the Pike's Peak hill climb last week.

Chevrolet Here With Car.

Louis Chevrolet arrived from Detroit with the Frontenac yesterday and participated in practice with De Palma, D'Alene, Milton, and Galvin.

As an added feature of Thursday's practice and eliminations, De Palma will attempt to lower his American one hour record of ninety-four miles with the Mercedes or one of the Packards.

The contest board of the American Automobile association has been asked to make Saturday's race an A. A. A. championship event in order that the drivers who finish inside the money can be credited with points which will go toward determining which of the speed kings shall receive the $14,500 hung up by the Bosch and Goodrich companies. Chairman Kennerdell has agreed to this provided the distance of the final heat is increased from 50 to 100 miles. The promoters now are considering the feasibility of making this change.

SPORT DOPE

A contemporary says Clark Griffith is not uneasy in seventh place. There are certain advantages in having once managed the Cincinnati Reds.

Scientists tell us the distance between the earth and sun is 93,000,000 miles. This is just about the distance Freddie Welsh tangoes every season.

The snipe season in these parts is very short. The sniper season, however, runs twelve months of the year south of the Rio Grande.

Yougotta hand it to Rowland's White Sox for versatility. Those birds can play big league ball and bush league baseball equally well.

Now that Ray Schalk has made two bum pegs in one game we won't be surprised to learn of the Athletics copping a double-header.

Some golfers would make very poor teamsters judging by their drives.

NOTICE.

The Colts baseball team will hold a special meeting Wednesday night at the corner of Leith and Calhoun streets at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to be at this meeting.

RUSSELL BOY AND THE LARK LOSE IN HEATS

Two Favorites in Columbus Meeting Distanced in Second Heats.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—Two first choices, Russell Boy and The Lark, were distanced in the second heats of their races Monday at the opening of the Columbus Grand circuit meeting. The other favorite, Derby Custr, won his event in straight heats. Russell Boy was slightly favored over Judge Ormonde for the 2:05 pace, but the winner turned up in Lelia Patchen. It was all Russell Boy in the first heat, but he made a fatal break turning into the stretch in the second mile and was outside the flag when it fell.

Straight Sail, four-year-old mare, owned by J. C. Small, of Cincinnati, came on the Grand circuit for the first time, and was always in front in the three heats of her 2:18 trot. Summary:

REVELL CALLS EVANS A PERFECT GOLFER

But His Acquaintances Think He is Often Too Considerate.

What constitutes the perfect golfer?

In an entertaining and instructive book entitled "Pro and Con of Golf," Alexander H. Revell, one of Chicago's "merchant princes," and one of the most famous gentlemen golf players in the country, has answered the question.

In paying a personal tribute to Chick Evans, the author says:

"I have in mind a young man who is a golf player, the antithesis of all that pertains to conceit, ego or vanity, one whose youth and success in the game could make any of these quite possible, and, if not overdone, partially excusable.

"Many of his acquaintances think he has lost important games through being too considerate of friends who were following the game. In other words, the winning of a match apparently did not seem so essential as the need for recognizing and having a pleasant word with friends of high or low degree.

"Were these friends bankers or caddies, it was just the same. Naturally, this properly called out a difference of opinion on his action, in pivotal situations. Nevertheless he apparently could not help it. How important the occasion mattered not.

"The disposition and the gentleman asserted themselves and seemed unconsciously, or otherwise, to be above the game and its winning, however much he desired to win.

"This is not a reflection on others who did not or do not follow his attitude—

"For after all is said and done,

A game is a game—

Fairly played is fairly won.

"But let us ask a question. Is it because of his genial, pleasant manner, as well as other good qualities, that he numbers his friends and well wishers by the thousands?

"He may lose an important contest, but he holds and multiplies his friends, and these friends will be his long after the winning or losing of a contest shall have been quite forgotten."

War to Affect Marriage Age in Australia.

DR. T. F. RYAN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 10.—Independence, bred through the absence of men, will keep Australian girls from early marriages for a number of years to come. This is the opinion of Dr. T. F. Ryan, Melbourne, one of the most prominent medical men of the Antipodes.

"The Australian girl, unlike her American sister, figured little in business life until the war," he explained. "Now she has been forced to take the place of the clerk, the cashier, the salesman and other positions of responsibility. She has suddenly discovered that she can be independent.

"Coupled with this will undoubtedly be the prevalence of nervous diseases among the men returning from the wars.

"The result will be that young women of the future will not marry before thirty."

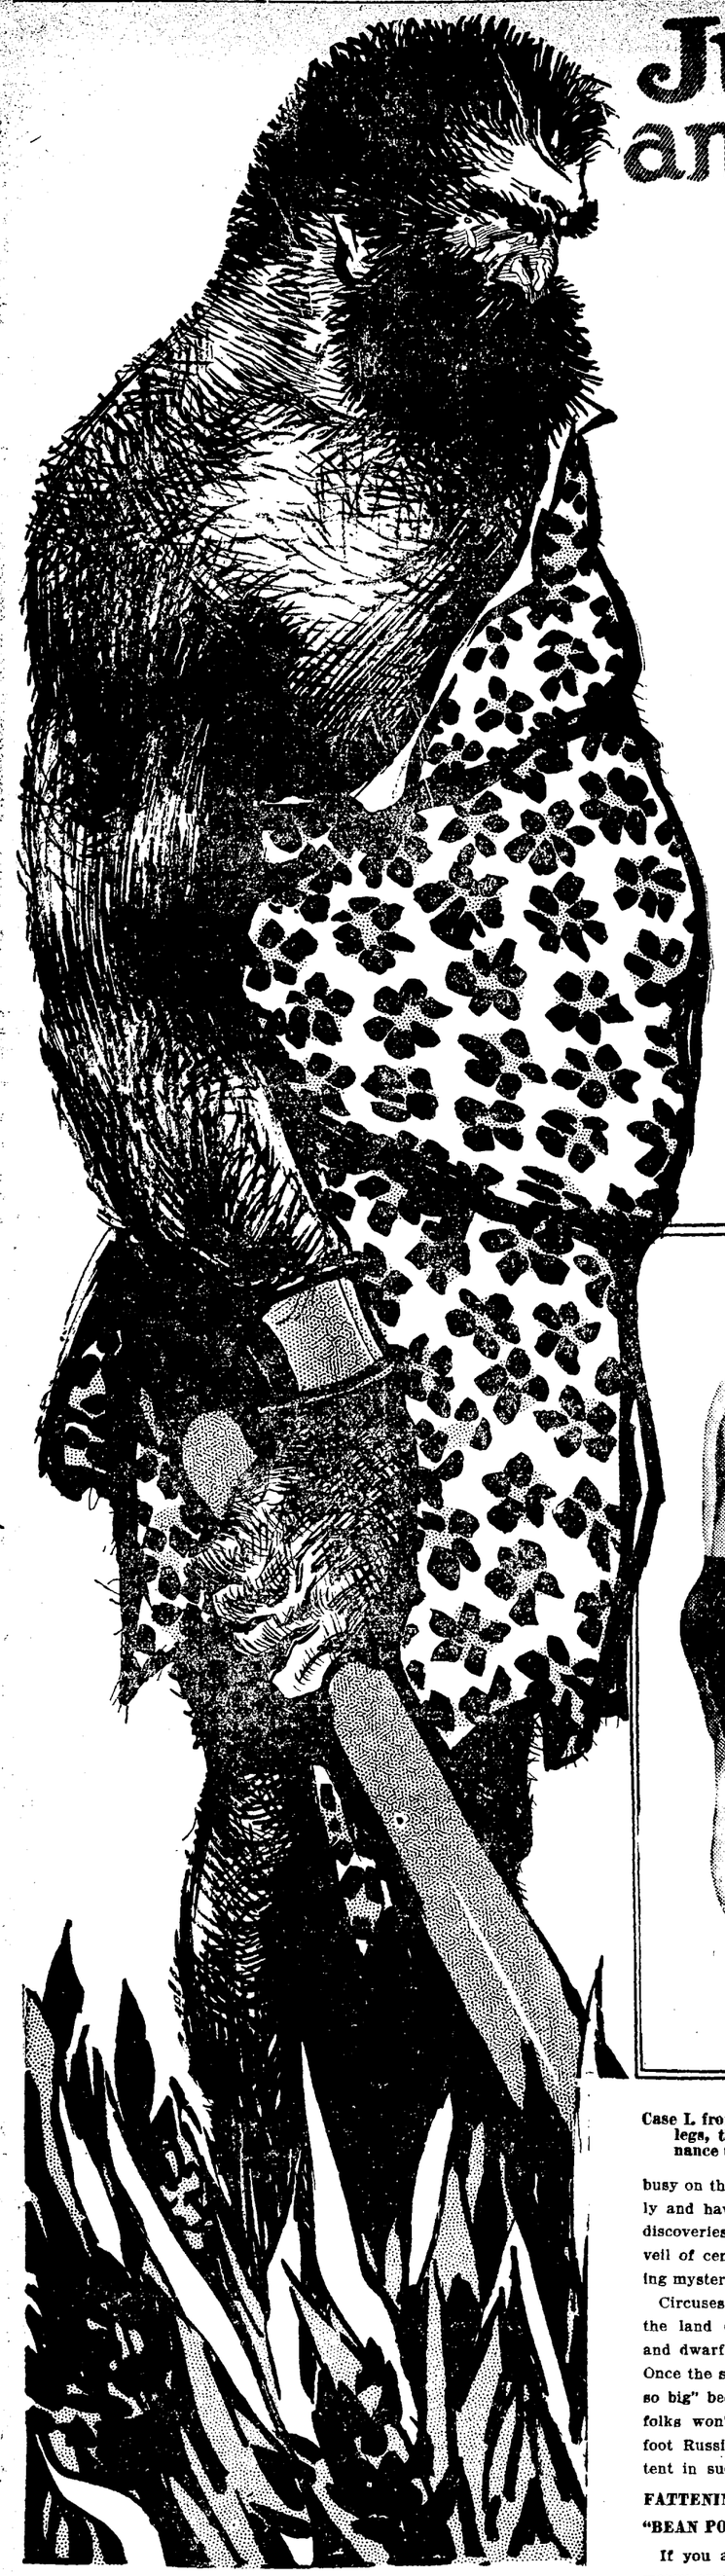
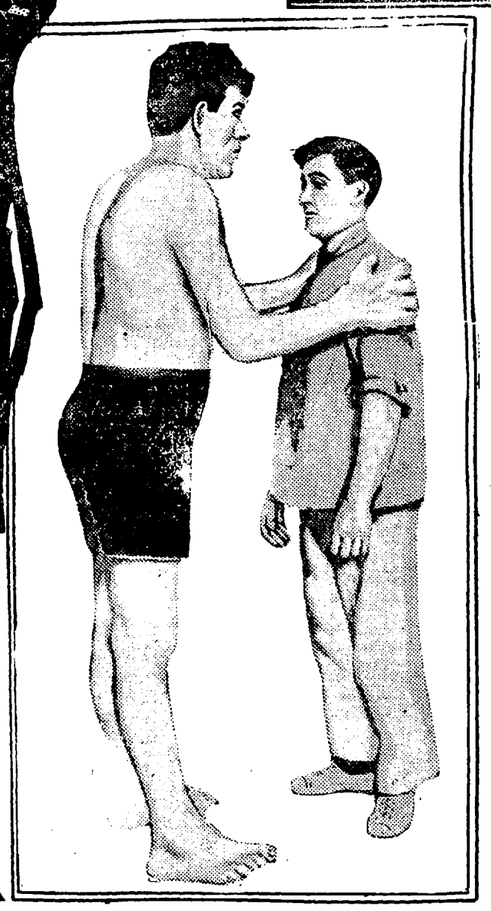
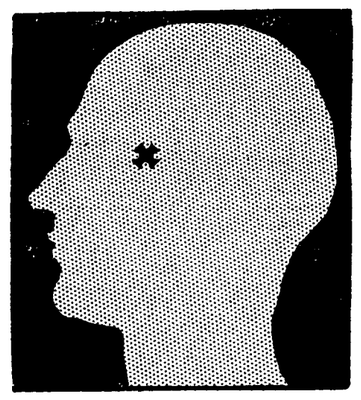
Just Why We Have Giants and How We Can Control Our Height



Dore's famous painting, "David and Goliath," demonstrates the huge size of the world's best known giant, who, in the light of the latest scientific discoveries, may not have been so powerful as he was reputed.



Case L. from Cushing, illustrating the length and weakness of the arms and legs, the huge head the enlarged joints and the lionlike cast of countenance that result from the disease.



Outline of the human head showing the location of the tiny pituitary gland, which recently has been found to be responsible for the rate of bodily growth.

Some Amazing New Things About Giants

Giantism is the result of a diseased condition of a gland.

The mammoth and the runt owe their freakish build to the irregularities of one little gland, the pituitary, near the base of the brain.

Surgical treatment of the gland can make you as short or as tall as you want to be.

The familiar disease, "lion face," which is so distressing and fatal, is nothing but giantism, developing after the individual's arrival at maturity.

Giants are unhealthy, weak and short lived.

How would you like to be a giant?

The chances are you won't want to be after you have read the paradoxical facts about a giant's real weakness, but supposing you do want to grow way up, anyway. Surgeons can probably fix it for you.

Also, if you want to be a dwarf and do all sorts of funny pantomime stunts on the vaudeville stage, your doctor can probably arrange that for you, too, providing of course that you are still adolescent.

The surgeons have been quite busy on this theme of giantism lately and have made some startling discoveries. They have lifted the veil of centuries from the fascinating mystery of the side-show freaks.

Circuses in the future won't do the land office business in giants and dwarfs that they used to do. Once the secret of "what makes 'em so big" becomes general property folks won't gape up at the eight-foot Russian grenadier in the side tent in such wonderment and awe.

FATTENING THE "BEAN POLE."

If you are a parent you needn't worry any more about your gangly legged, overgrown son who threatens to develop into a loose-jointed giant. If your little girl doesn't grow and stays scrawny and puny, far beneath normality, you needn't give up in despair and sit hopelessly down to resignation.

Surgeons can control the growth of youth now. The one thing that used to be considered immutable after life and death was growth. Whatever nature thought wise couldn't be helped. If she designed you for a "runt," a "runt" you were; if she laid you out for a "bean pole," a bean pole" you were. But not ony more.

Lately, quite lately, the wise men of the scalpel have located the gland that governs a child's growth, and by the treatment of this tiny vessel have brought surgical skill to the place where it can hasten or retard development.

Near the base of the brain is the pituitary gland, so small and so insignificant of appearance that science heretofore always wondered what good it was anyway. Most physicians suspected the thyroid, a much more familiar gland, of being responsible in freak cases for the ludicrous growth of the human body. Then Dr. Harvey Cushing began his investigations and research work. He has demonstrated beyond peradventure that the thyroid gland is innocent and the pituitary guilty.

He is the foremost authority upon giantism in the country and in his book, "The Pituitary Gland and Its Disorders," he describes the disease which giantism really is.

What! You didn't know giantism was a disease? Oh, yes, and so is dwarfism!

The towering giant is in reality puny of strength and in all probability is doomed to a short life. Modern Goliaths aren't even as strong as modern Davids. Their feet are swollen, their joints wabbly, their inn'ards distorted, their brains sluggish. Impotency is usually their lot.

The pituitary gland secretes a fluid that supplies to the muscles and bones their government of growth. If this gland becomes unduly excited in the years before its owner reaches the age of 14 years giantism will result, unless surgical attention is called.

The over-activity of the pituitary body will shoot the human youthful skeleton into enormity. The bones take on colossal proportions. The head expands to tremendous size. A monster results.

WHEN THE BODY CRUMBLES.

For a period following this burst of developing speed, physical prowess may result. The individual will quite likely be able to perform herculean tasks. But not for long. Soon the dread disease "acromegaly" sets in and the huge farmework totters to its decay.

If the zeal of the gland is not manifested until after its owner is mature, great growth will not result, since the bones, hardened and set by the arrival of physical maturity, will prevent expansion, but a more distressing and painful ailment will set in. The gland maintains its flow of exciting secretions and something has to give.

Fearful pains start in the head, the brain becomes heavy and dull, the whole countenance takes on a leonine expression. The lower jaw becomes heavy and obtrudes massively; the lips become thick and coarse; the tongue swells and takes on clumsiness; the hands become spadelike, stiff and inactive; the feet puff up to many times their normal size; the blood pressure gets lower and lower. A general feeling of lassitude and lack of muscular control spreads over the body and extreme weariness is felt at all times.

GLAND OFTEN REMOVED.

This is "acromegaly," the inevitable result when the pituitary gland oversecretes after the bones are hardened.

In the old days there was nothing to do but let nature and ill nature as well take their courses. But today, when acromegaly or giantism sets in, surgeons merely open the way to the pituitary gland and regulate it either by controlling its secretion or by removing it entirely.

Case I. as described and pictured here is taken from Dr. Cushing's book. It is that of a young giant who grew rapidly and uniformly, arriving at a considerable elevation above six feet and within the neighborhood of 200 pounds when he was 19 years old. Great strength was his and he had all the powers of an athletic giant. His pituitary gland was overactive, but when he arrived at the age of 20 or thereabout it ceased secreting and he enjoyed his Brobdingnagian proportions. For some inexplainable reason the gland resumed its activity after a few years with the inevitable result that "acromegaly" began and the young man lost all of his strength and health. He went into a mental and physical decline, and after a few years of distressing existence died.

If science in those days, when the poor fellow was growing in such phenomenal fashion, had known what it knows now it could have arrested his unnatural growth and have saved his life by the mere removal of his pituitary gland.

Case XXXII. is that of a monstrous giant who developed with amazing rapidity in his youth, but who never realized the strength which should have been his had he been a normal man. Acromegaly set in and its weakening effects became apparent at once. The facial expression became almost imbecilic because of the workings of the disease upon his mentality, his extremities grew out of proportion to his height and he became so weak that he had to depend upon two chairs for an upright position.

The removal of his pituitary gland would have halted this enormity had medical skill been cognizant of its opportunities during his youth.

The opposite of giantism, dwarfism, can be prevented by the stimulation of the gland. Lack of development is due to the slothfulness of the pituitary body. Its normal functioning can be accomplished by a special treatment which surgeons now practice.

There are some babies whose health will not permit an operation of so serious a nature as a pituitary treatment. For these frail little children science has a medicine which does much to hasten or retard their growth. It is obtained from special laboratories established in conjunction with large packing houses. From slaughtered animals an extract of pituitary secretions is taken and put into a preparation which will, when taken internally, do much to restore health and normality to the diseased gland in human beings.

Tricks Played by Man's Memory

Let me see, what was that name?

Haven't we often heard that phrase, or one very like it? Doesn't our memory often play us tricks and cause us to forget things we know perfectly well—"as well as I know my own name," in fact? There is a reason for this; for nearly every case of loss of memory we can find a cause. This discovery has recently been made and is one of the most important advances which psychology has made in the understanding of our mental life.

Forgetting, of course, in one sense, is loss of memory. How, first of all, do we remember things?

It has been assumed by physiologists that every event we experience leaves its trace in the nervous substance of the brain, in much the same way that a "trace" is left upon the phonographic record by the scratch of the recording needle; if the impression is "vivid"—that is, if it leaves a deep impression upon the nervous system—then we remember it; if not, we forget it. As the brain disintegrates with age the memories become weak. This is the doctrine usually assumed for the storage of our memories.

But psychologists have lately complained against this materialistic view of the facts. Of late years Professor Henri Bergson, in particular, has protested that such an explanation does not explain. We believe that memory is a mental thing, not a material one. To be sure, there was always the difficulty, in accounting for memory, that the brain cells, which are constantly being replaced, would eliminate the contained memories, just as new wax cylinders would efface the record, but scientific men "got round" this by assuming that the new cell as it was deposited somehow "inherited" the traces of the previous one and thus retained the memory. There was no evidence that it actually did so, but it was "assumed" to. The strong protest against this materialistic view found support in the fact that practically none of our memories is ever lost, but all can be renewed under suitable conditions and by proper means. Our memory is potentially almost perfect.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 15.—Wall street's firm belief in an amicable settlement of the railway labor controversy was expressed in the general strength of the market at the opening today. Reading was the foremost feature, gaining additional two points on numerous large transactions. Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and New Haven were among the other active and strong rails. Munitions, equipments, coppers and miscellaneous specialties kept more moderate pace with this movement but Behlehem Steel gained another ten points. United States Steel hesitated slightly but came forward later. Sale of a single block of Anglo-French 5s aggregating $366,000, featured the bond market.
The market broadened in strength in all quarters during the morning, being accelerated by statements purporting to give the main details of the new British loan. Rails, Industrials and unclassified specialties moved to higher levels. U. S. Steel attracted attention on its advance of practically a point to 89¼, its top price of the year, and within a fraction of its maximum for almost six years. Shares of independent steel companies also were strong and shipping stocks gained 1½ to 2½ points. International issues ruled the irregular bond market dealings in the Anglo-French notes assuming extensive proportions.

NEVER MISSED MONEY PUT IN BABY BONDS

A young woman who some time ago started to buy a Baby Bond each month stated that she never felt cramped by setting that amount aside from her wages, although it has previously seemed impossible to "make ends meet" without laying aside one cent of her earnings. So many other investors testify to similar facts that it seems proven that the Baby Bond-a-month plan may be adopted by anyone no matter what his or her income may be. Baby Bonds are in $10 denominations, are secured by first mortgages on local real estate and bear six per cent. interest. There are also some $500 bonds with the same security and the same rate of interest. For further information see the Wildwood Sales company, Shoaff building.—Advertisement.

CANADA WILL OFFER NO WORK TO A GERMAN

Dick Hauschindler Tells the Court That He Had No Chance in Dominion.

There is no chance for a German in Canada, Dick Hauschindler told Judge Kerr in police court Tuesday morning in answer to the question of why he was in Fort Wayne.

"Every place where I would tell them that my name was Hauschindler they would ask me to move on," he said. "I would not go back on my name and there was nothing to do but get out. They won't give a German work up there. I am going to work in Fort Wayne."

Hauschindler, who was taken out of a boxcar Monday night and charged with vagrancy, said he had been in Canada three months. He arrived in Fort Wayne Sunday, he told, and was promised work with a construction company here. He was turned loose to get a job.

Ewing Not in Court.

There was no response to the call for case No. 6234. James Ewing, charged with assault and battery on his wife, could not be found.

"Oh, yes, I remember; I had him let out of jail," Judge Kerr said. "His wife called at my office and asked how she was going to keep her five little children while her husband waited in jail. I did not know how she was going to do it, so I sent for the man. He promised to earn money for the family and I let him go. I thought it was the best thing."

The case was continued and Judge Kerr will investigate as to how well the husband is working in pay for his freedom.

No Fine in Trespass Case.

Mattie Wright Manama was not fined after being convicted of trespass. She was ordered not to enter the property of Jerry Herron again, however. She had admitted going into the restaurant of Herron at 1513 South Calhoun street last Friday against his orders. She wanted money he owed her, she told.

Mrs. Wright Manama has asked a receiver be appointed for the place because of back pay she claims is due her. She threatens damage suit because Herron had her arrested on a trespass charge.

Joe Case and Floyd Smith, saloon proprietors charged with selling liquor to three minors, were granted continuance of their cases again. Their hearing is set for Sept. 9.

No Lights Cost Fine.

John Weiss was fined $1 and costs because he allowed his automobile to stand on Columbia street Sunday night with no lights in front and no license tag at the rear of the car. He said his lights were broken.

"Here is where I start a precedent of fining every man brought in for not observing the common rules for automobile traffic," Judge Kerr said. "All safety guards required by law must be flung out, both day and night."

Brown Case Postponed.

The case against Coleman Brown, charged with assault and battery on his mother-in-law, was postponed again and is set for hearing on Aug. 25. The assault occurred two weeks ago.

Other Police Court Cases.

Charles Garver, charged with wife neglect, will not be tried. Prosecutor Hoffman said that records show payments being made in circuit court.

Case against Henry Havert, charged with child neglect, was ordered dismissed.

Robert Thurston was fined the maximum of $3 and costs on a charge of profanity. He was cursing near the transfer corner when arrested Monday.

Wesson Warfield (colored), who has been in Fort Wayne "since the circus," will be held for trial on Thursday on a drunk charge. He came to Fort Wayne with the Sells-Floto show and remained.

Minnie Cannon (colored), charged with intoxication, was given an opportunity to leave town.

Adam Ferrel was fined $1 and costs on a profanity charge. Case against Alvin Wade, charged with disorderly conduct, will be continued indefinitely.

The following were fined $1 and costs on vagrancy charges: Edward Mitchell, John Hull, Robert Murphy. The following were allowed to leave town after being convicted on charges of vagrancy: Albert Porie, John Miller and Arthur Miller.

Cases of Gerald Jackson and Harrison Ludlum, charged with loitering, were continued until Aug. 16 and 21, respectively. David Monestosky, Italian youth who claimed that he was a newsboy on Coney island until two weeks ago, when he started west to see his sister in Chicago and who was charged with vagrancy, was released.

GARRETT NEWS.

Garrett, Ind., Aug. 15.—Mrs. Frank Merica and Miss Marian, of Garrett, and Miss Mae Sheppard, of Fairbury, Ill., left Monday for Petoskey, Mich., where they will remain several weeks for the benefit of Miss Marian's hay fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Near and their guest, Mrs. Dix, were over Sunday visitors at Rome City. Mrs. Dix returned to her home at Paulding, O., today after a week's visit here.

H. A. Gingery spent Monday in Lagrange on business.

Manager D. B. Van Fleit and several of the telephone employes will go to Lake James today to attend the picnic given by S. E. Van Fleit, of Auburn, to the telephone employes of the two counties over which he has jurisdiction.

Miss Anna Gehring returned to her home at Butler Monday evening after a brief visit with her cousin, Mrs. Charles Lindoerfer.

Miss Esther Lott and Tony Bapst spent Sunday at Rome City.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Boehler, who have been spending several weeks at their summer home on Lake George, returned to their home in this city today.

Tim DeBrular was home from Gary over Sunday. He likes his work there very much, but says there is no place like Garrett and the home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Strause and daughter, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Mager, returned to their home at Frankfort, Ind., today.

SAYS HUGHES QUIET ON VITAL QUESTIONS

Senator Taggart Fears He Has Not Had Them Called to His Attention.

(BY WILLIS S. THOMPSON.)

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Mr. Candidate Hughes has been so quiet on the vital subjects involved in questions propounded by thirty-seven leading writers of the country that Senator Thomas Taggart fears he has not had the questions called to his attention.

To be sure that he does not overlook them, the country being most anxious to hear his answers, Senator Taggart has read the questions into the Congressional Record.

While Mr. Candidate Hughes is making his trip across the country, which he describes as a "fool's paradise of temporary prosperity," the "prosperous fools" he talks about are being treated to a scoldfest by the candidate, who abuses all that Woodrow Wilson has done and offers nothing constructive.

So these writers asked if he would have sent the United States navy to protest against the invasion of Belgium; if he would have followed the Lusitania's disaster with war on Germany rather than diplomatic negotiations; if he would have prevented the shipment of munitions to warring nations; if he would urge universal compulsory military service; if he would have recognized Huerta; if he now favors intervention and war with Mexico; if the will state his specific complaints against the federal reserve; if he still opposes the income tax as he did when governor of New York.

Questions Are Repeated.

All these questions Senator Taggart has had inserted in full in the Congressional Record, and the newspapers in each city where Candidate Hughes appears repeat the questions. These newspapers also point out that as an enthusiastic advocate of votes for women Candidate Hughes did not go to the trouble to register and vote when he had the chance in New York. That Woodrow Wilson went to New Jersey to register and returned to vote in favor of women. In fact, it is pointed out that Mr. Candidate Hughes has not cast a ballot in any election since 1910, since he was given a life job on the supreme bench by President Taft. For a man who speaks so enthusiastically on the sacred duty of all Americans to vote, it is strange that he should have neglected for seven years to exercise his sacred right as a citizen. Probably he had forgotten to what party he belonged until the Chicago convention nominated him.

WILSON GUARDED ON RAIL PEACE OUTLOOK

Roads Have Proposal to Accept 8-Hour Day, With Application to Be Worked Out by Others.

Washington, Aug. 15.—After the committee of railroad managers had another conference with President Wilson early today, it became known that a proposal was under consideration by which the railroads would accept the principle of an eight-hour day and leave the working out of its application to the interstate commerce commission or some body formed for the purpose.

Secretary Tumulty issued the following statement:

"The president spent an hour and a half this morning with the representatives of the railway management. After the conference he said that it was impossible as yet to report on the results; all that he could say was that a very candid and honest discussion was in progress about practicable bases of settlement."

Just before 3 o'clock the brotherhood leaders moved to the white house to renew their conferences with the president, who, it was said, would lay the railroad managers' proposal before them.

Lee Declines to Talk.

The committee of railroad managers reached the white house to continue their conference with President Wilson at 9 a. m. Elisha Lee, the managers' chairman, refused to say whether a counter proposal for submission to the employes had been drawn up.

The members of the committee looked haggard from their prolonged meeting, which lasted until an early hour this morning. They straggled into the white house by twos and threes. All were ready for the president when he entered the conference room promptly at 9 o'clock.

"At this stage of the proceedings, I can say absolutely nothing," said Mr. Lee as he entered the white house. He carried a portfolio of papers.

After an hour and a half of conference with the president, the managers committee left the white house by a side door, hoping to evade questioners.

Elisha Lee, the chairman, said: "We are entirely in the president's hands and have agreed with him that he will make any statement."

While the managers were at the white house the brotherhood leaders conferred among themselves and awaited the call for their conference. The general opinion among them was that the president was putting the burden of averting a strike up to the railroads and that the prospects for a settlement were good.

Having agreed practically to the principle of arbitration, the brotherhood leaders inclined to the view that the controversy could be settled by the railroads granting the basic eight-hour day and arbitrating the demands for time and a half for over time or by eliminating the double compensation features and having the railroads make a flat agreement to put in the eight-hour system.

The attitude of the managers as they went to the white house was said to be one of yielding something. They had

FUNERALS OF FIFTEEN WRECK VICTIMS HELD

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 15.—The number of dead in the street car accident at Echo last week was today increased to 27, when it was reported to the coroner that Mrs. Hanna Rager, of South Fork, Pa., had been instantly killed and her body removed.

The funerals of ten victims were held today from the little United Evangelical church at Tanneryville, and of five others from churches in nearby towns. All the persons buried at Tanneryville were relatives. Four of the injured still in hospitals here were said to be in a serious condition and their recovery was not expected.

WHEAT IN ANOTHER SENSATIONAL JUMP

Reports of Crop Damage Send Chicago Market Skyward.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The wheat market made another sensational advance on crop damage reports today. December options forty minutes before the close had advanced an extreme 8 cents from $1.38 to $1.46 per bushel. September less active, rose from $1.35, where it sold early today to $1.42.

The advance began with the statement of a well-known expert that the latest reports showed that the recent government report which sent prices up 11 cents a few days ago had not exaggerated crop damage. On top of this came a statement by the Manitoba, Canada, minister of agriculture, to the effect that the damage was worse than had been previously estimated. Bernard Snow, an expert whose name has been mentioned in connection with a possible federal investigation of the rise in prices, said:

"Today's market is a full answer to any questions which may have arisen in the minds of federal officers as to whether there has been anything artificial in the questions of the grain market."

Whether a federal investigation is to be made into the recent rise in the price of wheat and the subsequent advance in the price of bakery goods will be decided at a conference late today between Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission, and Charles F. Clyne, United States district attorney. Mr. Clyne said today that the heads of several large baking concerns had discussed the situation with him and made threats of an immediate advance in prices.

Italian Truck Farmers at New Orleans Are Put Under Arrest.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 15.—John Lavacke and Frank Montfre, Italian truck farmers, were under arrest today on suspicion of sending blackhand letters to several of their countrymen.

Police authorities said they believed Lavacke was the "collector" for an organized gang of blackhanders. Montfre said the detectives, is suspected of being the writer of many black hand letters. A letter recently received by Orazio Campagni, a farmer, demanded $2,000 under penalty of death if he refused. The letter, said the police, was marked with a skull and cross bones. A heart penetrated with a dagger and a coffin, under which were printed in Italian the words "If you do not give this money you will be killed." Lavacke, the police said, arranged to collect $300 as a compromise between Campagni and the sender of the letter when he was arrested. None of the letters were sent through the mails.

ALL CHILDREN UNDER 16 YEARS NOW BARRED FROM NEW JERSEY

New York, Aug. 15.—The epidemic of infantile paralysis has taken a turn for the worse despite the continuation of unusually cool weather. During the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m. today 163 new cases of the disease and 39 deaths were reported to the health department. This is an increase in new cases of nearly 100 per cent. over yesterday's figures, which showed 95 were stricken with the plague and 31 were killed. Failure of physicians to report cases over the Sunday holiday was suggested as a reason for the increase in today's figures. There have been 6,532 cases and 1,463 deaths.

New Jersey's state wide quarantine against the plague was put into effect today. Special guards were placed at all terminal points to prevent children under sixteen years of age from entering the state and local restrictions of a most stringent character were ordered at the various coast resorts.

Six Thousand People Will Be Fed at Democratic Barbecue.

300 GALLONS OF MILK ARE ORDERED

Congressman Cline Writes That He Hopes to Be in Attendance.

Ten quarters of beef, 300 watermelons, 3,000 ears of corn and 300 gallons of milk are on the fare of the democratic barbecue committee having in charge preparations of the feast which will be spread before party workers at Robison park Saturday, August 19, when John A. M. Adair, of Portland, democratic candidate for governor, will be the principal speaker.

Miles M. Morris, of Fort Wayne, has been employed to serve the barbecue crowd and it is anticipated that at least 6,000 persons will attend the democratic meeting.

Fort Wayne has yet to hold its first big barbecue and unusual interest attaches to the ensuing event aside from its political features. Members of the barbecue committee will hold a meeting Tuesday night at the office of Dr. A. C. Emrick, chairman, to discuss final plans.

Cline May Come.

Cyrus Cline, congressman, has written Martin H. Leucke, democratic district chairman, that he will attend the barbecue, Saturday, unless conference reports are on the legislative program for that day. Congressman Cline has shown a decided interest in the barbecue from his post in Washington. Earl Peters, secretary to the congressman, is now in Fort Wayne, assisting committee.

PRICE OF POTATOES HITCHED TO BALLOON

Spuds Are Retailing for $1.60 Per Bushel and May Go Higher.

The price of potatoes apparently has been hitched to a balloon, as it is soaring up out of sight. Tuesday the retail price advanced ten cents on a bushel and the "Irish spuds" are now retailing at forty cents a peck or $1.60 a bushel. Commission men and others interested in markets, declare that it is a safe bet that the price will even go higher.

Just a year ago at this time potatoes were selling to the consumer for almost half this price. They could be purchased anywhere in the city from eighty to ninety cents a bushel.

The potato crop locally is nearly a failure. The early crop especially has been very short and farmers declare that the yield per acreage this year is about forty bushels. Last year the acreage was between 140 and 160 bushels.

The late crop does not give any better promise at the present time. A farmer on the market Tuesday morning declared that it would not be any better than the early crop. He stated that he had examined several hills and found that on an average there are only four and five potatoes. Besides the few that are there are very small.

Farmers attribute the cause of the shortage in the crop to the extremely hot weather which was experienced this summer. They state that the heat dried up the stalks, thereby killing the growth of the plant underneath the ground. Bugs also were very numerous this year, another cause for the failure.

Commission men state that reports from the potato districts in Michigan are to the effect that the crop there will also be short. In fact the general outlook of crops in Michigan are very poor this year. The peach crop, which was a bumper last year, will only be about a third as large. Apples will also be scarce, according to the report.

GETS OFF EASILY FOR SHOOTING WIFE

Noblesville, Ind., Aug. 15.—William R. McCoy, a farmer who pursued his wife across a field and shot her as she turned onto the premises of a neighbor a few days ago has been sentenced to the Indiana state prison for from 2 to 14 years for assault and battery with intent to kill. He pleaded guilty. In addition he was fined $500. Mrs. McCoy is recovering.

Was Levying Tribute in Violation of Civil Service Laws.

San Juan, Porto Rico, Aug. 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Mayor Ratele Rivera Esbri, of Ponce, the second largest city of the island, may be removed in view of his conviction on a charge of conspiracy to violate the civil service laws of the island in forcing political contributions from teachers in the public schools. He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 and costs. He has appealed.

At the trial it was proved that the mayor had admitted the debt of $28,000 of the unionist party of Ponce, of which he was a leader, was almost paid off through the system of levying assessments on teachers and other municipal employes.

Revised Measure is Given Approval by Democrats in Caucus.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The revised administration revenue bill which is expected to yield $205,000,000 annually was ready today for submission to the senate. It was finally approved by senate democrats in caucus last night as amended by the finance committee. The bill probably will be submitted to the senate tomorrow and taken up for consideration as soon as the shipping bill is disposed of.

Features of the revised measure are a sur-tax on incomes, an inheritance tax, a 10 per cent net profit tax on the manufactures of war munitions, a 5 per cent tax on manufactures of materials entering into munitions, a corporation license tax, liquor taxes and miscellaneous taxes.

The measure retains the house provision for a non-partisan tariff commission, provides for a tariff on coal, tar, dyestuffs and medicinal derivatives and increases the taxes on wines over the house bill.

SMITH TO HAVE HIS LEG PROPERLY SET

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Art Smith, the Fort Wayne aviator, accompanied by William Bastar, came to Chicago from San Francisco yesterday to undergo an operation to properly set his leg, broken in an accident while Smith was flying in Japan. He has entered the Hahnaman hospital and an X-ray examination made by Dr. H. R. Chislett revealed that the leg had shortened and it will be necessary to operate to mend the bones.

Smith will next invade ustralia, according to a statement made by him here today, but has reached no decision when he will leave. Smith's parents, of Fort Wayne, are with him here and expect to remain for several days. It is not known whether he will return home with them.

JAPAN AND CHINA ARE PREPARING TO MIX IT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—The attack by Chinese troops on the Japanese garrison at Cheng Chiatun in eastern Mongolia, as reported from Tokio, disturbs official circles here today as the possible forerunner of difficulties between the two powers. No details are known, but the fact that Japanese reinforcements are being rushed there has led to the belief that Japanese may intend a more vigorous handling of disputes as to her jurisdiction in China.

The situation is further complicated by the fact that a new railroad, branching off from the Mukden-Harbin line, is being constructed through Chen Chiatun to eastern Mongolia and it is possible that Japanese railroad jurisdiction may be held to apply to the city.

BELATED ENTRIES COME.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Belated entries received today brought the field for the western open golf championship, which starts at the Blue Mound Country club in Milwaukee, Thursday, up to eighty-three. The field is stronger than that of last year. Tom McNamara, last year's champion, is not entered.

BRITISH GAIN NEW FOOTING

Land in German First Line Trenches in Thiepval-Pozieres Front.

KAISER GOES TO EASTERN FRONT

German Monarch Goes to Inspire Men in Stemming Russian Drive.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Emperor William is again on the eastern front, where the Austro-German armies are struggling desperately to withstand the heavy strokes of the Russians in Galicia and Volhynia. In the latter region the opposing forces apparently are at a standstill, but in Galicia the onward sweep of General Brussiloff's forces is continuing with rapidity.

The Zlota-Lipa line, to which the Austrians fell back after the forced evacuation of their positions along the Strips, is apparently not destined to hold for any length of time. Petrograd today reports the Russians crossing to the western banks of the Zlota Lipa river at some points, thus menacing the flank of General von Bothmer's lines elsewhere along that stream. Further south General Letchitzky is continuing his advance below Halicz across the Bystritza-Slotovina line, while to the north the Russians are moving along the upper Stripa upon the new positions west of the Teutons' toll line.

The Germans did not long hold the trenches recaptured from the British northwest of Pozieres on the Somme front, according to London. The British war office today reports the clearing of the Germans from nearly all the trenches in that region in which they gained a footing Sunday. The French in the Verdun region have resumed their hammering tactics and, according to Paris, have recaptured German trenches in the Vaux-Fleury sector east of the Meuse to a depth of 100 yards along a 300-yard front.

Rome announces further advances for the Italians in the Carso plateau south of Gorizia. The official buletin chronicles the capture of Austrian entrenchments in that region and also positions farther northeast of Gorizia.

The Italian navy has lost one of its big dreadnaughts, according to a Turin dispatch through Paris, which tells of the blowing up of the 22,000-ton Leonardo da Vinci in Taranto harbor as the result of a fire. Of the crew 300 were drowned.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—After attacks of the greatest violence on the Somme front, continuing until late last night, the British obtained a footing in first line German trenches in the Thiepval-Pozieres front, the war office announced today.

Austro-German troops, under Gen. Count von Bothmer, are offering determined resistance to the Russian advance along the upper Stripa in northern Galicia. They have completely repulsed strong attacks in the Zborow-Koniuchy

TO CALL ADJUTANT GENERAL BY 'PHONE

If no word was received Tuesday afternoon from Indianapolis, Captain John C. Scheffer, of the local battery organization, intends to call the adjutant general at his office in the capital building late Tuesday afternoon in regard to the orders of mobilization.

The men who have joined the artillery in this city are anxiously awaiting the call and are becoming tired of laying around. However, they have not lost interest, but at any rate the orders will be greatly appreciated.

It is very evident that the war department expects to call battery D to service. The department is keeping Sergeant Lee Hensley, of the United States regulars, stationed here, and if the officials had no intention of calling the local organization they would not keep the regular service man here, it is believed.

WELCOMES CIVILIANS IN NAVAL TRAINING

Daniels Sends Greetings as Cruise for National Defense Begins.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Messages from Secretary Daniels welcoming more than 2,000 civilians participating in the naval training cruise for national defense were published today upon all the ships. The messages were as follows:

"Upon the embarking of more than 2,000 civilians who are to take part in the civilian cruise, I wish to convey to them the congratulations of the navy department that we can welcome them as the newest recruits of the first arm of the national defense. I am sure under the instructions which officers will give them their cruise will be of great benefit to them and their country."

THE ILLINOIS SAILS.

ALABAMA IS READY.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 15.—With civilians from eight southern states, including her crew, the battleship Alabama was expected to sail from here late today for a four weeks' practice cruise with the Atlantic fleet during which the volunteers will receive instruction designed to prepare them for naval service during war or in times of emergency.

LOCAL REPUBLICANS TO HEAR LESLIE SHAW

Harry G. Hogan, republican district chairman, announced Tuesday that Byron Sommers, Twelfth district secretary, and a party of Fort Wayne republicans would go to Huntington Wednesday to hear the Hon. Leslie Shaw, ex-secretary of the treasury, speak before a republican barbecue. J. E. Watson and Harry S. New, republican senatorial nominees, are also on the program. The Huntington trip will be made by auto.

Mr. Hogan states that a republican meeting will be held in Pleasant township in the Sheldon elevator office Saturday night. J. C. Newlin, W. C. Geake and Harley Sommers will be in charge.

SEPT. 2 IS DATE FOR WILSON NOTIFICATION

Washington, Aug. 15.—Formal notification to President Wilson of his nomination will take place Sept. 2. That day was definitely selected today when arrangements were made for the president to go to Long Branch, N. J., for the ceremony.

The president has already completed his speech of acceptance. The notification speech will be made by Senator James. The president probably will remain at Long Branch until he leaves for Hodgensville, Ky., to speak Sept. 4 at the Lincoln ceremony.

TAKES UP NEW WORK.

T. Lee Miller Will Be Made Vice-president of Traction Company.

T. Lee Miller, of New York city, an expert electrical engineer whose appointment as vice-president and efficiency engineer for the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company was announced some weeks ago, is here to take up his new work. He will have an office in the Lincoln Life building. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Cornell university.

SHIP BLAST AFTER FIRE

Magazine Explodes Before Imperiled Warship Can Be Flooded.

Paris, Aug. 15.—The Italian dreadnought Leonardo Da Vinci caught fire and blew up in the harbor of Taranto, Italy, and 300 of her crew were drowned, says a Turin dispatch to the Petit Journal. The date of the disaster is given only as a day in August.

The fire, says the dispatch, was discovered in the dreadnought's kitchen and spread rapidly. The captain immediately ordered the magazines flooded, but one magazine exploded before this could be done.

The vessel was turned over on her side and a large number of the crew were thrown into the sea. It is believed that the battleship can be righted and refloated.

The Leonardo Da Vinci was a sister ship of the Conte Di Cavour and of the Giulio Cesare and was launched in October, 1911. Her displacement was 22,000 tons and she was 576½ feet long, 91¾ feet beam and carried a total complement of 897 men. Her main battery consisted of thirteen 12-inch guns and her secondary battery to stand off torpedo attack was composed of eighteen 4.7 inch guns. Her engines were of 24,000-horsepower designed to develop a speed of 22.5 knots.

DEUTSCHLAND'S DYES ARRIVE IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 15.—The first consignment of dyes brought from Germany by the submarine freighter Deutschland has been received by a coloring company in this city and constitutes the first shipment of the kind to reach this city from German manufacturers since the beginning of the war. Other dyestuff users have received bills of lading for some of the Deutschland's cargo, which is estimated to have included about 200 tons of dyes valued in excess of $1,000,000. It is reported that high prices are demanded for these dyes, but one of the consignees here said that it was absurd to believe that fabulous profits will be realized on their sale. He declared that the cost of the dyes in Germany is at least twice what it was before the war.

PIGEONS FLY AGAINST WIND TO LAFAYETTE

Over two hundred homing pigeons representing the loft of the members of the Old Fort Homing club, were released at 7:30 Sunday morning, with Lafayette as their destination. The birds had to fight a stiff wind all the way and consequently their speed was low. The winning bird made a speed of 801 yards a minute. The rest followed close behind. The time of the arrival to the various lofts was as follows: E. Lenz, 11:06; H. Kellermeyer, 11:08; O. W. Anderson, 11:11; C. W. Oetting, 11:13; A. Menefee, 11:19; E. Braun, 11:27; S. Nahrwold, 11:26; R. Eggeman, 11:25; O'Rourke, 11:27; C. H. Volmerding, 11:33; A. Roudot, 11:45; J. Schilling, 11:46 and 31 seconds; A. W. Berger, 11:46 and 51 seconds; H. Beach, 11:48; C. Minser, 11:49.

Ft. Wayne Would Starve in Month's Time, 'Tis Claimed

Fort Wayne could live reasonably comfortable for about one month in the event of a railroad strike. After that it would begin to starve.

However, there would be fresh meat for only a few days and no doubt it would be necessary to apportion it after the German style, in small daily rations. The packers, the wholesale grocery concerns and the storage houses began Tuesday to look into their supplies and are unable to give accurate estimates as to the length of time their supplies would last in case of a tie-up of the railroads.

Retail grocers are said to be understocked, due to the high prices and raises in a number of food products. The sugar supply is said to be low. The same is true of the supply of canned goods, inasmuch as canned goods are only beginning to come in. The supply of flour is scarcely normal.

One dealer estimated that in his opinion all the groceries would be exhausted in one month's time. The coal supply also would not last long.

In case of an emergency a large quantity of goods in storage never meant for home consumption could be used, it is said.

RAIL SITUATION IS CAUSE FOR CHANGE

Might Be Called Upon to Preserve Order in the Event of Strike.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Orders for the remaining mobilized units of the national guard to proceed to the border have been suspended by the war department. No official explanation has been made, but it is known that the delicacy of the railroad strike situation has been the moving consideration.

The suspension of the orders to the troops, which would have moved 25,000 men to the border, should not be taken as an indication that the president's negotiations with the railroad brotherhood and the railroad managers have taken an unfavorable turn, but is a measure of caution.

It was considered highly undesirable that all the remaining guardsmen should be moved to the border while there was a possibility of a railroad strike in which they might be called upon to preserve order throughout some of the states. There is even the possibility that some of the troops in the event of a strike might be called upon to guard or operate mail trains and trains supplying the troops already on the border.

Order Not Revoked.

The suspension of the orders prevent the immediate movement of the troops from Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont and the movement of all other mobilized units which were to have gone forward as soon as they were equipped. Some of the Kentucky, Ohio and Vermont troops were about ready to go to the border. It is clear that the suspension is not a revocation of the orders and that if the railroad strike situation clears up the troops will be moved to the border line.

The official explanation of the change at the war department is that difficulties of transportation and equipment suddenly developed have made a delay necessary. It is known, however, that the railway situation is the real cause.

RECOMMENDED BY FUNSTON.

A telegram from Major General Funston made public by the war department disclosed that the general recommended the suspension of orders. His telegram follows:

"In view of possibility of a general railroad strike, I desire to call attention of the war department to difficulties that will follow in maintaining food supplies not only of troops in this department, but of the civilian population as well. These border states produce but little foodstuff except cattle. In view of foregoing I recommend that national guard organizations which are about to start for border stations be retained in their mobilization camps until such time as the question of a general strike shall have been determined."

REMAIN IN STATE CAMPS.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 15.—The order for the remainder of the country's militia, about 25,000 men, to proceed to the border, has been revoked according to announcement made at southern department headquarters today. The war department notified headquarters here that troops would continue to be held in their state mobilization camps.

OHIO BUILDING EN ROUTE.

San Francisco Structure to Be Towed 23 Miles Across Bay.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—The Ohio building, San Francisco home of visitors from the Buckeye state at the Panama Pacific exposition last year, was embarked today on a twenty-three mile voyage on San Francisco bay to its new site, where it will become the abode of the San Carlos Country club. The pavilion, which is 132 feet long and eighty feet wide, and which weighs approximately a thousand tons, will travel on scows and will be towed by ocean going tugs.

Spokane Female Voters Delighted With Speech by Hughes.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 15.—Charles E. Hughes yesterday addressed his first audience composed solely of women voters. They heard him in the first of two speeches delivered here. Mr. Hughes touched upon suffrage and his views concerning it, and reiterated to a large extent attacks on the administration made earlier at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

"I speak to you women as I do men," the nominee said. "I did not come here to make a different kind of speech from the kind I make to men. I know you are solicitous about the welfare of this country. There is no doubt that the heart of womanhood is patriotic all through."

Are "Fellow Citizens."

Mr. Hughes' salutation of the women as "fellow citizens" was applauded. He told them that he was interested in "good national housekeeping" and the means of effecting it.

"We must have in this country a different notion about the conduct of our business than we have had in the years gone by," he said. "This world is not the world of even twenty-five years ago. This world is a world that has found itself. It has found itself in the depression of a terrible Gethsemane.

"Horrible as is the spectacle of war, frightful as the waste, we cannot look upon them without realizing that a new Europe is emerging from this struggle. We cannot contemplate the conditions of the twentieth century without knowing that there is to be a new spirit in the United States if our prosperity is to have a firm foundation. It must be a spirit which demands efficient, impartial government in the interests of all the people.

New Patriotism Needed.

"It is easy for some people to become enthusiastic when the bands are playing and the flags unfurled; when they hear the strains of the national anthem and the crowds are around them. But we must have a new spirit of enthusiasm in the humdrum work of administration—the spirit of patriotism in the administration of government. That is the hardest lesson for popular government to learn. Every day in the year is a more severe test of patriotism than the Fourth of July."

Mr. Hughes declared that he considered a protective tariff essential to a continuance of prosperity. "The only chance that the present administration has to carry this election," he said, "is because the European war has saved it from a demonstration of its inefficiency.

URGES BLOOD SERUM TAKEN FROM PARENTS

Doctor Has New Plan to Immunize from Infantile Paralysis.

New York, Aug. 15.—Family physicians were advised today by Dr. Abraham Zingher, of Willard-Parker hospital, to try the use of "Normal" blood serum obtained from parents as a method of rendering their children immune to infantile paralysis. Many cases of this disease have been treated in Willard-Parker hospital during the present epidemic.

The theory on which Dr. Zingher and his associates are working is that the blood of the normal adult contains the anti-bodies which neutralize the virus of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis. Some physicians believe the presence of these anti-bodies is due to the fact that the parents have had the disease in an unrecognized form. It is stated that if the theory of the anti-bodies is correct, the blood serum treatment may prove as effective in preventing infantile paralysis as vaccination is in preventing typhoid fever.

DENOUNCES GOMPERS AS PUBLIC NUISANCE

Washington, Aug. 15.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was characterized as a "public nuisance" by Senator Sherman of Illinois in a digression yesterday from a Senate speech on the shipping bill.

"There is no more tyrranical, outrageous injustice than that of leaders who live on the sweat of other people's brows," said Senator Sherman. "Mr. Gompers is a public nuisance."

Referring to the Indianapolis and Los Angeles dynamite trials, Senator Sherman declared the federation president had "prostituted the cause of labor by using funds of laboring men for the defense of these criminals."

"Mr. Gompers never apologized to anybody," he continued, "but it was the most fortunate thing that ever happened to Mr. Gompers that he himself escaped indictment on these same charges.

"I've been owing this to Mr. Gompers for some time and I'm handing it to him now, and I'm responsible politically and personally."

MORE COTTON IS USED

Past Year's Consumption in U. S. Shows Marked Gain.

State Accountants Lodge Claims Against Former Incumbents.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Reports of the findings of the state board of accounts in the cases of five former city and township officials are now in the hands of Governor Ralston preliminary to being turned over to county prosecuting attorneys for collection. Sums aggregating $4,623.06 are alleged to be due the city and townships named.

The largest amount involved in a single case is in that of Henry J. Adams, former trustee of Nevins township, Vigo county. Examinations of his books for the year 1914 show that he owes the township $3,713.17, according to the state examiners. The papers show that the largest item is $2,490.52 said to be due the township by reason of substitution of cheaper material than was originally called for in a contract for the installation of a heating system in one of the township schools. Other items listed as being in error are alleged excessive expense accounts and office rent, amounting to $685.

Charles Miller, a former trustee of Harrison township, Pulaski county, is alleged to owe the township $125 by reason of errors in 1914, and $276.60 in 1913. It is charged that an architect was overpaid $276.70 for plans and superintending the construction of a school building. A reduction in the cost of the building did not result in a deduction fro mthe amount paid to the architect whose fee was to be based on a per cent of the cost of the building.

W. C. Jay, former city treasurer of Gas City, is alleged to owe the city $428.29 for the year 1915. In the list of errors is "excess salary, $393.29," and "excess compensation, $35." William M. Peugh, a former trustee of Monroe township, Washington county, is alleged to have overdrawn $60.90 for office rent and services in 1914. Walter Erbart, a former constable of Warren township, Marion county, is alleged to owe $19 for fines and costs unaccounted for.

ROCKEFELLER PLAN IS CALLED FAILURE

Colorado Springs, Colo., Aug. 15.—A wide range of labor topics is dealt with in the annual report of John McLennan, president of the Colorado Federation of Labor, submitted to the convention of the federation here today. The so-called "Rockefeller plan" adopted by the Colorado Fuel & Iron company is declared to be an unqualified failure.

The industrial commission and workmen's compensation laws of Colorado are severely criticized in some respects and praised in others. Conditions in the coal mining fields are reviewed, and a glowing report is given of the growth of unionism in the state and legislation deemed necessary is outlined. Referring to the effects of the recent coal strike, President McLennan says conditions have been improved, but declares these improvements are due not to the Rockefeller plan, but the result of publicity gained during the strike.

LOCAL ARCHITECT IS MERCHANT'S DESIRE

Asking that a local architect be employed to design the new Y. M. C. A. building in Fort Wayne a committee from the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association waited on A. F. Hall, heading the "Y" publicity division, Monday. The committee, composed of Col. D. N. Foster, Harry P. Fletcher and C. A. Niebergall, was appointed by the executive committee of the association.

The committee in charge of the Y. M. C. A. has so far picked no architect and no action has been taken that would put local architects out of the running. The merchants' association committee realizes the value of technical skill of men specializing in Y. M. C. A. designing, but held that a local architect should be employed as chief.

TURNS UP TO PROVE HE DIDN'T SUICIDE

Andrew Schwab, a former resident of Fort Wayne, committed suicide in Louisville, Ky., four years ago, so the papers said. His obituary notice was a very long one and it contined many nice things about the supposedly dead man.

Mr. Schwab is now back in Fort Wayne and is here to stay for some time. At present he is holding the position of night clerk at the Alt Heidelberg hotel.

SAYS WRECKED CAR BELONGED TO SISTER

John Harris Clears Mystery Surrounding Accident on St. Joe Road.

Scratches on the face and arms of John Harris, janitor of the Swinney block, led police to question him about the big Lexington automobile which turned over twice on the St. Joe road Sunday and hurled its seven occupants through the air, while it wrecked itself in the ditch.

Harris admitted that he was driving the machine at the time of the accident. The car belonged to his sister, Mrs. E. Pichlgren, of Gary. Harris said he had borrowed the machine for a little drive and had bad luck.

The seven-year-old boy who was buried under four of the men when the party was thrown out as the auto turned over, was George Harris, grandson of Charles Harris. The boy was not injured, Harris claims, and none of the party was hurt beyond bruises and cuts.

Other members of the auto party were Joe Hermes, Adam Kramer, Mat Harris and "two other gentlemen friends."

The big car is almost a total wreck. It was hauled into Fort Wayne Monday, where an attempt will be made to repair it.

Aged Man Improving.

August Cook, 75, of Sturgis, Mich., injured when the automobile driven by his son collided with a car piloted by William Koenig, of Woodburn, is thought to be improving, although his condition is critical. His back was injured when he was thrown against the front of the car as the two machines shocked together. His advanced age adds to the seriousness of his injuries.

Cook, who was first rushed to the Hope hospital and later taken to the home of a relative, Adam Campbell, 1420 Columbia avenue, was a resident near Fort Wayne years ago. He tells that he once plowed for corn over the ground where the Hope hospital now stands.

Condition of the aged man will govern the final charge to be made against Koenig by the police. Koenig will be tried in police court next week and if Cook recovers will be handled on a charge of assault and battery.

PRICE OF TOMATOES HIGH FOR SEASON

Tomatoes, which under normal conditions retail from 50 to 75 cents a bushel at this season of the year, are now retailing at much more, depending entirely upon the quality. Lack of rain has caused a shortage. With a few good rains it is believed the vines will be revived sufficiently to produce a large quantity. Potatoes also have increased in price. The short crop of late potatoes in various parts of the country is the cause.

BIG MOOSERS GO BACK

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Four former progressives who were active in party affairs in this state in past campaigns have accepted invitations by the republican state central committee to become members of the executive committee, which will be known as the campaign committee, according to announcement made here. The four are George Ade, author; W. C. Bobbs, Indianapolis, publisher; Neil McGreevey, Logansport, contractor, and William A. Endicott, Crawfordsville, business man. Other members of this committee are, State Chairman W. H. Hays, Sullivan; Secretary L. W. Henley, Indianapolis; William G. Irwin, Columbus; Charles F. Artes, Evansville; E. C. Toner, Anderson; V. W. VanFleet, South Bend, and W. J. Riley, of Benton Harbor.

Kaiser Goes to East Front.

"The emperor has again left for the eastern front," says an official statement issued here today, "after having visited, toward the end of his stay of several days on the western front, the army of the crown prince, and accompanied by the commander-in-chief various units behind the battle front.

GERMAN TRENCHES TAKEN

Paris, Aug. 15.—(12:30 p. m.)—French troops captured German trenches on a front about 300 yards long and 100 yards deep north of Chapel of Sainte Fine, at the intersection of the Fleury and Vaux roads, on the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector last night, says the war office statement today. On the Somme front, the French artillery was very active at Belltoe, Estres and Lihons. Elsewhere the night was calm.

Italian troops have entered the suburbs of Tolmino, which is under continuous shell fire according to a despatch to La Liberte from Turin today. The Austrians, says the despatch, are evacuating the city.

ITALIANS NEAR TRIEST.

Geneva, Aug. 15.—The Italian advance guard, moving southeast from Gorizia, is within 13 miles of Triest, whence the greater part of the Austrian fleet has sailed for an unknown destination, according to a telegram from Bucz, Switzerland, today.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE CONTINUES.

Petrograd, Aug. 15—The rapid Russian advance in Galicia continues. Russian troops are crossing to the western banks of the Zlota Lipa and the Bystritza-Zoltvina and are advancing along the upper Stripa, the war office announced today.

NEW REVERSE FOR AUSTRIANS

Rome, Aug. 15.—(Via London, 3 p. m.)—On the Carso plateau and to the east of Gorizia along the Isonzo front the Austrians have suffered further reverses at the hands of the Italians, today's official statement says. Austrian entrenchments in both these regions were captured.

BRITISH RETAKE TRENCHES.

London, Aug. 15.—(3:30 p. m.)—Nearly all of the remaining trenches northwest of Povieres, on the Somme front, in which the Germains gained the footing on Sunday, have been retaken, the war office announced today.

Lloyds repors the sinking of the 3,500 ton Italian steamship Teti in the Mediterrancan. Part of the crew was landed at Genoa.

FRANCE'S WAR BILL.

Paris, Aug. 15.—(4 p. m.)—The war bill of France at the end of July was 39,000,000,000 francs, according to figures available today. The miscellaneous expense of the government were ten billion francs. The average cost of the war, the figures show, is not 1,987,000,000 francs monthly.

To Brotherhoods Next.

Whether this plan can be worked out will not be known until President Wilson presents it to the brotherhood leaders. The railroads are understood to be ready to concede the principle of the eight hour day, providing concessions be made by the employes so too heavy a burden will not be placed upon the railroads.

The men take the stand that they principally want the eight hour day on conditions that it shall be enforced whenever possible. The railroads are said to believe it impossible to accept the eight hour day unless a workable system of application can be built up. Members of the managers committee said they had no plans for the future and did not know whether they would be called to the white house again.

The managers took the position that the eight hour day and the collateral issues are inseparable and that it would not be practicable to accept the eight hour day and submit the other question to arbitration. All of the issues are interwoven, they contend, and must be decided together. Representatives of the brotherhoods heard the proposal with interest, but insisted, however, that the proposition was not a new one.

"I knew a week ago," one of the officials said, "that the railroad managers had such a proposition in mind."

Not Very Optimistic.

None of the brotherhood officials would commit himself on what the attitude of the employes would be toward such a proposal, but they did not appear optimistic over the likelihood of it proving acceptable. It was pointed out by the employes' representatives, however, that if such a proposition were tendered in concrete form to them they could only refer it to the general board, composed of six hundred committee chairmen now in New York.

It was probable, one of the officials said, that if such a proposal were submitted to them through the president today, that they would return to New York and place it before the general board.

Auburn is Coming.

Auburn, DeKalb county, will send a big delegation to the barbecue. Two special cars carrying party workers and a band, it is announced, will make the trip to Fort Wayne Saturday. Many counties of the district are making up delegations, some of which will probably be accompanied by bands.

Arrangements have been made for taking pictures of the barbecue on a scale similar to those taken during centennial week. The committee in charge of the affair desire in some way to preserve in photo the success of the political meeting.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

Uniondale Man, Sorry But Silent, in Jail at Bluffton for Shooting His Sister-in-Law.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 15.—John Seckler, 40, well known Uniondale man, is sorry he shot his sister-in-law, Carrie Laturner Holcomb, 22. Seckler is in jail here, but refuses to talk. He is despondent. The girl, whom he attempted to murder because she wanted to leave his home and accept employment in Huntington, it is alleged, will recover. He fired two shots from a 38-caliber revolver, one striking her in the right breast and making a wound four inches long and an inch and a half deep.

The shooting occurred at the Seckler home. The Holcomb woman was standing on the porch talking to her sister, Mrs. Seckler, when the man stepped to the door, opened the screen and fired. The young woman was turning to face the door just as the shot was fired and the bullet struck her in the right breast, passing four inches to the center of her chest, where it lodged. Screaming at the top of her voice she started running north with Seckler a few feet behind her. He fired another shot on the run, but it went wild. The revolver was snapped again, but the cap failed to explode. On the advice of Henry Falk, standing nearby, she ran into the Falk home, a half block from the scene of the shooting, and bolted the door. When she entered the house Seckler turned back to his own home, where he was found by the sheriff. He still carried the revolver and it had been refilled with cartridges.

"Jealous of Me."

"I guess he was jealous of me and didn't want me to go to Huntington." This was the statement of the Holcomb woman to a newspaper representative at the Falk home shortly after the shooting. She added that Seckler wanted her to continue to live with him and had insisted that she remain there and not go to Huntington.

Says Husband Was Insane.

Mrs. Seckler was at the bedside of her sister. "John was insanely mad," she said, in telling of the shooting. She added that her sister was the mother of a babe through misfortune and said that she and Seckler had made a home for them for many months, and had often denied themselves in order that the baby should not be kept among strangers while the mother was working.

FUNERAL IS HELD.

Howe, Ind., Aug. 15.—The funeral of James Groves was held at the chapel at Brighton Monday afternoon. Howe won the baseball game from Shipshewana by a score of 11 to 6.

Corunna, Ind., Aug. 15.—Rev. R. R. Detwiler was the principal speaker at a picnic held at Decatur Saturday.

Great Plans Are Being Made at Huntington for Erie Booster Week.

Huntington, Aug. 15.—More than 1,000 officials and employes of the Erie railroad will be entertained by the city of Huntington during Erie Booster week, August 22, 23 and 24, which will mark the first time any municipality has ever entertained the entire list of officials of a trunk line. Officials of the Pennsylvania, Wabash and other railroads have been invited and will be present.

Besides the many free attractions, the Commercial association is putting on a $10,000 night spectacular pageant. The "War and Peace" pageant is an original idea worked out for Tampa, Florida, and will be staged in that city next winter.

Other attractions will include a scheduled base ball tournament between teams representing the various division points of the Erie lines between New York and Chicago. The division point hands will contest for prizes, as will the Erie teams.

President Underwood, of the Erie, together with the other officials, will remain in Huntington during the booster days. This is the first time high officials of a large railroad line have joined with employes in any large event and this new policy will be watched with interest by visiting officials of other lines.

CULVER CADET ROBBED.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 15.—One of the members of the Culver Black Horse troop, that spent Saturday at Winona Lake, was robbed of his money and other small articles Sunday afternoon while bathing in Tippecanoe lake at Cripplegate Heights. It is said that several articles such as keys and knives were found on the person of a Leesburg boy, but when the search was made the money could not be located. While camping near the lake several of the boys went in bathing and dressed in the bath house at Cripplegate. During their plunge it is said that several boys broke into the building and rifled the clothing of one of the cadets. Suspicion immediately rested on many small boys who had been seen near the place. When a search was made all the missing articles with the exception of the money were found.

TAKES NEW POSITION.

Columbia City, Ind., Aug. 15.—Prof. Arthur B. Carter, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carter, who has been an instructor in chemistry in Chicago university for a number of years, has resigned his position there to accept the superintendency of the manufacturing department of the Central Scientific company, of Chicago. The new position offers a great opportunity for advancement and it is a decided recognition of his ability. Mr. Carter has been spending a short vacation here with his parents and sisters, Mrs. Charles Marrow, of Tampa, Fla., who is visiting here, and Mrs. Vern Diffenda-fer.

KOKOMO MEN IN ACCIDENT.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 15.—Homer Potter and Joe Perry, two young men residing in Kokomo, met with an automobile accident at the township line jog west of the city on the Smoky Row pike about 5 o'clock last night and both were badly cut. Potter being hurt the worst. They failed to see the jog in the road and ran into the ditch and against a wire fence. The machine turned over and both men were thrown out. Potter has three gashes across his right cheek, three in his scalp, is minus a tooth and has bruises about his body. Perry has just a few cuts and bruises.

CARBOLIC ACID POOR GRADE.

Portland, Ind., Aug. 15.—An attempt by Dave Minger to end his life was frustrated late Sunday evening when the carbolic acid he swallowed failed to do the work intended. Minger was sued for divorce less than a week ago when his wife left his home on West Walnut street, taking with her their little daughter and leaving the son in the care of the husband and father. Since then Minger has been unable to locate his wife and daughter and has been staying at the home of Luther Coulson, on West Second street.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 15.—William Trine, a farmer living near Oswego, was thrown about ten feet from his car Sunday afternoon and escaped injury by alighting in soft mud. He was traveling south on the Leesburg road and had reached the Wheeler bridge, which is about two miles north of Warsaw, when the car left the road. The car leaped a pile of lumber stacked on the west side of the road and cleared the eight-foot embankment, landing in the mud right side up.

HENRY HARTER DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 15.—The death of Henry Harter occurred at Central, Kas., last week. The deceased was well known among the older residents of Kosciusko county and was a brother of Mrs. Asbury Cook, and an uncle of Wilbur F. Maish, both of this city. The body was cremated and the ashes will be interred at Union cemetery, west of Warsaw.

LAUNDRY EMPLOYE BURNED.

Hicksville, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Gladys Conner, an employe of the Hicksville Steam laundry, who suffered a burned hand while working there Friday, is getting along nicely. FIREFLY SHOWS US THE WAY TO HEATLESS LIGHT.

New York, Aug. 15.—Man has taken a lesson from the firefly, and now is producing cold light.

Francois Dussaud, the producer, is backed by Edouard Branly, famous physicist, in the statement the new heatless light soon will be commercially feasible, and that it will revolutionize illuminating engineering.

Dussaud's light comes intermittently from large numbers of tungsten filaments, each of which is heated white hot for a brief instant and then kept cool for fifteen times as long as it was giving out light.

Great brilliance of illumination and almost complete absence of heat waves are claimed for this new invention!

Acts 19:8-20.

8. And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9. But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10. And this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

11. And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12. So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13. ¶ Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14. And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15. And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16. And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17. And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus; and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18. And many that believed came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19. Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20. So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

The Issues of the Campaign

Regardless of the dust that is being kicked up on the side lines by President Wilson's foes as a preliminary to the real battle of the campaign, the contest, which ends in November, is going to be finally decided upon the basis of definite issues. There will be something more substantial upon which to base judgment than ill-tempered complaint of general character. There will be placed before the people for sober analysis and the exercise of thoughtful, patriotic discretion some very vital issues both of purpose and accomplishment that infinitely transcend in their importance either the mere desire of one party to retain power or of another to regain it. Democracy is prepared to insist upon election-day judgment on this basis, and it can safely make its appeal to the people on this ground.

Some of these issues were outlined in a statement made by Secretary of War Baker in his remarks to the democratic county convention at Cleveland, Monday night. Coming directly from the president, there is every reason to assume that this member of the president's official family spoke with authority when he put forward the claims on which Wilson will base his fight for re-election. The secretary placed first and foremost as an argument for the retention of Mr. Wilson in the executive chair the fact that he has kept the United States out of war. Those who hold the belief that the American people will consider this accomplishment an inconsequential affair will find themselves mistaken. The American voters who in the past two years have again and again seen this land drawn perilously near to war's precipice by the ramification of events in Europe, but each time guided safely back into peaceful pathways through the patriotism, the skill and the sane, good judgment of President Wilson, will not fail to register their approval of his course in trying times when they have opportunity to do so at the polls in November.

Supplementing this, as cited by Secretary Baker, is the most impressive completed program of legislative accomplishment achieved by any political party in a generation. It includes the federal reserve bank act, the Underwood tariff bill, the rural credits bill, the child labor bill now in congress and certain to pass, the preparedness policy and other measures which have not claimed so large a measure of public attention, but which are of much importance nevertheless. The Wilson administration has from the outset responded in the fullest measure in the redemption of its promises to the people. It makes no claims to absolute perfection, but it has not dodged, it has not evaded and it has not shrunk from responsibility. It confidently believes it has faithfully and competently executed the high trust given into its hands. It is upon this basis, and this alone, it is making its appeal in the present campaign. It will make its fight squarely upon the issues.

The United States chamber of commerce announces, as a result of extended investigation over the country, that business is going right ahead despite the approach of campaign activity, and that there is nowhere manifest a disposition to subordinate business to politics. It formerly was the fashion for business to "ease up" during campaign year, though nobody was ever able to give a good excuse for the custom. It is a happy indication to note that that sort of thing is passing.

The action of the Retail Merchants' association in urging that a Fort Wayne architect be chosen to prepare the plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building is a point well taken, and it will be given the most substantial endorsement by the Fort Wayne people whose generosity made the splendid project possible. The work of Fort Wayne architects is not an unknown quantity. Handsome monuments to their genius adorn every section of the city. Such special technical information as may be required for a structure of this particular kind can easily be secured through a consulting specialist, if necessary, but let Fort Wayne's new Y. M. C. A. be a home production throughout.

James P. Goodrich, republican nominee for governor, is the latest Indiana candidate to get into the movies, a film of Mr. Goodrich to be used for campaign purposes having been taken of him at his home in Winchester last Sunday morning. The eminent Mr. C. Chaplin and other well-known movie stars may well begin to view the situation with alarm. The movie realm is likely to suffer a bit of crowding when a lot of these candidates later discover that the filmland profession is a lot easier than successfully negotiating public office.

And, besides, there is this difference: While Mr. Hughes is endorsing woman suffrage in his talks over the country, President Wilson made the trip back home to New Jersey to cast his vote for equal suffrage when the opportunity to register his stand on the question presented itself.

DIPLOMAS FOR MAYORS?

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

Governor Capper of Kansas has before him a petition signed by 500 citizens asking that the University of Kansas establish a course of study that will train men and women to be mayors, city managers, street commissioners, park commissioners, county clerks, registers of deeds, treasurers, and for other county and city offices. The petitioners reside in the town of Chapman, and argue that the law should require every candidate for public office to show his diploma or his credentials of successful experience as an officeholder.

A public officeholder, said the spokesman for the petitioners, "fills a position of as much importance and responsibility as any professional or business man in the community. Our public officials have generally been men untrained for the positions to which they aspired." We have special departments in our colleges and universities for the training of men for the practice of medicine, law, ministry, engineering and teaching, but no attention is given to training men for the duties of public office, although the entire community is affected by their fitness or unfitness. Such a course, he said, would elevate politics into a real profession.

Kansas may think this is another innovation discovered in that fertile soil but, as a matter of fact, Germany has put the idea into practice these many years. Municipal government over there is a profession for which men are trained with the expectation of making it their life work. It is not likely that even in Kansas the voters are yet ready to demand diplomas of fitness from candidates for public office, but the spread of the city manager form of administration, in which fitness and not politics is the sole test, is going to make an opening for trained men in public affairs. When cities begin selecting managers for their municipal activities instead of electing politicians to office they will demand that candidates be able to show their qualifications for the job.

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL?

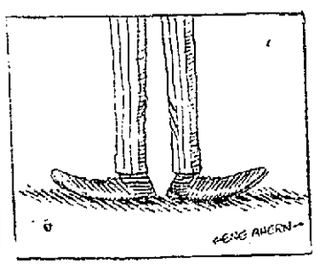
Unnatural History, by Eugene Ahern.

FEET.

Feet are the flivvers of the human system!

They were made to walk with and for other people to walk on.

Each foot is equipped with five unnecessary toes. They are always in a state of revolution that would make the Mexican affair look about as exciting as a christening. And you can't blame some feet for kicking, especially the feet whose male owners enshroud them in socks that are louder and noisier than a prizefighter's manager, or the women who give their No. 7 feet a life sentence in a pair of No. 4 shoes.



Feet grow to an enormous size on lazy persons. Did you ever notice the floor space taken up by the feet of policemen, detectives, politicians and society women?

WOODBURN NEWS.

MEMBER OF AVIATION CORPS IS BACK HOME

Fred Bolton, a member of the United States army aviation corps and a son of William Bolton, 1721 Calhoun street, is home from war-torn Mexico on a sixty-day furlough. He has been given this time off from duty to give him a chance to heal his injuries which consist of four fractured ribs and a number of painful bruises which he sustained in a 200-foot fall from an aeroplane.

Aviator Bolton expects to be back in perfect condition in a few weeks. He states that the government is treating the boys along the border in tip-top shape and that the various unfavorable reports which have come back are all unfounded. He also believes that America will eventually be forced to intervene in Mexico by armed force in order to restore peace.

REGISTRATION DAY IS IMPORTANT EVENT

BY WILLIS S. THOMPSON.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15. Most important of your duties as an individual voter is to see that you are properly registered. Next in importance is seeing that your neighbor is registered, else he cannot vote in November. Democratic district, county, ward, township and precinct committeemen have no more important task than to see that all persons who intend to vote the democratic ticket in November are registered on October 9th, the date set by state law.

The thing to do at this moment is to find out who are not registered, and have the list ready when registration day comes. Then see that every unregistered man goes to the registration place and gets his name on the list of qualified voters. The thoroughness with which this work is done will measure the size of certain Indiana majority for the democratic national and state tickets in November.

There are many ways in which names might get off the registration lists. For instance, Candidate Charles Evans Hughes is not qualified to vote in his home state of New York. The records show he has neglected to exercise his duty as an American citizen and cast his vote since 1910, after he was given a life job as a member of the supreme court. Such lack of interest in political affairs is not very general among patriotic Americans, however, and it is not likely that many such will be found in Indiana.

But your name, or that of your neighbor, may of been omitted for other cause, and maybe for some cause over which you have had no control. For the purpose of having an agreed interpretation of the registration law, the chairmen of the democratic, progressive and republican state central committees each named an attorney for appointment by the governor to prepare such interpretation. This committee of lawyers has reported. Here is a part of the report referring to purging and renewal of the lists. It will be well to see that the duties assigned to county officials are properly performed and the lists checked as early as possible.

Committee's Observations.

Here are the observations of the committee of lawyers on the points mentioned:

"The general election law requires the clerk of the circuit court of a county to safely keep the poll books of the voters made by the clerks at the general election held in November, 1914, for six months, after which time they may be destroyed. If such poll books of any precincts are destroyed or are not accessible then all of the voters in such precinct must register in 1916.

"In all precincts where the poll books made by the clerks at the general election held in November, 1914, have not been destroyed, and are accessible, the auditor shall strike off the registration books of such precincts for the year 1914, the names of all registered voters who failed to vote at the general election in November, 1914. The names should be stricken off both in the registration proper and in the index of the registration book.

Theory of Law.

"The theory of the registration law is that the registration books of each precinct shall constitute a permanent registration record unless they have been destroyed, mutilated or are inaccessible or are for any other reasonable cause unfit to be used, in either of which events there must be an entire new registration of all voters residing within a precinct where such condition exists.

"The law contemplates, however, that the names of the registered voters who failed to exercise the right of suffrage at the last election next preceding shall be determined by comparing the registration books used for the identification of voters and the books kept by the poll clerk at the last general election next preceding and that the names of those who were registered but did not vote shall be stricken from the registration lists. In any precinct where the poll books have been destroyed or cannot be found, it will be impossible to correct the registration books as contemplated by the statute and the registration books are thereby rendered unfit for use, and in such precincts the necessity exists for a complete re-registration.

"If the registration books are destroyed, mutilated, inaccessible or are for any other reasonable cause unfit for use or if the poll books kept by the poll clerks at the last general election have been destroyed or lost, or for any other reason it is impossible for the auditor to obtain the possession of the same, then the auditor shall give notice for a registration of all voters resident within such precinct.

We recommend that the question of whether there is to be a complete registration of all voters resident in any of the precincts be determined at once by the several county auditors and notice thereof given by them at once to the county chairman of all political parties in their counties.

FRY OIL OF KOREIN TO KEEP WEIGHT DOWN, OR TO REDUCE SUPERFLUOUS FAT.

People who are confined within doors and who are deprived of fresh, invigorating air and exercise must take precaution to guard against over-stoutness, as fat acquired by indoor life is unhealthy and a danger to the vital organs of the body. Lack of exercise in the fresh air is said to weaken the oxygen carrying power of the blood, so that it is unable to produce strong muscles and vitality and the formation of unsightly and unhealthy fat is the result.

If you are 15 or 20 pounds above normal weight you are daily drawing on your reserve strength and are constantly lowering your vitality by carrying this excess burden. Any persons who are satisfied in their own mind that they are too stout are advised to go to a good druggist and get a box of oil of korein capsules and take one after each meal and one just before retiring at night.

Even a few days treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, improved digestion and a return of the old energy; footsteps become lighter and the skin less flabby in appearance as superfluous fat disappears.

Oil of korein is inexpensive, cannot injure, and helps the digestion. Any person who wants to reduce 15 or 20 pounds is advised to give this treatment a trial. —Advertisement.

Why Society Women Wash Their Own Hair

Few realize how many society women now wash their own hair, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. The thousands who have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only, say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can enjoy this, the best that is known, for about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. Your shampoo is now ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Charles Walda, of No. 4 engine house, and the residence is at 102 Walter street. Miss Walda is a well known member in St. Paul's Lutheran bowling team. Many friends are interested in the announcement of the nuptials as both bride and groom are very popular. Miss Bertha Walda accompanied her sister to Detroit and will remain until after the wedding.

A Protest Against the Kimono.

(By Betty Brown.)

A house garment with two legs and jacket. Here it is!

"A protest against the shapeless kimona," is what the modiste who designed it, calls this garment, and we'll admit that it is a pert little "protest."

The woman who has honest-to-goodness housework to do will probably never hear of or see the Pajama dress, but the woman who "just fusses around in the morning" is said to be delighted with it.

The pajamed person pictured here chose "old blue" for her "house dress" —the material is pongee silk. Bands of brick red taffeta and little cubist patches of red lend quite an Oriental air to it.

Red ribbon trims the blue silk cap. And note the veil—but then if you are going to extremes in fads why not go all the way, and a veil on boudoir cap is going some ways.

GAY AS A POPPY.

By Betty Brown.

The scarlet poppy may have been the model for this quaint little beach suit with skirt cut in petal points. It's made of taffeta as many bathing suits are this summer—and it is as gay colored as the rainbow.

The skirt and deep girdle are scarlet. The underwaist and baggy bloomers are black striped in poppy color. It is a practical little suit and not at all beyond the reach of the home dressmaker. The waist and "trousers" are, of course, all of a piece. The skirt and deep girdle are separate.

The Ladies' Catholic Benevolent association will give an ice cream social, Wednesday evening, at Reservoir park. The branch giving the social is No. 370.

BY BETTY BROWN.

Fashion announces autumn brides will wear the quaint little mop-cap instead of a wreath on bridal days.

Prettiest of the bridal caps I've seen in several trousseaux now in the making is the one I'm picturing here, a little fluff of Lame lace and silver ribbon designed by Mme. Alla Ripley, of the Fashion Art League of America.

It makes an especially pretty frame for a girlish face, and the bride who wears bobbed hair, or dresses her hair in the "bobbed effect' will find it particularly becoming.

The be-capped bride shown here is Mme. Ripleys daughter, Jean Ripley, the noted landscape artist, who recently became the bride of Harold S. Johnson, of Chicago.

The fitted crown of the cap is made of tulle. From the band of ribbon falls the court trained veil of tulle. A spray of orange blossoms is caught lightly in the pleats of tulle at the right.

The Ladies' Occult Science society will hold its regular meeting in Vordermark hall Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

LODGE NOTES.

The Lady Maccabees of Review, No. 27, will give their monthly tea at the home of Mrs. Marie Schock Eble, 739 Taylor street, Wednesday afternoon.

A pedro party will be given Wednesday afternoon in App's hall by Kekionga Review, No. 83, Woman's Benefit Association of Maccabees.

The Women's Loyal circle of the Moose will give an ice cream social this evening at the market place.

POLITICAL NOTES.

PARTICULARLY SUITED TO THE YOUTHFUL FIGURE

IN CHOOSING styles it is one's duty to keep in mind the effect of various features on the outlines of the body. It is a crime for the youthful figure to adopt lines which add five or ten years to her appearance; while, on the other hand, it is absurd for the woman with .. mature figure to wear styles which are unbecomingly youthful in effect.

Here is a model which is particularly suited to the youthful figure. It is developed in blue serge, the old reliable color and material, and lives up to the edict that serge and satin are a fashionable combination. Blue satin is used for the sleeves and for an inset down either side of the front.

White bone buttons and white satin collar and cuffs stand out in bold relief against the dark background.

USING LEMON RIND

THE next time you make lemonade or have occasion to use lemon juice for any purpose grate the rind from the lemon before squeezing the fruit. The grated substance you can then stow away in a jar and use it occasionally for flavoring when a lemon taste is desired.

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING

IN THE home of a recently married couple the kitchen closets testify to careful planning on the part of the little bride who superintended this part of the building. There were two closets without the cupboard, and they were built out from the wall of lovely yellow pine boards. They were painted to match the wainscoting of the kitchen —a lovely greyish green.

One closet reached to the height of six feet, was about two feet deep and about 2½ feet wide. The door, which swung out very easily on hinges, was very shallow at the bottom, but widened to a depth of a foot at least at the top. This made the closet look as if it were a long box put on end and slit diagonally down its length. On the door were many shelves and racks for saucepans, cooking utensils of all kinds and trays, the coffee and tea pots. In the shallow part of the closet at the top were nails for ladles and long spoons which would not fit in the kitchen table drawer. Beneath the closet was deep enough to hold the dishpans and large kettles.

The advantage of this closet is that one can get at any article without reaching too high and without disturbing any other article. Not a pan or tray obtrudes itself on this spotless kitchen, and because everything has a place everything stays in its place.

The cupboard doors were provided on the inside of one door with racks for cake and pie tins, and on the other door with guarded shelves for spice jars, etc.

Another built-out closet was just high enough to hold the brooms, sweeper and vacuum cleaner. A shelf at one end was provided for the dusters and housecloths, and hooks were inserted for brushes and dustpans. This left room on the floor for buckets. Soap was spread out to dry along a shallow shelf which ran the length of this closet. This third closet left the bottom of the cupboard free for flour, salt and sugar bins and other dry groceries.

HOW TO GET REFLECTED LIGHT

IT IS the common experience in many homes to have a high, electrically lighted dome, or globe, or bulb, which is attached to a perfectly good fixture, but which throws a cold, thin light. It has been proved that the reflected light is the most restful of any for general lighting purposes; so if you do not care to change your fixture immediately, make your own reflected light.

You can use almost any sort of an electric light shade that is not open at the top. String this on three cords or chains and suspend it upside down under your light, attaching the chains to the center of your fixture at the ceiling. Wicker shades lined with silk or all-silk shades act very well this way and throw an even glow over the room.

Another pretty arrangement is to take a Japanese umbrella and suspend it in the same way, using the handle of the umbrella to attach it to the fixture at the top. This is a pretty scheme for summer cottages. If one is careful, one may try the same arrangements with gas lights, provided the shade is not hung too close and the heat from the gas jet is arranged to ascend.

A HOT-WEATHER CENTERPIECE

IF YOU have any intention of entertaining in hot weather, be sure to make any decorations which you might have as cool and unobtrusive as possible. In fact, a bowl of flowers in the middle of the refreshment table is often quite enough. A pretty way to make this bowl of flowers more than usually interesting is to use carbonated water. Have your bowl as transparent as possible and select flowers with broad, flat leaf surfaces, like nasturtiums or even pansies. As the gas escapes from the water it covers the leaves and flowers with a moisture which looks like dew and gives a most refreshingly cool effect.

MARABOU ON SILK JERSEY

MARABOU is a very smart trimming and is used effectively on a number of afternoon and evening gowns. Here it is seen on a gown of the former type. Pink silk jersey is the material employed for the making of the frock, which shows the Russian influence on styles. The objection

which many persons have to silk jersey is that it has no body and clings too closely to the figure. Such objection is overruled in this instance by the use of many pleats falling from the shoulders to the bottom of long coat. A legion of tiny ball buttons and hemstitching is among the points which add to the beauty of the gown.

The underskirt is made perfectly plain and obtains its fullness by means of gathers at the waistband.

(By Betty Brown.)

If frocks will spread themselves over the landscape five yards or more, then it follows that petticoats must spread. So with the aid of featherbone and haircloth, they have taken on great width.

It's on the petticoat boned and stiffened that our 1830 frocks lean for their magnificent five-yard flare, and because of this all manner of hip-distensions and flares have been devised to give the necessary bouffancy to fluffy gowns of tulle, or voile organdy.

To show how wide a proper petticoat can be I sketched this combination of petticoat and camisole of Chemit satin; the vandyke points of the three tiered skirt are trimmed with Dresden ribbon. Threads of featherbone and haircloth, light as cobwebs, are used to give the proper distension.

Less elaborate, but practical for the ordinary frock are the little distenders of commerce—the kind you will find in the shops. As you see in the upper sketch they are made of bobbinet and properly "distended" with featherbone.

UNDERBODICES FOR THE THIN BLOUSE

TOO many women undervalue the brassiere. They are apt to think, "Brassieres are all right for stout women, but I'm thin." The fact is that brassieres at present are supplanting the camisole for the reason that bodices are getting tight and necessitate a tighter underbodice. Then, too, even the thin woman will find that with the low-bust corset, a brassiere will give a much neater appearance under a thin blouse than the looser camisole.

The brassiere which is not used for actually confining flesh can be made by the amateur at home if she is careful to fit it well. She may wear a plain bought brassiere of net and well boned, if she is fleshy, and over it place one of these more elaborate brassieres for wear with a thin blouse.

While many of the underbodices are quite short, serving only to fill up the space above the low corset, some are built more on the lines of fitted corset covers. Such a one is that showing a series of rovers in the front. It is made of wash taffeta or satin, something with more body than crepe de chine. It should be cut over a well-fitting blouse lining pattern, which should be in the possession of every woman who does her own sewing. The top rovers and shoulder straps are cut in one like a deep yoke, and this rover continues the same in back. In front, two other rovers are added and a bow of ribbon is tacked at the middle. The rovers are edged with val lace. This model would never do for the stout woman, but for the thinner girl is very attractive. It fastens down the back with hooks and eyes, sewed on tape, under a blind opening of the silk.

Lace and ribbon are used together to fashion the very pretty little bodice with double shoulder straps. The lace is about three inches wide and comparatively heavy. A filet mesh, a cluny lace or a torchon would be practical. Narrow grosgrain ribbon in white, flesh or blue is then run thru the lace at wide intervals and tied in bows at the front. The same ribbon is used to join and bind the two pieces of lace. Crossed straps of the ribbons hold this bodice over the shoulders. Darts at the side will make this fit rather snugly. It may be slipped over the head without any opening unless it is fit too tightly, when an underarm fastening will be necessary.

Entirely of ribbon is the other short bodice. This, too, may be made as tight or as loose as one wants. A band of ribbon six or seven inches wide is required, just a few inches over the bust measure in length. The drawing suggests a ribbon with a picoted edge, and as black and white is being used more and more for lingerie generally, a wide white taffeta ribbon with a black picot edge would be a very happy suggestion here. This should be slipped over the head and the ends of the ribbon may be joined under one arm, with a corresponding dart under the other arm to give a little shapeliness to the bodice. The slits where the shoulder ribbons, which are narrow white ones with black edges, pass thru and where the narrower ribbon is drawn thru to help out the design on the front should be picoted in black. This can be done by taking your wide ribbon to a hemstitching establishment and having the slits hemstitched over your basting threads, cutting them afterward thru the middle. A narrow rubber may be run thru a casing to hold this short brassiere in place.

More on the camisole order for the girl who never likes anything tight is the fourth sketch. Crepe de chine, a double layer of chiffon, thin nainsook or silk muslin will make this model. A casing is run at top and bottom of a straight piece of material, made slightly fuller than the bust measures. Narrow rubber is run thru the bottom casing and a narrow tape or ribbon thru the top. Lace is employed for the shoulder straps and makes the pointed bands across the front. The flower wreaths may be embroidered or made of ribbon or chiffon. This goes on over the head.

THE JOHN ROBINSON CIRCUS HERE SEPT. 6

The John Robinson circus comes to Fort Wayne on Wednesday, September 6, for two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., and for a magnificent street parade at 10 o'clock a. m.

Every day when the 1,000 members of the John Robinson circus finish breakfast, they begin active preparation for the parade. Well-fed horses and ponies in shining harness and wavering plumes take their places before glittering parade chariots, the sound of music is heard from bands perched hazardously high; clowns, charioteers, jockeys, Roman hippodrome riders; camels from the great desert with native riders and ponderous elephants, some bearing a weight of feminine beauty in Oriental costume, make appearance in a picturesque, kaleidoscopic pageant more than two miles long.

A man on horseback in a deep voice cries the oft repeated warning, "Look out for your horses, the elephants are coming." Behind him a bevy of pretty buglers trumpet their clarion-voiced instruments and then Jeanne d'Arc, in polished armor, with clanking curtains of chain mail. The flush of tan has tinted her ears and cheeks. She is a young woman adopted by a wealthy aunt in New Haven, Conn., who sent her to Europe to keep her from entering circus life. Her sudden return and her romantic marriage with a clown caused daily papers all over the country to devote considerable space to the incident.

SUES INDIANA BOAT CAPTAIN.

St. Louis Heiress Declares He Broke Love Pact With Her.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 15.—In an effort to recover $4,900 she alleges she loaned to Capt. Harry Davis as the result of his "systematic love making," Miss Mamie Hoffman, St. Louis heiress, has filed suit in the circuit court to have a receiver appointed for the company operating the steamer Golden-fleece, operated by Davis out of this port and in which Miss Hoffman says she owns a third interest, given her as security for the loan.

Miss Hoffman says she was engaged to Davis at the time the loan was made. She says the engagement was later broken. Davis asserts that Miss Hoffman visited the city while he was operating the boat out of Memphis, Tenn., and that the suit is the result of jealousy exhibited by the St. Louis woman over his treatment of a girl he had met in the Tennessee city.

LOSES $15,000 ON RACE.

Lafayette, Ind., Man Meets Flim-Flam Game in Detroit.

Detroit, Aug. 15.—Never having bet on a horse race in his life, Dr. Don M. Kelly, 55, of Lafayette, Ind., was on Aug. 9 "easy picking" for three swindlers. It cost him $15,000.

Dr. Kelly was on his way to New York. While in Detroit he met an affable stranger. They met two other men and Kelly finally wrote his check for $15,000 expecting to clean up $64,000. The horse bet on was an also ran.

IN THE SELECTION OF A DIAMOND IS NOT A COMMON GIFT.

—It therefore behooves you to place your trust in the reliability of a jeweler of known worthiness, a firm whose attitude toward everything in their store insists that it be of the very finest quality and in keeping with their reputation for dependability. The diamond that is to be a gift, or for self-adornment, and the engagement ring, should come from the store that has been serving Fort Wayne folk for fifty years.

HELD IN DEATH PROBE.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 15.—Fred Atwood, 38, who was arrested at Monon, was brought here last night and placed in the county jail, pending an investigation by the county authorities into the death of Michael Kernan, a brickmason, who was found dead in the Monon railroad yards. An autopsy was performed by physicians which revealed, they said, a cut in the back of the head and internal bleeding from an artery. It is thought Kernan may have been murdered. He had considerable money when last seen alive, but when the body was found there was no money in the clothing. Atwood was seen near the vicinity of the supposed crime.

Llano Grande, Texas, Aug. 15.—Official orders from the war department, providing for the release from military service of college students as soon as practicable after Sept. 1, providing no emergency exists at that time, have just reached General Lewis, in command of the Indiana brigade here. The order affects the Indiana University band of the Second Indiana infantry and Battery B, a Purdue University organization of the Indiana Field Artillery battalion. Men of other organizations who can show bona fide intentions of entering college or returning to college also will be discharged.

Company I of the First Indiana infantry is composed largely of Indiana university students and graduates, but it is not recognized as a college organization. It is said that more than one-half of the members of this company will be eligible for discharge because of being students. A few who do not desire discharges may seek transfers to other companies.

The student soldiers do not take the attitude that there is any better reason for their discharge than any other class of men here, but since the war department has seen fit to announce such a policy they are eager to take advantage of it and return to their studies.

Must Form New Band.

Most of the students say that they have enjoyed their service here, but with no prospect of immediate active service they would regret to delay their graduation from school. The Indiana University band has been here without instruments, though the government instruments are expected to arrive most any day. A new regimental band will be organized if the students go home, by detailing musicians from various companies of the regiment. It is expected that the Indiana brigade will lose about 250 men by the discharge of students. Several men who had not thought of going to college are taking a sudden interest in acquiring more education and they may enroll in order to return to Indiana.

"We figure that the government intends to send all the troops home by November or December, so we think we had just as well go home at the beginning of the semester," said one of the student soldiers. "We all would be glad to stay if it looked like business."

Lieut. Col. Emmett F. Branch, of the Second Indiana, presided at a social meeting of 150 members of the masonic lodge who are soldiers in the Indiana, Minnesota and Nebraska regiments. Officers and privates alike were all on the same footing in this meeting. Addresses were by Maj. Ezra Clemens, of the Second Minnesota infantry, and by F. M. M. Richardson, the general secretary of the three camp Y. M. C. A. organizations. The Masonic Grand Lodge of Indiana has declined to grant a special dispensation for the organization of a camp lodge.

Tossed Into Ambulance.

Harold Shumate, of Evansville, a mounted orderly of the Second Indiana, figured in an acrobatic stunt with the aid of an army horse, which holds the camp record. He was riding Maj. Noble's horse Dynamite when he was tossed from the animal's back onto the cot of a passing ambulance wagon. The ambulance hauled Shumate to the regimental infirmary, where his bruised leg was bandaged. Shumate was able to return to his quarters.

Guy T. Buckles, of Nebraska, and Walter Hornaday, of Indianapolis, advertised as the former sparring partner of Jack Dillon, appeared in a ten-round sparring match staged yesterday afternoon at one of the camp picture theaters. The match was declared a draw. Military officers were present to see that the contest was clean and the crowd orderly.

James Wheeler, one of the cooks of the Mount Vernon company, Second Indiana, fell from a freight car at two o'clock yesterday morning, but escaped with only a sprained ankle.

He had gone to Donna, a few miles west of here, and was on the train to return to camp when he fell. He was brought here to the camp hospital.

Investigation Under Way.

Members of the Winamac company First Indiana infantry, were considerably embarrassed yesterday when an official inquiry instigated by the war department, on request of Senator Kern, was begun to determine how they are being treated and under what conditions they are living in camp. The men of the company say they can see no use for the investigation.

The inquiry is being conducted by Brig. Gen. Hulen, commander of the First Texas brigade. It is said that sympathetic citizens of Winamac, affected by letters written by the boys when they first went into camp when conditions naturally were somewhat rough, complained to Senator Kern and caused the entire company to be embarrassed by an unnecessary inquiry.

I visited the men in their tents and asked them about their camp life. Most of them complained because of the investigation, saying that their company was placed in a ridiculous light. All seemed to be in high spirits, though married men with financial problems are anxiously awaiting their discharges.

"We are not a bunch of sissies," said one of the men who spoke with the approval of others. "Those people up home took those letters too seriously. Of course it was a little rough at first when camp life was new, and we did not know how to take care of ourselves. Some of the boys, I guess, wrote scare stories home to get a little sympathy and of course all of us, we must confess, were homesick. We are comfortable and happy now and there is nothing to complain about. This investigation makes us all smile. The mess is good and we are all in good health and spirit."

Gen. Hulen's report, when completed, will be filed with the war department.

Mrs. Wilbur C. Bloom, of Spokane, Wash., was operated upon at the St. Joseph hospital Monday for appendicitis. She was visiting at the home of her father, Clark Beatty, and Mr. Bloom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bloom, when she was taken ill. She is getting along as well as could be expected.

WILL EXTEND TRACTION LINE.

Bucklen System to Be Built From Angola to Toledo.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15.—The St. Joseph Valley Interurban railroad, owned by H. E. Bucklen, the Elkhart millionaire, is to be extended from Angola to Toledo, Ohio, in the spring of 1917. It was the intention of Mr. Bucklen to push the extension this year, but delay in getting material for the five bridges which will have to be erected caused him to postpone the plans. The line passes through a rich farming and commercial community.

New Golden Chemical Kills Pesky Bed Bugs

P. D. Q., Pesky Devil's Quietus, is the name of a new golden colored chemical discovery by Dr. Price that actually rids the worst infested house of Bed Bugs, Roaches, Ants, Fleas and their eggs. They don't have time to kick after you go after them with P. D. Q. A 25-cent package of P. D. Q. makes a quart of strong bug killer. A quart of this preparation goes farther than a barrel of the old-fashioned dangerous dope. P. D. Q. is harmless to human and animal life.

You can rid your pet dog of fleas with safety.

P. D. Q. will not stain, rot or burn the springs or clothing. Your druggist has it or can get it for you. Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

White Book Sets Out Berlin Position After Baralong Incident.

Berlin, Aug. 15. The German government has transmitted to the reichstag a white book in regard to the case of the British patrol boat Baralong, members of whose crew are reported to have killed Germans from a submarine sunk by the British a year ago. The white book contains official German and British documents.

The final report, according to a statement given out today by the Overseas news agency says:

"The German government, replying to the declarations of the British government in regard to the German memorandum of January 10, 1916, on the Baralong case (in which Germany rejected the British proposal to submit the case to a neutral board,) said it had decided, on account of the British government's attitude, that it was impossible to continue negotiations. At the same time the government announced it would take reprisals of a nature corresponding with the provocation, adding:

"Of course the government has declined to respond to the crimes committed by the British seamen by carrying out similar reprisals; for instance, the shooting of British prisoners of war. German airships will convince the English people that Germany has the means of preventing from going unatoned the enormities of the officers and crew of the Baralong."

The German reply points out that formerly particular consideration was given in employing persons for military purposes to the civilian population, although there was unavoidable danger to civilians, but said that in view of the Baralong incident a different attitude would be adopted. The government's purpose is quoted as follows by the news agency: Airships will be used against England within the limits of the law of nations, without any other regard. Every airship which throws destructive bombs on London or other defended towns or on towns which contain establishments of a military character will cause England to remember the Baralong case.

PREPARE TO TELL MR. FAIRBANKS ABOUT IT

Big Doings Planned When Indiana Man is Notified of Nomination.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Republicans of the middle west are expected to concentrate at Indianapolis Aug. 31. Formal notification of Charles Warren Fairbanks as the party's nominee for vice-president is scheduled for that day.

Extensive preparations for the ceremony are being made at Indianapolis, and it is to be marked by one of the greatest republican demonstrations in Indiana's history, state leaders have reported to Alvin T. Hert, western manager of the Hughes-Fairbanks campaign, in the Conway building.

Marching clubs and delegations from the larger cities of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Kentucky are to participate in a big parade

United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman will be chairman of the notification committee and break the news officially to Mr. Fairbanks that he was selected as the running mate with Mr. Hughes by the Chicago convention.

The notification is to take place on the lawn of the Fairbanks home. The lawn is big enough to hold several thousand persons. A regulation Indiana barbecue with a menu large enough to feed all comers is to be a feature.

The vice-presidential nominee is now in northern Michigan completing his summer vacation. It is understood that Manager Hert and a group of Indiana republican leaders were in conference with him over the week-end.

Immediately after the Indianapolis notification Mr. Fairbanks is expected to start upon a campaigning swing through all northern states.

DISPUTES G. O. P. PLATFORM.

Galloway Denies Charge of Creating Many New Offices Outside Law.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The white house has made public a letter from Charles M. Galloway, acting chairman of the civil service commission, denying assertions of the republican platform that the democratic administration has created 30,000 offices outside the civil service law, which cost $44,000,000 a year. Mr. Galloway gave figures to combat the republican declaration and to show that the number of outside offices is small.

POLICE FIND SUSPECT HAS CRIMINAL RECORD

Man Sentenced for Profanity is "Gipsy Bob" in World of Crime.

There was something in the drawn eyes and the faded star once tattooed in bright blue on the forehead of Robert Thurston, 38, which caused Prosecutor Hoffman to pause when [illegible] ing the man, held on a [illegible] ity, Tuesday.

"Have you [illegible] in the penitentiary?" Hoffman asked him.

"No, sir," came the unwavering answer. Hoffman was dogged and asked the question twice. There was a negative reply again. Thurston was fined $3 and costs because he spoke vilely of Traffic Officer Paul Munday afternoon.

But Detective Sergeant Brennan could not rest. He was sure he had seen that face before in the thousands of pictures he handles every week. He hunted through most of the morning hours until he came on a picture in the criminal album of 1910. The man with the star on his forehead had a long record.

He is best known in the underworld as "Gipsy Bob." The fact that he is an expert tatooer is only a side line. He has tattooed many young men in Fort Wayne during the past few days he has loafed about the saloons here, but the police think he was looking for a chance to commit a crime.

His record started in 1897, nineteen years ago. He was convicted of robbery in Birmingham, N. Y., and sent to the Rochester Industrial school. He escaped from the institution. In 1903 he was again taken at Birmingham, N. Y., and convicted of third degree robbery. He served five years in the Elmira prison.

On Christmas night, 1908, he was arrested in St. Louis on a charge of first degree robbery. He pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and robbery before the grand jury and was sentenced to Jefferson City, Mo. He served two years.

Here his record ends as far as police can find. Some of his names are Robert Thurston, Arthur Flint, Arthur Harper and Robert Polack. He is best known as "Gipsy Bob."

Police have no other charge against him here than using profanity. He will be released from the county jail in two weeks. Police think he will hurry to leave town since his prison past has been revealed and he knows a watch will be kept on him.

TRIO OF AFTERNOON SPEECHES BY HUGHES

Busy Tacoma Program for the Nominee Before Dash to Seattle.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 15.—Charles E. Hughes reached Tacoma shortly before noon today. Three addresses are on his program before he leaves for Seattle, where he will address a meeting tonight.

Three addresses here were to be made to the republican editors of the state, the Tacoma chapter of the Red Cross and an open air meeting in the stadium. On arrival the nominee and his wife were taken for an automobile ride through the city.

Mr. Hughes was up before 6 o'clock and out on the train platform to view the Cascade mountains. At Orting he shook hands with a number of inmates of the soldiers' home, and at Puyallup, where another stop was made, met women employes of canning factories who came to the station in their white working clothes and white caps.

HOLD UP POWDER FOR U. S.

Jersey City Authorities Will Not Permit It to Pass Through.

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 15.—A shipment of forty-four cases of black powder over the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad consigned to the United States government for use at Fort Totten, N. Y., was held up today by the police under the munition order prohibiting shipments of explosives into the city, promulgated after the Black Tom disaster. It is understood the Lackawanna will try to re-ship the consignment by another route.

The right of the city to hold up shipments is now being tested in the courts.

WILLSON ORDERS THE TORPEDO PUT INDOORS

I. W. W. Combat Recruiting Efforts of Ft. Wayne Naval Officer.

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 15.—Because advertisements for recruits for the United States navy have been repeatedly torn down, and in many instances literature recruiting officers say they placed with industrial workers of the world, instructions industrial workers of the world has been destroyed, instructions were issued today by Lieutenant James D. Willson, in charge of recruiting in the northwest, to place indoors the Whitehead torpedo which has been left in the street here to interest recruits. Navy advertisements also have been destroyed in Minneapolis and other places, according to recruiting officers.

Lieutenant Willson mentioned in the above dispatch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Willson, 2310 Hoagland avenue. He has been in the navy fourteen years and was but recently transferred to recruiting service in the northwest from the Boston navy yard. He is in charge of seven stations.

Former Democratic Chieftain Relegated to Rear at Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 15. Roger C. Sullivan, former democratic national committeeman from Illinois, will not take an active part in the management of the bent. According to the report those who democratic national campaign this fall, according to a report here today. Furthermore none of Mr. Sullivan's close political friends will be given positions in the western headquarters, according to the same report.

According to the story influential friends of President Wilson are inclined to blame Mr. Sullivan for Raymond Robins' support of Charles E. Hughes despite the fact that representatives of Mr. Sullivan offered the support of the regular state democratic organization to Mr. Robins if he would run for governor against Edward F. Dunne, the incumbent. According to the report those who will be the principal assistants to Senator Walsh of Montana in the management of the western campaign are Senator Owen of Oklahoma and Irving Chapman, Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, and Morgan Davies, of Illinois.

The democratic senatorial campaign will be conducted from the Chicago headquarters by Senators Willard Saulsbury of Delaware, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Wm. J. Stone of Missouri.

AMATEUR BASEBALL MEN DRAFT RULES

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15.—Delegates from Pittsburg, Louisville, Cleveland, Lincoln, Neb., St. Paul and Detroit were present today when the special meeting of the Amateur Base Ball association was called to order. The purpose of the meeting was to draft rules to govern the championship games to be played in the fall, and to decide the place where the games shall be played.

It was suggested that local teams play in foreign cities until the final deciding game, but no definite action was taken. Houston, Texas, has asked for the entire championship series. Tacoma, Wash., Los Angeles and Sacramento, Cal., and Duluth, Minn., sent word they will not participate in the series because of the expense, but will continue their membership in the association.

ICKES RETURNS TO GET INTO GAME FOR HUGHES

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Harold L. Ickes, former progressive leader and now a member of the republican national campaign committee, returned to Chicago from a three weeks' vacation today prepared to devote his entire time to the campaign of Charles E. Hughes for president.

He expressed himself as well pleased with the appointment of Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky, as manager of the western campaign headquarters of the republican national committee and said that former progressives would co-operate with him in working for the success of the republican national ticket. Mr. Hert, who has been at Mackinac Island, will return to Chicago tomorrow and begin the organization of his staff assistants.

FEAR OF PREJUDICE KEEP NICKEL LOAF

Loss in Costly Competition May Result in Bakers' Organization.

Competition among bakeries keeps the jitney loaf of bread on the Fort Wayne market.

"We are not making anything on our small loaves of bread now and the prices are getting worse, but we can only hold on," a prominent baker said, Tuesday.

"If one would start we would all raise the price, but none of us dare to make the first move because of the prejudice it would create against our bakery," said another.

"It is a costly game of freeze out which bakers of Fort Wayne are playing. We have always been at swords' points. We would all like to get together, but nobody has ever started the movement," another told.

Individual bakers say they expect to speak to councilmen about changing the ordinance governing the size of a nickle loaf of bread. There would be a chance to change the size with the uncertain market then, they claim.

If prices of flour continue to go up bakers will be forced to raise the price when their present supply of flour is gone, they say. That is only a matter of days.

"But we should not wait. We are holding our flour at less than we can sell it for at our present rating. It is not fair to us. I will not be first to break, however," said a baker.

The Huffner Star bakery, 333 East Lewis street, has prepared an enlightening circular for its customers, explaining the cause of a raise which looks sure to come later. The printed sheets will be distributed Wednesday.

Under the title of "Wheat," it says: "Quality of wheat changes from year to year. Wheat prices change from day to day. Fluctuations are due to crop and market conditions. Boards of trade influence the cost of wheat by speculations.

"Flour is made from sound wheat only. Five bushels of wheat make one barrel of flour. A raise of one cent a bushel on wheat means a five cent raise at least on a barrel of flour.

"Bread is made of wheat flour. When the cost of flour advances thirty per cent the price of bread should keep pace. Special loaves of bread should come and a special price, because of the extra labor, extra time, oven space and baking put in them.

"We recommend the ten cent loaf of bread to persons desiring better flavored bread, which cannot be obtained in the smaller loaf," the article reads. "We believe the co-operation of dealers and consumers is necessary if the price is to be kept reasonable at all in this crisis. Dealers should sell out their supply daily. Consumers should not be too choicy and should not refuse bread which is twenty-four hours old, because by this method only can all waste be eliminated."

WILL TAKE UP DANISH TREATY.

Stone Calls Meeting of Foreign Relations Committee.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Ratification yesterday by the Danish lower house of parliament of the treaty providing for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States has served to hasten consideration of the treaty in the senate here.

Chairman Stone today called a meeting of the foreign relations committee for tomorrow and he hopes to report a recommendation for its ratification to the senate by tomorrow night.

ACTION IS POSTPONED.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The Rainy bill to repeal existing duties on mixed flour, said to be designed to afford cheaper bread, was considered today by the house ways and means committee, but action was postponed.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY FOR INSPECTORS

Fifty Lawns Are Visited on Tuesday in Final Look Over the City.

The inspection committee of the beautification contest worked early and late Tuesday and more than fifty flower bedecked back yards were visited in the course of the day. All work of judging the $00 properties where children have entered the contest, will be finished by Saturday.

The past few weeks have developed remarkable improvements in many of the lawns, women of the committee say. The judging for all prizes will be on fine points, they give out.

A meeting of the entire committee will be called in the assembly room of the court house one day next week and the winners of prizes will be determined. Prizes will not be given out, however, until the second day of the flower show, on Sept. 7.

Women making up the inspection committee, that is touring the city this week, are: Mrs. O. N. Guildin, Mrs. A. E. Fauve, Mrs. Albert Schauf, Mrs. W. O. Seavey, Mrs Fred McCulloch, Miss Minnette Baum, Mrs. W. A. Bayer, Mrs. W. O. Granger, Mrs. Ed White, Mrs. B. H. Barnett, Mrs. Cour, Mrs. C. B. Fitch, Mrs W. K. Noble, Mrs. Henry Bowerfind, Mrs H. G. Keegan, Mrs. S. E. Mulholland, Mrs. J. W. Stemen, Mrs. J. W. Lipkey, Mrs. M. G. Walker, Mrs. William Grosvenor, Mrs. M. H. Durnell, Mrs. John Curran, Mrs. John Brunski, Mrs. Milner Thomas, Mrs. Florence Schiefer, Mrs. H. C. Proebl, Mrs. R. B. McKeeman, Mrs. Elwin Hulse, Mrs. Robert Meyer, Mrs. J. G. Wolfrum, Mrs. Howard Townsend, Mrs. John Moring, Dr. Carrie Banning, Mrs. Fishering, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. McKean, Mrs. Gilliom, Mrs. William Lakey, Mrs. R. K. Erwin, Mrs. W. Hoemig, Mrs. C. N. Notestine, Mrs. E. H. Lane.

OFFERS EXCUSES FOR DELAYING U. S. MAILS

Britain Pleads Hidden Contraband as Justifying Examinations.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—An explanatory statement of how Great Britain's examination of mails is being conducted was presented today to Secretary Lansing by the British embassy. It is preparatory to the more comprehensive reply to American representations now being prepared jointly by the London and Paris foreign offices.

Figures given in the statement show the average time for examination of intercepted mail is from one to three days. The minimum delay to mail between the United States and Holland is given at two days and the maximum at seven. Danish mails have been delayed from seven to ten days when it has been necessary to remove them from a ship; otherwise only four days.

"It is admitted," the statement says, "that at the outset neutral correspondence in which enemy interests were in no way concerned was subjected to a delay which is greatly regretted and which has since been reduced to a minimum.

Much Disguised Contraband.

"It must not be imagined that the mails were removed from neutral ships for examination without careful consideration of the arrangements which would be required to deal with them as quickly as possible. All preparations which seemed necessary were with this object, but, unfortunately, those responsible for them were not aware of some of the difficulties which would be encountered.

"For instance, there was no reason to suppose that (as proved to be the case) mail bags marked as dispatched from one neutral country to another neutral country would contain nothing but mails for or from an enemy country, that bags represented as containing printed matter would contain rubber, coffee, jewelry, etc., sometimes disguised as newspapers, as well as correspondence of all kinds, registered and unregistered, or that persons writing to or from enemy countries would already have adopted the practices of sending their letters under cover to intermediaries in neutral countries.

Find German Propaganda.

"It also could not be supposed that great numbers of complete sacks appearing to contain merely business circulars from neutral countries would contain in reality nothing but propaganda from Germany under covers bearing neutral postage stamps.

"These and similar unforeseen peculiarities made it impossible, until the staff engaged had been largely increased and had become accustomed to them, to select on any fixed principle those mail bags which, when all could not be examined within a reasonable period, should be forwarded without examination.

"The delay of shipping documents carried by the same ship as the cargo to which they refer can be, and has been in some cases, avoided by the simple expedient of inclosing such documents in specially marked bags."

The statement concludes by showing why the dispatch of intercepted mails is best facilitated by examination in London and not at points nearer the seizure, as has been suggested.

The Royal Neighbors' degree team will meet at the home of Mrs. Wyatt, at St. Martin and Warsaw, Thursday evening. The order will give a farewell reception to Mrs. Debrow, Friday evening. She is moving to Jackson, Mich., where she will make her future home.

GETTING ESTIMATE ON RESERVOIR ROOF

May Be Able to Cover Tank for Much Less Than Had Been Expected.

Careful estimate of the cost of sealing the top of the reservoir tank, which is 208 feet long and 108 feet wide, is being prepared by architects under orders from the works board. It is probable that the large basin can be covered for less than $5,000, board members were told Tuesday.

The big roof will be built about three feet above the top of the tank. The sides will be protected with several screen layers. This will allow free circulation of air and keep out the midge flies.

Advice from Purdue university experts is that the roofing plan would probably be best to insure protection against the bugs, whose eggs develop the worms some times found in city water. If the midge flies could be kept from alighting on the surface of the body of water the problem would be solved, board members have been told.

The other recourse is that of saturating the city water with a disinfecting solution. A chloride solution is said by experts in this line to be harmless and yet to keep away insects and prove deadly to their larvae. The cost of treating the storage water will be looked into.

The big reservoir is being emptied of its million gallon supply at this time for a thorough cleaning. The scrubbing out of the big tank proves ineffective, however, except for a few weeks. After a certain length of time the insects alight on the tank and lay the eggs, which later produce the little worms found now and then in city water.

City Hall Brevities.

Deputy Meat and Milk Inspector C. P. Josse returned home Monday after a two weeks' vacation at Lake James.

The new traffic signs are being distributed by George Herrmann, James J. Hayes and Calvin K. Rieman, of the board of public safety.

Park Board Inspects.

After the regular meeting of the park board, Monday afternoon, an inspection tour of the boulevard system of the city was made. In Abe Ackerman's big machine the board members went over all boulevards under construction. Work is advancing rapidly they report.

Miss Thekla Schmidt, of the park board office, is spending her vacation at Big Star lake, near Baldwin, Mich.

Permits to build were granted A. G. W. Curdes to erect a $3,000 frame residence at 3605 Hanna street, and a dwelling to cost $3,000 on Hamilton avenue.

CAMPAIGN TOUR FOR WILSON ABANDONED

Washington, Aug. 15.—After a conference today between President Wilson and the members of the democratic campaign committee Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the national committee, announced that the president would make no speaking tour, but probably would accept invitations to speak at different places.

The president conferred with the democratic campaign committee at luncheon. He will see the associate committee of progressives later.

In the senate today Senator Hardwick of Georgia, democrat, made reply to references by Charles E. Hughes to the predominance of southern members in committee chairmanships in congress. Mr. Hardwick accused the republican presidential nominee of "waving the bloody shirt to stir passion and prejudice."

CARRANZA OFFICER KILLED.

American Provost Guard Returns Mexican's Fire.

San Antonio, Aug. 15.—A lieutenant of the Carranza army was shot and killed by an American provost guard at Colonia Dublan three days ago, according to a report to Gen. Funston today by Gen. Pershing. Gen. Pershing said the Mexican officer became angry at a railroad brakeman and chased and fired on him. The provost guard ordered the officer to halt. The latter turned and fired at the American. The provost guard then shot and killed the lieutenant. He was exonerated.

DETROIT POLICE HOLD ONE.

Seek Two Others for Swindling Lafayette Man.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15.—One man has been detained by the Detroit police as the result of a charge made by Don M. Kelly, of Lafayette, Ind., that he lost $15,000 in a race horse swindle. Two other men accused by Kelly are being sought. He alleges that he met the men in a local hotel and allowed them to place several small bets for him. His money and "winnings" were returned, he said. Then, he delares, he was induced to give the men $15,000 to bet. This time, Kelly told the police, he did not get any money back.

Special Train Carries California Millionaire With Strange Malady.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 15.—Alvin Daniels, multimillionaire mining man, yachtsman and golf enthusiast, who for some time has been confined to his home at Coronado, afflicted with a strange malady that affected one of his legs, is speeding toward Chicago for an operation after an attempt to stay the progress of the trouble with medicine proved unsuccessful.

Upon advice of physicians attending the millionaire, the trip was arranged and a special car was chartered, which left over the Santa Fe.

Mr. Daniels is accompanied by his San Diego physician, Mrs. Daniels and several children, also Percival Thompson, brother of Chicago's mayor, and Mrs. Thompson.

According to Santa Fe officials quick time is being made and close connections at terminal points have been arranged.

Chicago District Attorney Suspects Manipulation of Market.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Federal Judge Landis may be asked today by District Attorney Clyne to summon a special grand jury to investigate the alleged manipulation of the wheat market by speculators. That the district attorney's office is in possession of evidence tending to show a conspiracy between big milling interests of the northwest and speculators to boom the price of wheat was intimated by Mr. Clyne yesterday.

The only action that can be taken by the district attorney to get the facts, and to prove or disaprove the evidence at hand, is the calling of a grand jury. Whether this will be done before Thursday is a question upon which Mr. Clyne refused to comment. That grand jury action is a probability, however, was admitted by the district attorney after E. N. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission, had been consulted.

Holds Conference Today.

Mr. Clyne and Mr. Hurley will hold a conference today with a number of wheat dealers who are expected to appear in response to the district attorney's open invitation. Late last night Mr. Hurley and the district attorney held a conference and a plan to be followed today was outlined.

The most important angle to be taken up at the present in the government's investigation is the bread question, according to Mr. Clyne. Paul Schulze, president of the Schulze Baking company visited the office of the federal prosecutor during the day and placed additional information on the proposed increase in the price of bread before him.

May Keep Hands Off.

The government's investigation, according to the district attorney, concerns only the alleged manipulation of the wheat market by speculators who are accused of conspiring to raise prices in violation of the law. If it is determined that the jump in price is due to natural causes the government will keep its hands off.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Fleming continued to work over the reports gathered by investigators from the office of Hinton G. Clabaugh. His report to Mr. Clyne will not be made for several days. In the meantime several assistants in Mr. Clyne's office are compiling figures and other data to be used in the event a grand jury is called.

PREPARE FOR REUNION.

Veterans of Ninth Indiana Will Meet at Elkhart.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15.—The Ninth Indiana volunteers will hold their annual reunion at Elkhart Sept. 8 and 9. It is expected that about ninety members of the old organization will be present. Maj. J. D. Brandon, of Elkhart, is the only surviving field officer of the regiment. During the civil war the regiment was classed as one of the fighting units, being regarded by Historian Foax as one of the commands that withstood more than its share of the real fighting.

The annual reunion of the Seventy-fourth regiment of Indiana volunteers will be held at Etna Green, Ind., Sept. 14 and 15. David Poor, of Etna Green, is president of the regimental association and William F. Peddycord, of Chicago, is secretary.

POLICE THWART CUPID'S FREAK.

White Boy Was Determined to Wed a Colored Girl at Marion.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 15.—The police yesterday frustrated the attempts of Lyle Courtney, 19 years old (white), of Newcastle, and Florence Hill, 18 years old (colored), of this city, to marry. They were arrested and Courtney was released from jail upon his promise to return to his home and give up his attachment for the colored girl.

Each was steadfast in avowing love for the other to Chief of Police Phillips, who had been apprised of Courtney's purpose by the police of Newcastle. Courtney's father, who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, was shocked to learn of his son's action and his mother was frantic.

By Mlle. Mareix, France's Great Prize Beauty.

It's wonderful to look beautiful and youthful. The Countess de Chevanne, who at seventy years of age possesses a marvelously soft, smooth, velvet-like skin and an almost girl-like complexion without a wrinkle in sight, told the writer personally in Paris that she owed it all to the discovery of skin osmosis. With this marvelous discovery every complexion blemish can be banished in three nights in many instances and you can awaken in the morning with a beautiful natural rose colored complexion fresh as a daisy.

I have known dozens of hollow-cheeked, wrinkled, aged-looking women, who had given up all hope of ever looking beautiful and youthful again, to "Come back" and again become most beautiful, youthful and fascinating in from two to three weeks' time by this wonderful simple method.

No matter what your age or what you have tried unsuccessfully, skin osmosis will positively bring you new beauty and youth. Merely wash your face in warm water at night and rub in a teaspoonful or two of any good pure roseated cream which you can obtain from your druggist. In the morning wash the face with cold water and rub in more cream.

In three weeks or less watch the magic transformation. See how the old, hardened, coarse, rough skin turns into new, fresh, soft, youthful looking skin almost before your very eyes, all due to simple skin osmosis produced solely by warm water and roseated cream, but be sure to use only pure roseated cream, as it is an entirely different thing from ordinary face creams and must not be confounded with them. I personally prefer Creme Tokalon (Roseated), but any good brand will do. If you have wrinkles get a box of Japanese Ice Pencils and use them in connection with the cream and you get quick action on the deepest wrinkles, no matter of how long standing, in one night's time and awaken on the morrow to witness most astonishing results.

I personally guarantee success in every case, in any of my newspaper articles which I write on subjects relating to beauty, or I will refund the amount paid for any products which I recommend, provided you take your dealer's receipt at the time you make your purchase. My American address is Simone Mareix, 20 West 22nd street, New York.

NOTE:—The manufacturers of Creme Tokalon Roseated have such unbounded confidence in their particular brand, that they offer to forfeit $260.00 to any charitable institution, if it can be shown that it will not banish every complexion blemish and give most astonishing new beauty to wrinkled, care-worn, aged women in three days time in many instances. It can be obtained absolutely fresh and guaranteed pure from Meyer Bros. Co., or most any good druggist in this city. —Advertisement.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Aug. 15.—The rural chautauqua's third annual session will be held at the Newville United Brethren church this week. On Tuesday evening the ladies' quartet of the M. E. church, of this place, will furnish the music. Wednesday, Aug. 16, is "Temperance day;" Thursday, Aug. 17, is "Sunday School day." On Friday, the 18th, Dr. Page, of the Moody Bible institute, of Chicago, will speak. Special music by the Baillie trio, of Fort Wayne on Saturday.

Miss Leatha Baker left Sunday to spend a few days at the Alvin Keesler home, near Leo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zise and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cole visited friends at Auburn, Garrett and St. Joe Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensil and daughter, Vronia, of Auburn, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Rose Beams and other friends at this place.

Misses Helda and Emily Kimes, of Robinson chapel, and Miss Pearl Kimes, of Butler, were Sunday guests at the home of their aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Allen and family.

Mrs. John Fairfield and son, Doral, of Fort Wayne, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Lucy Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berry entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rhinehart and daughter, of Kemp, O. Other guests were Lewis Markle and wife, Harley Berry and children, Martin Berry, wife and family, Eli and Louis Berry and Miss Bessie Boger, of Craigsville, Mich.

Little Virgil Koch, son of John Koch, was taken to the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne the latter part of last week, where he was found to be suffering from appendicitis. An operation was performed at once by Dr. Duemling, of Fort Wayne, and Dr. Farkam, of St. Joe. The little fellow is resting easy at this writing and hopes are held for his recovery.

Mrs. Alice Beech, of Eden, brought little Miss Wynetta Webb home on Sunday, spending the day at the home of her brother, John Webb and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beams, Mr. G. M. Shutt and daughter, Gertrude, and Miss Daisy Lewis motored to Newville Sunday to visit their sister and aunt, Mrs. Lillie Benninghoff, who is slowly improving from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boston, of Grabill; Mrs. Mae Sayers and babe, of Three Rivers, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Billman and Glenn Steward, Mrs. Frank House and son John were Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Betz.

SPANKING AND SCOLDING

won't make the little folks study when they are nervous and don't feel well.

Bright children out of school often make no progress in their studies on account of bad eyes.

If you ever tried to read when you had a headache or were tired you have the answer to the question. "Why don't the children do better in school?"

There are just a few weeks left to bring the child to Meigs' the Careful Specialist, in the Lyric Theatre Bldg., and have him fixed up right before another year of school.—Advertisement.

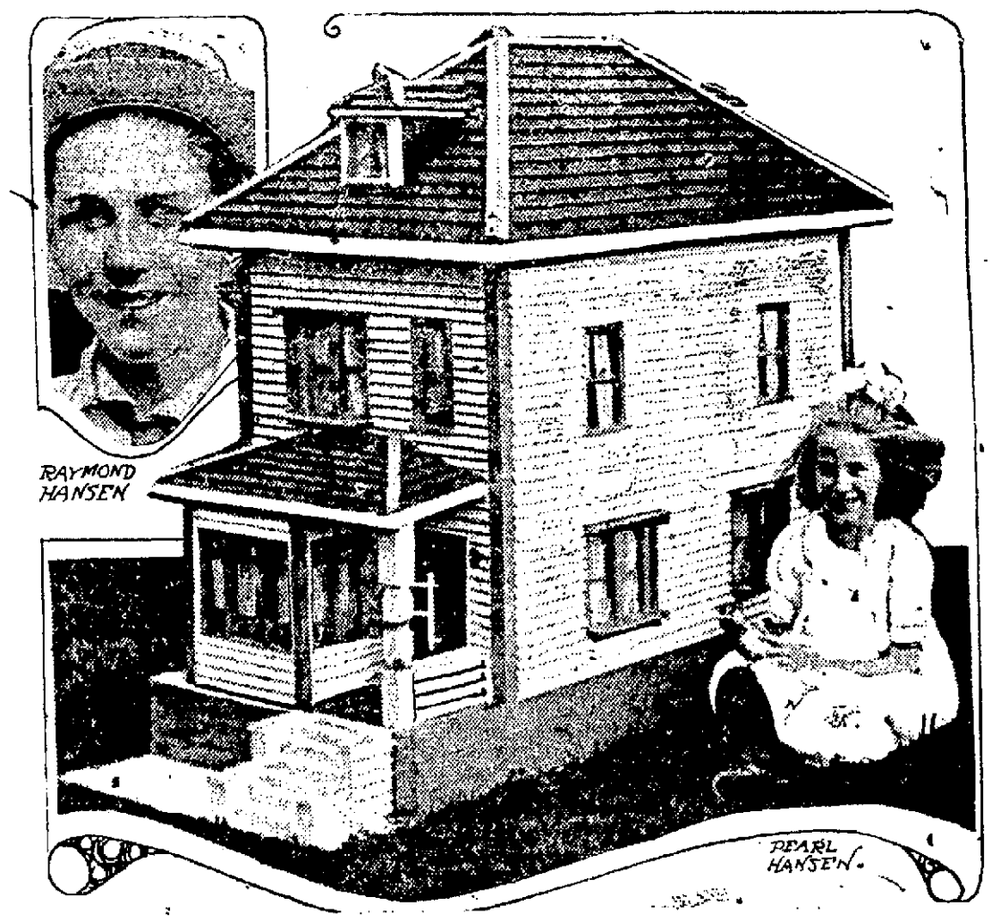
BOY IS NEW SANTA CLAUS; WILL QUIT MILK WAGON JOB FOR FORTUNE AS TOYMAKER.



Ray Hansen, the boy Santa Claus, his sister, Pearl, for whom he built his first dollhouse, and his latest creation which has made such a hit with toy dealers they are making him big offers.

Cicago, Aug. 15.—Let us introduce the boy Santa Claus.

His name is Ray Hansen and he is 18.

His regular job is driving a milk wagon. But he will soon quit the milk business because in him the world has discovered a genius.

He makes dollhouses and makes them so well toy dealers are beating a path way to his door with big offers. He looks to be on the way to a fortune for he makes just the kind of playhouses dealers have been looking for.

He is liable to become so famous in his line some day he will not have to actually make the houses, but just design them.

This boy Santa Claus never took lessons in drawing or manual training. He just works out his own ideas.

WEATHER MEN CAN'T EXPLAIN HEAT SPELL

(By Frederick M. Kerby.)
(Staff Special.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—The heat and drouth that have hurt American crops are just as much mysteries to the government's weather sharks as to the farmers!

If you can tell why dice fall as they do, you can answer the question, why this weather? say the experts at the weather bureau.

Official crop reports show the composite condition of all crops on Aug. 1 was 4.1 per cent. below that of July 1 and 9.3 per cent. below last year's final.

Crops are below the average everywhere except in the North Atlantic states. Compared to last year, they average: Corn, 90.9 per cent.; wheat, 61.6; oats, 82.7; barley, 82.3; rye, 85.2; buckwheat, 108.2; potatoes, 101.4; sweet potatoes, 95.6. Heat and drouth are the causes.

"But why the heat and drouth?" I asked Prof. Alfred J. Henry, forecast division, weather bureau.

"If you have looked through a kaleidoscope, at the different patterns formed by turning it, you can get some idea of how the weather acts," he said.

"We know that weather conditions in general are the results of the atmospheric currents that flow about the earth's surface.

"But to say why it is hot at any particular time and place or why it does or does not rain is impossible."

Prof. Henry showed how United States weather comes mostly from the west and goes across the country until it loses itself in the Atlantic. He explained the mysteries of "high" and "low" areas—a "high" being a center of high atmospheric pressure and usually causing a lower temperature, and a "low" being a center of low pressure and causing higher temperature.

A low pressure area, Henry said, acts as a partial vacuum, drawing in warm currents of air and causing a consequent rise in temperature.

Air, heated at the earth's surface in the tropics, has a tendency to rise and flow outward like the spray from a fountain. Incursions of this heated air coming north cause the heat waves. Northern breezes coming down from the Canadian northwest relieve the hot spell.

Weather predicting consists in the accurate recording of actual weather conditions and forwarding the information by wire to other stations. Thus a storm, or "low" or "high" pressure area is recorded, its movement watched, and predictions made for its effect 24 hours or more in advance.

Bald-Heads This Will Grow Hair

The most important discovery ever made on hair is Vola-Vita. It has been proven by actual results. It will prove it in your case, too. Vola-Vita has proven that hair falling, grayness and dandruff nearly always result when one or more of the principal elements of hair are missing. Hair has now been analyzed and its elements known. When these missing elements are restored, all hair and scalp troubles vanish and hair is compelled to grow luxuriantly.

This is why Vola-Vita has done many remarkable things to hair and scalp. It positively restores the missing elements. That's why it forces hair to grow luxuriantly on heads shiny bald for years. It stops dandruff and itching positively. Hair stops falling because it increases wonderfully in vitality.

Vola-Vita scientifically restores the vigor of the color glands. That's why it absolutely restores the original color to gray, faded or bleached hair, no matter what that original color was. It is not a dye. It contains no alcohol to dry up the hair secretions and ruin hair vigor. Use it and that'll prove it. Start now. Satisfaction guaranteed.

"Vola-Vita" is sold at all drug stores in 50c and $1.00 bottles, or sent direct by Vola-Vita Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c size.

Vola-Vita is sold in Fort Wayne by Peoples Drug Store, Miss Emanuel, T. C. Bohn, Dreier Drug Company, Meyer Bros. Company, B. R. Noll, D. & N. Pharmacy, Woodworth's Drug Store, C. O. JUSTICE QUITS OFFICE.

Resigns Rather Than Take Up Blind Tiger Affidavits.

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Dreier & Meyer Drug Co.'s Sells It.

Three New Monster Freighters from Lima Works Received.

The motive power of the Grand Rapids and Indiana road received quite an addition yesterday when three large new locomotives were received from the Lima Locomotive works. They are freighters of the H-10-S stoker pattern, equipped with superheaters, and are numbered 105, 106 and 107. They have four pair of drivers and when in working order weight 250,000 pounds. They are also equipped with the hand screw reverse gear, the latest thing in its line, and taken as a whole are considered the acme of locomotive construction. One of these locomotives is out on its trial trip this afternoon, taking a string of freight cars to Richmond. They have a rating of 2,000 tons. All will be in service before the end of the week.

Fort Wayne Federation of Labor Named Them Last Night.

The most important action of the Fort Wayne Federation at the meeting last night was the selection of the delegates to the convention of the Indiana State Federation of Labor on September 25. The election resulted as follows: President Joseph D. Shaw, Secretary A. C. Berger, J. J. Berger, J. J. Perrey, P. R. Bell and F. J. Schwanz; alternates, C. N. Feltz, H. J. Hoeltje, J. C. Hahn, C. B. Huston and S. W. Burgoon.

President J. D. Shaw also appointed the following visiting committee: F. J. Schwanz, of the sheet metal workers, chairman; Joseph Seimon, of the moulders; Joseph Lambert, also of the sheet metal workers; William Mensing, of the musicians, and T. B. Burberick, of the carpenters' local.

Credentials were also ordered issued by the federation to J. J. Perrey and P. R. Bell, volunteer organizers in the Fort Wayne district, and two of the best workers in the central body. The federation seated five delegates from the iron workers' local and received a number of reports from the various organizations.

PORTABLE RAILWAY TRACKS.

(London Railway Gazette.)

On the eastern front, light railways have been used to a very large extent. Most of these lines have been improvised, and as the track is sent to the front in sections, the work of building has in many instances been extremely rapid. The extent to which these light railways are being used in the Russian campaign may be gauged from the fact that among the booty captured within the last few days by the victorious Russians no fewer than twenty miles of track were taken in the course of a single operation. Exact details are lacking regarding the transport of a heavy ordnance in this way, but it may be said that even a very narrow gauge light railway affords a better means of conveyance than the apologies for roads in Galicia and Poland, which during winter and spring are seas of the thickest and heaviest mud. As the light railways are not intended for high speed, heavy guns can be carried so long as the individual axle load is kept within bounds, and the distribution of the weight over a number of vehicles is just as feasible on a light railway as on a standard gauge line, where heavy artillery is invariably conveyed in such a manner that the weight is spread over a number of wagons forming an articulated whole.

"DICK" THOMPSON VERY SICK.

Col. R. G. Thompson, who for several years has been connected with the immigration department of the Northwestern road, with headquarters in Chicago, is in a bad way physically, with little prospect of recovery. Colonel Thompson suffered a nervous breakdown while visiting in Fort Wayne three or four months ago and went to Hope hospital for treatment. Later he was taken to a private sanitarium, but received no benefits from the treatment. Sunday, at the colonel's request, he was taken to Chicago. Mrs. Thompson and Harry M. Quicksell accompanying him. A year ago Colonel Thompson weighed 225 pounds; today he weighs only 92 pounds. Colonel Thompson was connected with the passenger department of the Wabash over a quarter of a century, his last service being the capacity of district passenger agent.

DIED ON OPERATING TABLE.

The remains of Engineer George Meany were buried at Ashtabula yesterday, the funeral being attended by many Nickel Plate employes, including two or three from Fort Wayne. Physicians were preparing to perform an operation on Mr. Meany for quinsy last Friday and he died suddenly before the operation began. For a number of years the deceased was employed on the Nickel Plate, first as fireman and later as engineer, residing at Bellevue. He was visiting his parents at Ashtabula when taken sick. He is survived by the widow, two children, his parents and several brothers and sisters. Mr. Meany was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the B. L. E.

C. MOORE IS CROSSING WATCHMAN

Finley Beam, who attained his seventieth birthday last July, retired from the position of watchman at the Calhoun street gates of the Nickel Plate this week and has been succeeded by C. Moore. During the twelve years Mr. Beam presided over that crossing there was not a single accident and so courteously did he perform the duties that he made a friend of everyone who came in touch with him. As stated by The Sentinel several months ago, Mr. Beam has purchased land in the south and will move upon it.

NEED ONLY MECHANICS

"We are not hiring any but machinists and machine operators at present," said Employment Agent W. F. Melching, of the General Electric works, this morning. "Up to the present we have been taking on laborers and all other classes," he continued, "but only skilled workmen and a few wiremen will be hired until the new shops are up and equipped."

MASHED THUMB WITH HAMMER.

Fred Keifhaber, of the General Electric works, had the misfortune to smash the end of his left thumb by a misdirected blow with a hammer this morning. The flesh was bursted on both sides of the nail, and Dr. F. J. Schulz had to take several stitches in dressing the wound. Mr. Keifhaber refused to lay off on account of the injury, and resumed work when the injured thumb had been dressed.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.

F. A. Opatz, foreman of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, has left for Chicago, where he will attend the convention of the Master Blacksmiths' association. The convention will be held at the Hotel Sherman, and will be in session for three days. Mr. Opatz has attended several of the association's meetings.

BERT BAUGHMAN OUT

Nickel Plate Engineer Bert Baughman, who has been sick for the past year, some of the time in a serious condition, is now on the road to recovery. He is a member of the Nickel Plate safety committee, and yesterday, for the first time in many months, he surprised the other members by appearing among them and taking part in the discussion.

EAST ON BUSINESS

Tonight E. A. Wagner, chief engineer in the transformer department of the General Electric works, will leave for Pittsfield on business for the company. Later he will go to Schenectady and will not return home until the latter part of the week.

TAKES POSITION AT ALBANY.

Henry Wefel, who recently resigned a position in the production department of the General Electric works, has taken employment at Albany, N. Y., with the Quaile company, which is extensively engaged in the engraving business. Mr. Wefel will be a salesman.

THUMB BADLY CUT.

C. Calicho, a yard fireman on the Pennsylvania road, suffered a badly cut thumb while at work yesterday afternoon when the grate of the engine on which he was working fell on his hands. He was taken to St. Joseph hospital to have the injury dressed.

KEKIONGA AID MEETING.

Clerk Philip Tolley, of Foreman Charles Brenner's room at the General Electric works, has recovered from an illness that kept him within doors for five days. Three of the days he was confined to his bed.

Herman Goller, of the small motor department of the General Electric works, who went with the excursionists to Cedar Point Saturday, remained there to spend a part of his vacation which he is taking this week.

Peter H. Goda, of the Pennsylvania motive power offices, has gone to Pittsburg on business for the company. Motive Power Inspector James Leach has also gone east on business. He will be on the C. & P. division a few days.

Miss Clara Philley resumed work at the desk in the office of Shipping Clerk J. L. Pulver, of the General Electric works, this morning. Miss Philley was sick for three months, a part of the time being in a serious condition.

M. H. Hagerman, for three or four months employed as a brakeman on the Nickel Plate, is well pleased with Fort Wayne and his position on the road and will bring his family here to reside. He is now at the old home in Oregon, helping to pack up for the move to this city.

Misses Hilda and Loretta Neeb, Minnie Trosen, Florence Gilmore, Florence Freimuth, Mildred Hofer and Messrs. D. Gratchell, E. Sunday, Leo Persing, Nelson Bourer, William Starke, Leo Getz Henry Beuchel, B. Glendenning, W. C Hartwick, Milton Skelton and B. B Timmie have resumed their respective duties at the General Electric works after a vacation of one or two weeks. The Misses Vivian Underwood, who is at Grand Rapids, and Emma Vogelgesang are now out on vacations.

BROTHERHOODS MAY SPURN NEW PROPOSAL

Washington, Aug. 15.—As the heads of the railroad brotherhoods assembled at the white house at 3 o'clock this afternoon for their second conference with President Wilson there were expressions of doubt among officials close to the situation over whether the men would accept the proposal of the railroads made to the president earlier in the day by the managers' committee.

In effect, the railroads proposed, it was understood, to grant the basic eight-hour day and leave the question of its application to be decided by some commission.

The heads of the brotherhoods said before going to the president's conference that they themselves could not pass upon such a proposition but would have to refer it back to the general committee of union heads in New York. As they entered the president's room however, the union leaders gave outward evidence of pessimism.

"Let us pray," was the cryptic response of A. B. Garretson, head of the conductors, when asked what he thought of the outcome.

"I pray to the Lord this conference will be favorable," said Lee, of the conductors.

It was indicated that the optimism which prevailed yesterday had mysteriously been dissipated and that all recognized the situation as more grave.

GOMPERS MAKES REPLY TO SENATOR SHERMAN

Washington, Aug. 16.—Samuel Gompers made reply today to Senator Sherman who yesterday denounced him in the senate as a "public nuisance" during a characterization of certain labor leaders as arbitrary and tyrannical.

"It is impossible for me to be arbitrary and tyrannical," said Mr. Gompers, "for their are no powers vested in the president of the American Federation of Labor. I never have attempted and do not now attempt, as I have not the power, to deliver the vote of any man or group of men."

THE DEATHS

VOIROL.

Clement Voirol, aged thirteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Voirol, of Jackson township, died at the family home early Sunday morning. Death was due to blood poisoning and followed an illness of three weeks. Besides the parents he is survived by seven brothers and four sisters: Frank, Mrs. J. C. Gremaux, Eugene, Stephen, Emma, Clarence, Lillian, Adrian, Larence, Lucile and Edmund. Funeral services, Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the residence and at 9:30 at the St. Louis Catholic church at Besancon.

HABERLY.

Miss Maggie Haberly died at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning at the residence of Mrs. Angeline Henderson, 1011 Liberty street, where she had resided for the past fifty years.

ZEPPERING.

Grafton Arnold Zeppering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zeppering, 2219 John street, died at 5:20 o'clock Tuesday morning at the family home following a very brief illness due to acute bowel trouble. Death came at the age of four months and twenty days. Everything possible was done to save the little boy's life, but of no avail. He was taken sick Monday afternoon.

Funeral services Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. Interment at Concordia.

Funeral Services.

Kreiselmeyer.—Funeral services for Walter Kreiselmeyer will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence, 1302 Swinney avenue, and at 2:30 at Emmaus Lutheran church.

Hoke.—Funeral services for Warren Hoke will be held Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the residence on Indiana avenue and at 10:30 at Prairie Grove chapel. The Woman's Relief Corps will hold flag services at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

ADDITIONAL COURTS

Judge Yaple Will Take up Restaurant Case Wednesday.

Judge Carl Yaple will hear in superior court Wednesday morning the petition of Mattie Wright, waitress, that the National restaurant be thrown into the hands of a receiver benefiting her, she claims, in sum of $67, alleged to be due from Jerry Herron, proprietor.

Hans Meland, attorney for the waitress and former cashier for Herron's place, brought his client into court on Tuesday, but Leonard Bane, attorney for the restaurant owner, asked that the case go over. The waitress asks the receiver be named on the ground that Herron is inexperienced as a restaurant proprietor and that its business will slump, preventing her getting money due.

Husband Drunkard, Claim.

Alice Long has filed suit in superior court asking a divorce from Daniel Long. Cruel treatment and runkenness are charged to the defendant. Colerick & Hogan are attorneys for the plaintiff.

THREE GOVERNORS ACCEPT.

Boone County is Preparing for Big Centennial Event.

Lebanon, Ind., Aug. 15.—Three state governors have accepted invitations to appear here and speak on the afternoon of Sept. 16 at the close of the Boone county centennial celebration. They are Governor Thomas G. Bilbo, of Mississippi; Governor Pleasant, of Louisiana, and Governor Ralston, of Indiana, who will preside at the meeting. The centennial celebration will begin Sept. 14 and continue through three days. The final day, at which the three governors will appear, will be homecoming day.

The Patterson-Fletcher Co. store was very busy again today. People realize there has been a great advance in all kinds of clothing and this Half-Price sale means less than half of next year's price.

ASKS AUTHORITY TO MOBILIZE THE NEW FT. WAYNE BATTERY

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Adjt.-Gen. Franklin L. Bridges today sent a telegram to Gen. A. L. Mills, chief of the militia bureau at Washington, asking authority to mobilize at Fort Benjamin Harrison the new battery of artillery organized at Fort Wayne for the purpose of receiving, training and equipment preparatory to being mustered into the federal service.

Gen. Bridges also sent word to Capt. John C. Scheffler, of the battery, he hoped it soon would be here. If the request of Adjt.-Gen. Bridges is complied with he plans to train the battery for the purpose of taking the place of B battery of Purdue university, which soon is to be mustered out.

The Fort Wayne battery has 139 men and five officers. It probably will be known as D battery.

NINE LAND IN HOSPITAL.

Elkhart Young Men Hurt in Automobile Accident.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 15.—Nine young men in an automobile said to have been driven at great speed, were hurled through a barbed wire fence nine miles west of here today, when the machine turned over. Lester Rouen, 24, driver of the car, was the only one injured seriously. Practically all of the clothing was torn from the men's bodies as they went through the fence. They live in Elkhart. All were taken to a hospital.

SUES BANKRUPT'S RELATIVES

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15.—Joseph Duffy, trustee in bankruptcy of the property of J. J. Shea, jr., of Terre Haute, has filed in federal court a complaint against Elizabeth S. Kennedy, Shea's sister-in-law, asking that she be restrained from disposing of property alleged to have been transferred to her by Shea within four months before the time he was adjudged bankrupt. The property involved is 31,000 shares of the capital stock of the Giant Ledge Mining company, valued at about $10,850. The complaint also asks that the alleged transfer be set aside.

CURTIS FUNERAL TOMORROW.

Final Rites for Congregational Minister at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Au. 15.—The funeral of Rev. Edward D. Curtis, 65, who died yesterday, will be held Thursday afternoon at the residence here. Mr. Curtis had been engaged actively in Congregational church work in Indiana for the last seventeen years. A widow and seven children survive. He organized many Congregational churches in the state.

MORE FUNDS FOR PENAL FARM.

Governor Provides Cash After First Official Visit There.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 15—Following closely his first official visit to the Indiana state penal farm, Gov. Ralston has supplied the funds necessary to complete some buildings needed badly. The governor has given $3,700 from his emergency contingency fund for the use of the farm. The appropriation for the farm was insufficient, it was said.

PROPOSES EMBARGO ON PAPER.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Proposals to authorize President Wilson to lay an embargo on exports of print paper, to relieve present shortage, until the federal trade commission reports on the paper situation are contained in a resolution introduced today by Representative Hastings, of Oklahoma, which was referred to the foreign affairs committee.

NEW JUDGES NAMED.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Federal Judge Charles M. Hough was nominated today by President Wilson as United States circuit judge for the second circuit, and Martin T. Manton was nominated as district judge for the southern district of New York. Judge Hough is now occupying the place to which Mr. Manton was nominated. Judge Hough succeeds E. Henry Lacombe, resigned.

MORE POLICE FOR GARY.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 15.—Twenty more patrolmen will be added to the Gary police force and another motor patrol wagon will be bought, the city council has decided. Forty additional men were requested by the chief of police. He said increased population made that number necessary.

BROTHERS TAKE VOWS.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15.—Six brothers of the Holy Cross congregation were professed and six made their first vows today in the St. Joseph's noviate, Notre Dame.

Fort Wayne and vicinity (radius 20 miles): Probably showers tonight and Wednesday.

For Indiana: Probably showers tonight and Wednesday.

For Ohio: Probably showers tonight and Wednesday; warmer.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The pressure is low in northern and western sections, and relatively high over the south Atlantic states. A disturbance of slight intensity is centered over southeastern Kansas and another one of similar force but of greater area, covers northwestern Canada. During the last 24 hours scattered showers occurred over portions of the central valleys, Tennessee, Georgia, west gulf states and in the southern portion of the Rocky mountain region. Moderate temperatures prevail in all sections of the country. Since Monday morning the temperature changes have been unimportant in southern and western districts but in northern and central sections to the eastward of the Rockies the weather is somewhat warmer.

NO TAKERS FOR A TEN-DOLLAR BILL

Denver, Col., Aug 15.—United States District Attorney Tedrow has a $10 bill nobody seems to want. It's a perfectly good "sawbuck," too.

The bill belongs to James Barnes, who has disappeared. Barnes gave it to two men who were illegally selling inter-state railroad tickets, and it was used as evidence against them.

Tedrow sent the bill to Washington to be turned into the United States treasury. The treasury department sent it back.

Now, Tedrow will ask a local court for an order to deliver the money to the clerk of the United States court where it must remain five years before it can be taken by the treasury department.

BASEBALL ATHLETICS

Local Aggregation Has Dropped the Name of Blackbirds.

"Another team like Butler? Well, I should say so," says Mart Cleary. The Portland team, managed by Nate James, will invade the private scoring field of the Clearyites next Sunday. The team is a fast, hard hitting outfit and will bid for a victory over the local tossers. The team is composed of veteran players and contain some names among the lineup that are old friends to the fans here. The first on the list is Mauler, of the Ohio State league; Kelly, of the minors for ten years; Walls, with Dayton Central league club; James, formerly catcher for Clarksville, Tenn., in the Kitty league, and Biersdorfer, with Fort Wayne Central league club, and many other fast ones. This team is no misfit bunch but a ball team of class. Last Sunday the Portland team beat the strong Urbana team by the score of 2 to 0. The management thinks that this booking is the best the team has had for a long time.

For some time there has been a mixup concerning what the name "Blackbirds" means, and for the benefit of the fans who still are in the dark it is announced hereafter the name of the team will be "The Fort Wayne City Team." All correspondence will reach the manager if addressed to Mart Cleary, care of Cleary & Bailey, Fort Wayne, Ind.

CARDINALS MAY GET BODIE.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Roy Corhan and a large sum in real money have been offered the San Francisco club for Ping Bodie by the St. Louis Nationals, it was learned here Monday. Manager Wolverton will probably decide Tuesday whether to part with the slugger on these terms. Bodie will not be delivered to any purchaser until spring.

CITY TENNIS FANS FORM ORGANIZATION

New Association Plans Big Things for the Fans of City.

The city has at last an organization that will help boost the popular game of tennis. Last night in a meeting the organization was born with Dr. M. F. Porter, jr., as the president, John Berghoff vice president, Clinton Burton secretary, and Edgar Bradley treasurer. Many things were talked over by the members in attendance, one of importance was the plan to see the park board concerning the courts of Swinney park for the association. George Baible and W. A. Lansche were selected to meet the park board and make every possible effort to get the consent of the board for the courts and to ask the board to assist in the construction of a temporary club house. The above members will also look into the matter of securing a place to play indoors this winter.

The association plans a city tennis tournament from Aug. 21 to Sept. 4. M. C. McDougal, of the Fort Wayne Country club, offered the club's courts for part of the tournament and the association accepted the kindness of Mr. McDougal and will play part of the meet at the club.

Among the many things to confront the new organization was the matter of dues and the association is holding the matter under consideration until the club is on a firmer basis.

The association wants a large membership and all those who are desirous of becoming members are requested to get in touch with President Porter or Secretary Burton.

The committee for the city tournament are George Baible, chairman; L. H. Popp, C. Burton, J. Berghoff, Erick Gawehn. The tournament will be open to all Fort Wayne players and the committee wants everyone who can wield a racket to enter.

BIG ARENA FOR WHITE-WELSH GO

Seating Capacity to Accommodate Nearly Fifteen Thousand People.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 15.—The contract for the arena in which the lightweight championship twenty round bout between Charlie White and Freddie Welsh to be held here Labor day, was let Monday. The structure is to have a seating capacity to accommodate 15,000 people. Both of the principals are arranging to secure cottages here for headquarters in which to finish training.

Freddie Welsh and Charlie White took preliminary workouts in Denver Monday. They go late this week to Colorado Springs for the final fortnight's training for their fight there on Labor day afternoon. Both declare they never were in better shape and appearances bear them out.

"They all fail if they get hit hard enough," said White, announcing that his famous left hook was itching for the Englishman's jaw.

BAN SUSPENDS BOBBY.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 15.—Bobby Roth, Cleveland's star pinch hitter, who won Monday's game for the Indians from St. Louis when he clouted a home run in the ninth, was suspended indefinitely Tuesday by President Ban Johnson, of the American league.

Roth was suspended for throwing a pop bottle into the stands Monday, after fans had showered him with glassware. Danger of Roth hitting a spectator was the reason given for the drastic sentence.

GETS SENSATIONAL PITCHER.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15.—"Red" Donovan, who has made a great record with the Winnipeg club of the Northern league, was purchased Saturday by the Milwaukee club. Donovan won ten of his last thirteen games.

Where are the stars of yesteryear?

What has become of the old champions who made history on the cinder path and the athletic field?

Circle the globe and you'll find them scattered here and there. Many have run their last race. Scores have succeeded in the commercial world while others have failed. Fickle fortune has played many pranks with the old guard.

Bernie Wefers, once king of sprinters, is coach of Columbia university athletics.

Bartow S. Weeks, the old Mercury Foot sprinter, is a supreme court judge in New York.

Wendell Baker and Harry Brooks, sprinters, are officials of one of the biggest telephone companies in the east.

Martin Sheridan, the greatest all around man of them all, is a detective-sergeant in the New York police department.

Charley McIvor, the old 100-yard title holder, owns the famous Buena Vista vineyards in California. Charley Stage, the former 100 and 200-yard champion, and later an umpire in the National league, is a lawyer in Cleveland.

Dan Kelly, the former speed marvel, is in business in Portland, Ore.

Warren Schutt, famous Cornell distancer, is in the consular service in Europe. John Paul Jones is working in Chicago. Mel Shepard holds a job in the customs service and John Flangan is a farmer in Ireland.

Alf Ing, old-time hammer-throwing champion, is a piano tuner. Johnny Hayes, the London marathon winner, is a playgrounds director in New Jersey. His great rival, Dorando Pietri, runs a spaghetti restaurant in Carpi, Italy. Over the door is a sign which reads, "Fatto da Piedo," which, translated, means "Made by the feet"—the restaurant, of course.

Lewis Tewanima, the great Indian distance runner, is back among the Hopis, trying to help his tribesmen with the knowledge he acquired at Carlisle. Gwinn Henry, the sprinter, is in business in Texas. Jim Crowley, the fifteen mile record holder, is a bricklayer, and Henry St. Yves is an aviator.

Ira Davenport, Chicago's famous middle distancer, spends his time on his ranch in New Mexico. Simon Gillies, the weight thrower, is a movie actor. Tom Tunney, veteran sprinter, is a New York police captain, and at present in command of the bomb squad. Dutch Arnold is shouldering a gun in the regular army, and Alexander Grant, the former two mile record holder, is a professor at Hill school.

PROS ASSEMBLE FOR WESTERN OPEN MEET

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15.—The Blue Mound Country club course, where the western open championship will be played with the special accompanying events from Tuesday to Friday, is filled with professionals from all parts of the country, arriving to get their shots tempered to the course, over which few of them have played.

Some fine scores were recorded on Sunday. Jack Hutchinson, of Pittsburg, landed premier honors of the day by doing the course in 68, four under par and only three above the course record.

The program for today is an amateur-professional best ball match.

Late entries received Monday by Secretary E. Hoover Bankard, jr., brought the field for the western open championship at the Blue Mound Country club of Milwaukee up to eighty-three. Jim Donaldson, of Glen View, was one of the late comers. Up to last night Tom McNamara, last year's champion, had not entered.

The field is stronger than that of last year, but the Chicago representation is small, only thirteen local professionals being listed. The amateurs from Chicago are Kenneth Baldwin, F. D. Burgess, Robert Markwell, F. R. Blossom, J. Code, W. E. Code, G. Code and R. A. Bowker.

SHE'S A FREAK SWIMMER.

New York, Aug. 15.—With her brother, weighing 265 pounds, tied on her back so that he could hardly move, Miss Ida Elelonsky, 17 years old, of New London, Conn., swam three miles down the North river Sunday, and was prevented from finishing her swim to the battery only by an accident to a rowboat and launch that was accompanying her.

One Minute Talks with Ballplayers

JACK COOMBS, BROOKLYN DODGERS:

"Baseball is a peculiar game. The life is hard and the game fast but there is a fascination about it that just holds one. There is something that comes of matching your eye against a sweeping curve ball that can be found in no other game in the world. Once you get inside the flannels you hate to lay them aside.

"We Brooklyn men should win this pennant. We have a fair lead and at the clip we are traveling should not have much trouble in holding our position.

"We arrived at the top through good baseball and no one can down us. However, there are fifty-five games to play and accidents may cut us down."

"STUFFY" M'INNIS, PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS:

"The one best way for the young fellow breaking into the major leagues to get along is to keep his eyes and ears open at all times.

"The bench is one great training school. The men there discuss the weakness of every player on the opposing team and before long you learn that So-and-So can't hit one kind of a curve but will murder another, and that Bill Whoosit feeds on a fast ball that is high and that certain other batters murder certain kinds of curves but can't touch others.

"Youngsters who listen carefully learn these points and when they get out on the field they can use the knowledge to good advantage."

THIS BIRD IS SOME HURLER.

Marinette, Mich., Aug. 15.—What is believed to be a record in baseball history was accomplished Sunday when Pitcher Ewick, of Crivitz baseball team in an eleven inning game with Marinette struck out twenty-five men. The contest resulted in a 2 to 1 victory for Crivitz.

MANY CARS ENTER GRAND PRIX RACE

Chicago, Aug. 15.—At least thirteen cars will attempt to qualify for Saturday's Speedway Grand Prix race in the elimination trials to be held today, Thursday and Friday on the Maywood course, and on past performances all should attain the requisite speed of 100 miles per hour. As entries do not close until midnight tonight, several additional nominations are expected by the promoters.

The entries to date include the two Packards, Ralph De Palma's Mercedes, Dario Resta's Peugeot, Eddie O'Donnell's Hoskins' Special, two Duesenbergs, which will be driven by Wilbur D'Alene and Tommy Milton, two Sunbeams, which will be tooled by Josef Christiaens, and Frank Galvin, Louis Chevrolet's Frontenac, a Hoskins Special, to which Eddie Rickenbacher has fallen heir, and a Peugeot and Hudson, both nominated by Ralph Mulford in a telegram received from Colorado Springs yesterday.

Starter Wagner on Scene.

Starter Fred J. Wagner already is here to take charge of practice and most of the drivers will be out on the course this afternoon tuning up their cars for the eliminations. Resta, who left New York yesterday, and Christiaens, who has been in Washington on diplomatic business, are expected to establish camp at the Speedway this morning. Their cars arrived yesterday. Galvin chaperoned the Sunbeams in their trip from the east, and the English cars look better than ever. Their aluminum bodies have been polished by a silversmith and they shine like the shield of a Roman gladiator.

Eddie Rickenbacher, who failed to check in as scheduled yesterday, also is expected today. C. C. Hoskins, the wealthy young Kansas City sportsman, is backing Rick's mount, which is a duplicate of O'Donnell's car. Mulford has shipped the Peugeot and Hudson from Colorado Springs, where he participated in the Pike's Peak hill climb last week.

Chevrolet Here With Car.

Louis Chevrolet arrived from Detroit with the Frontenac yesterday and participated in practice with De Palma, D'Alene, Milton, and Galvin.

As an added feature of Thursday's practice and eliminations, De Palma will attempt to lower his American one hour record of ninety-four miles with the Mercedes or one of the Packards.

The contest board of the American Automobile association has been asked to make Saturday's race an A. A. A. championship event in order that the drivers who finish inside the money can be credited with points which will go toward determining which of the speed kings shall receive the $14,500 hung up by the Bosch and Goodrich companies. Chairman Kennerdell has agreed to this provided the distance of the final heat is increased from 50 to 100 miles. The promoters now are considering the feasibility of making this change.

PORT DOPE

A contemporary says Clark Griffith is not uneasy in seventh place. There are certain advantages in having once managed the Cincinnati Reds.

Scientists tell us the distance between the earth and sun is 93,000,000 miles. This is just about the distance Freddie Welsh tangoes every season.

The snipe season in these parts is very short. The sniper season, however, runs twelve months of the year south of the Rio Grande.

Yougotta hand it to Rowland's White Sox for versatility. These birds can play big league ball and bush league baseball equally well.

Now that Ray Schalk has made two bum pegs in one game we won't be surprised to learn of the Athletics copping a double-header.

Some golfers would make very poor teamsters judging by their drives.

NOTICE.

The Colts baseball team will hold a special meeting Wednesday night at the corner of Leith and Calhoun streets at 8 o'clock. All players are requested to be at this meeting.

Two Favorites in Columbus Meeting Distanced in Second Heats.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15.—Two first choices, Russell Boy and The Lark, were distanced in the second heats of their races Monday at the opening of the Columbus Grand circuit meeting. The other favorite, Derby Custr, won his event in straight heats. Russell Boy was slightly favored over Judge Ormonde for the 2:05 pace, but the winner turned up in Lelia Patchen. It was all Russell Boy in the first heat, but he made a fatal break turning into the stretch in the second mile and was outside the flag when it fell.

Straight Sail, four-year-old mare, owned by J. C. Small, of Cincinnati, came on the Grand circuit for the first time, and was always in front in the three heats of her 2:18 trot. Summary:

REVELL CALLS EVANS A PERFECT GOLFER

But His Acquaintances Think He is Often Too Considerate.

What constitutes the perfect golfer?

In an entertaining and instructive book entitled "Pro and Con of Golf," Alexander H. Revell, one of Chicago's "merchant princes," and one of the most famous gentlemen golf players in the country, has answered the question.

In paying a personal tribute to Chick Evans, the author says:

"I have in mind a young man who is a golf player, the antithesis of all that pertains to conceit, ego or vanity, one whose youth and success in the game could make any of these quite possible, and, if not overdone, partially excusable.

"Many of his acquaintances think he has lost important games through being too considerate of friends who were following the game. In other words, the winning of a match apparently did not seem so essential as the need for recognizing and having a pleasant word with friends of high or low degree.

"Were these friends bankers or caddies, it was just the same. Naturally, this properly called out a difference of opinion on his action, in pivotal situations. Nevertheless he apparently could not help it. How important the occasion mattered not.

"The disposition and the gentleman asserted themselves and seemed unconsciously, or otherwise, to be above the game and its winning, however much he desired to win.

"This is not a reflection on others who did not or do not follow his attitude—

"For after all is said and done,
A game is a game—
Fairly played is fairly won.

"But let us ask a question. Is it because of his genial, pleasant manner, as well as other good qualities, that he numbers his friends and well wishers by the thousands?

"He may lose an important contest, but he holds and multiplies his friends, and these friends will be his long after the winning or losing of a contest shall have been quite forgotten."

War to Affect Marriage Age in Australia.

DR. T. F. RYAN.

(Special Correspondence.)

Melbourne, Australia, Aug. 10.—Independence, bred through the absence of men, will keep Australian girls from early marriages for a number of years to come. This is the opinion of Dr. T. F. Ryan, Melbourne, one of the most prominent medical men of the Antipodes.

"The Australian girl, unlike her American sister, figured little in business life until the war," he explained. "Now she has been forced to take the place of the clerk, the cashier, the salesman and other positions of responsibility. She has suddenly discovered that she can be independent.

"Coupled with this will undoubtedly be the prevalence of nervous diseases among the men returning from the wars.

"The result will be that young women of the future will not marry before thirty."

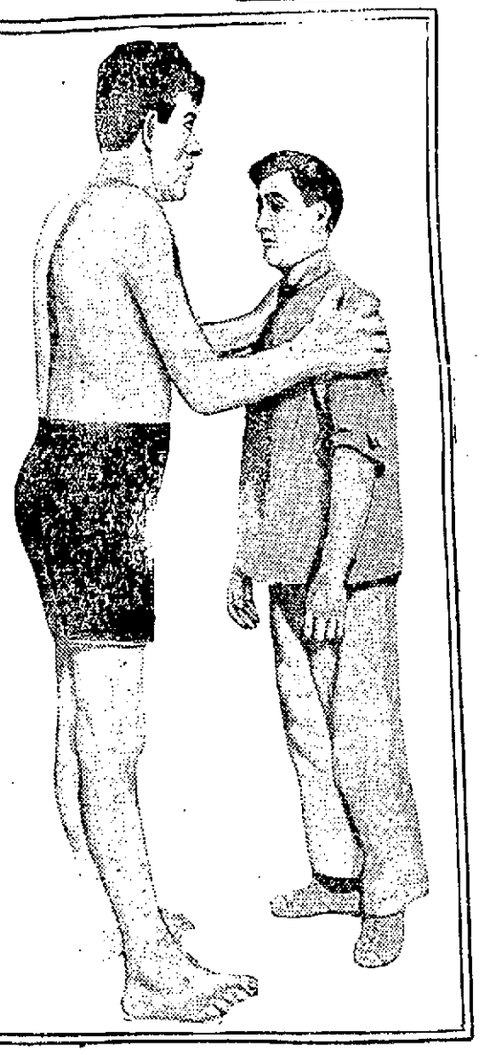
Just Why We Have Giants and How We Can Control Our Height

Dore's famous painting, "David and Goliath," demonstrates the huge size of the world's best known giant, who, in the light of the latest scientific discoveries, may not have been so powerful as he was reputed.



Case I. from Cushing, illustrating the length and weakness of the arms and legs, the huge head the enlarged joints and the lionlike cast of countenance that result from the disease.

Some Amazing New Things About Giants

Giantism is the result of a diseased condition of a gland.

The mammoth and the runt owe their freakish build to the irregularities of one little gland, the pituitary, near the base of the brain.

Surgical treatment of the gland can make you as short or as tall as you want to be.

The familiar disease, "lion face," which is so distressing and fatal, is nothing but giantism, developing after the individual's arrival at maturity.

Giants are unhealthy, weak and short lived.

How would you like to be a giant?

The chances are you won't want to be after you have read the paradoxical facts about a giant's real weakness, but supposing you do want to grow way up, anyway. Surgeons can probably fix it for you.

Also, if you want to be a dwarf and do all sorts of funny pantomime stunts on the vaudeville stage, your doctor can probably arrange that for you, too, providing of course that you are still adolescent.

The surgeons have been quite busy on this theme of giantism lately and have made some startling discoveries. They have lifted the veil of centuries from the fascinating mystery of the side-show freaks.

Circuses in the future won't do the land office business in giants and dwarfs that they used to do. Once the secret of "what makes 'em so big" becomes general property folks won't gape up at the eight-foot Russian grenadier in the side tent in such wonderment and awe.

FATTENING THE "BEAN POLE."

If you are a parent you needn't worry any more about your gangly legged, overgrown son who threatens to develop into a loose-jointed giant. If your little girl doesn't grow and stays scrawny and puny, far beneath normality, you needn't give up in despair and sit hopelessly down to resignation.

Surgeons can control the growth of youth now. The one thing that used to be considered immutable after life and death was growth. Whatever nature thought wise couldn't be helped. If she designed you for a "runt," a "runt" you were; if she laid you out for a "bean pole," a bean pole" you were. But not any more.

Lately, quite lately, the wise men of the scalpel have located the gland that governs a child's growth, and by the treatment of this tiny vessel have brought surgical skill to the place where it can hasten or retard development.

Near the base of the brain is the pituitary gland, so small and so insignificant of appearance that science heretofore always wondered what good it was anyway. Most physicians suspected the thyroid, a much more familiar gland, of being responsible in freak cases for the ludicrous growth of the human body. Then Dr. Harvey Cushing began his investigations and research work. He has demonstrated beyond peradventure that the thyroid gland is innocent and the pituitary guilty.

He is the foremost authority upon giantism in the country and in his book, "The Pituitary Gland and Its Disorders," he describes the disease which giantism really is.

What! You didn't know giantism was a disease? Oh, yes, and so is dwarfism!

The towering giant is in reality puny of strength and in all probability is doomed to a short life. Modern Goliaths aren't even as strong as modern Davids. Their feet are swollen, their joints wabbly, their innards distorted, their brains sluggish. Impotency is usually their lot.

The pituitary gland secretes a fluid that supplies to the muscles and bones their government of growth. If this gland becomes unduly excited in the years before its owner reaches the age of 14 years giantism will result, unless surgical attention is called.

The over-activity of the pituitary body will shoot the human youthful skeleton into enormity. The bones take on colossal proportions. The head expands to tremendous size. A monster results.

WHEN THE BODY CRUMBLES.

For a period following this burst of developing speed, physical prowess may result. The individual will quite likely be able to perform herculean tasks. But not for long. Soon the dread disease "acromegaly" sets in and the huge farmework totters to its decay.

If the zeal of the gland is not manifested until after its owner is mature, great growth will not result, since the bones, hardened and set by the arrival of physical maturity, will prevent expansion, but a more distressing and painful ailment will set in. The gland maintains its flow of exciting secretions and something has to give.

Fearful pains start in the head, the brain becomes heavy and dull, the whole countenance takes on a leonine expression. The lower jaw becomes heavy and obtrudes massively; the lips become thick and coarse; the tongue swells and takes on clumsiness; the hands become spadelike, stiff and inactive; the feet puff up to many times their normal size; the blood pressure gets lower and lower. A general feeling of lassitude and lack of muscular control spreads over the body and extreme weariness is felt at all times.

GLAND OFTEN REMOVED.

This is "acromegaly," the inevitable result when the pituitary gland oversecretes after the bones are hardened.

In the old days there was nothing to do but let nature and ill nature as well take their courses. But today, when acromegaly or giantism sets in, surgeons merely open the way to the pituitary gland and regulate it either by controlling its secretion or by removing it entirely.

Case I. as described and pictured here is taken from Dr. Cushing's book. It is that of a young giant who grew rapidly and uniformly, arriving at a considerable elevation above six feet and within the neighborhood of 200 pounds when he was 19 years old. Great strength was his and he had all the powers of an athletic giant. His pituitary gland was overactive, but when he arrived at the age of 20 or thereabout it ceased secreting and he enjoyed his Brobdingnagian proportions. For some inexplainable reason the gland resumed its activity after a few years with the inevitable result that "acromegaly" began and the young man lost all of his strength and health. He went into a mental and physical decline, and after a few years of distressing existence died.

If science in those days, when the poor fellow was growing in such phenomenal fashion, had known what it knows now it could have arrested his unnatural growth and have saved his life by the mere removal of his pituitary gland.

Case XXXII. is that of a monstrous giant who developed with amazing rapidity in his youth, but who never realized the strength which should have been his had he been a normal man. Acromegaly set in and its weakening effects became apparent at once. The facial expression became almost imbecilic because of the workings of the disease upon his mentality, his extremities grew out of proportion to his height and he became so weak that he had to depend upon two chairs for an upright position.

The removal of his pituitary gland would have halted this enormity had medical skill been cognizant of its opportunities during his youth.

The opposite of giantism, dwarfism, can be prevented by the stimulation of the gland. Lack of development is due to the slothfulness of the pituitary body. Its normal functioning can be accomplished by a special treatment which surgeons now practice.

There are some babies whose health will not permit an operation of so serious a nature as a pituitry treatment. For those frail little children science has a medicine which does much to hasten or retard their growth. It is obtained from special laboratories established in conjunction with large packing houses. From slaughtered animals an extract of pituitary secretions is taken and put into a preparation which will, when taken internally, do much to restore health and normality to the diseased gland in human beings.

Let me see, what was that name?

Haven't we often heard that phrase, or one very like it? Doesn't our memory often play us tricks and cause us to forget things we know perfectly well—"as well as I know my own name," in fact? There is a reason for this; for nearly every case of loss of memory we can find a cause. This discovery has recently been made and is one of the most important advances which psychology has made in the understanding of our mental life.

Forgetting, of course, in one sense, is loss of memory. How, first of all, do we remember things?

It has been assumed by physiologists that every event we experience leaves its trace in the nervous substance of the brain, in much the same way that a "trace" is left upon the phonographic record by the scratch of the recording needle; if the impression is "vivid"—that is, if it leaves a deep impression upon the nervous system—then we remember it; if not, we forget it. As the brain disintegrates with age the memories become weak. This is the doctrine usually assumed for the storage of our memories.

But psychologists have lately complained against this materialistic view of the facts. Of late years Professor Henri Bergson, in particular, has protested that such an explanation does not explain. We believe that memory is a mental thing, not a material one. To be sure, there was always the difficulty, in accounting for memory, that the brain cells, which are constantly being replaced, would eliminate the contained memories, just as new wax cylinders would efface the record, but scientific men "got round" this by assuming that the new cell as it was deposited somehow "inherited" the traces of the previous one and thus retained the memory. There was no evidence that it actually did so, but it was "assumed" to. The strong protest against this materialistic view found support in the fact that practically none of our memories is ever lost, but all can be renewed under suitable conditions and by proper means. Our memory is potentially almost perfect.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 15.—Wall street's firm belief in an amicable settlement of the railway labor controversy was expressed in the general strength of the market at the opening today. Reading was the foremost feature, gaining additional two points on numerous large transactions. Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and New Haven were among the other active and strong rails. Munitions, equipments, coppers and miscellaneous specialties kept more moderate pace with this movement but Bethlehem Steel gained another ten points. United States Steel hesitated slightly but came forward later. Sale of a single block of Anglo-French 5s aggregating $365,000, featured the bond market.

The market broadened in strength in all quarters during the morning, being accelerated by statements purporting to give the main details of the new British loan. Rails, industrials and unclassified specialties moved to higher levels. U. S. Steel attracted attention on its advance of practically a point to 89¼, its top price of the year, and within a fraction of its maximum for almost six years. Shares of independent steel companies also were strong and shipping stocks gained 1½ to 2½ points. International issues ruled the irregular bond market, dealings in the Anglo-French notes assuming extensive proportions.

817 CALHOUN ST.

Announce the opening of a department to buy and sell Fort Wayne city property. For over fifty years they have bought and sold farm lands only, but recognizing the rapid growth of Fort Wayne, have decided to enter the city real estate field and will devote the same energy in building up a business in their new enterprise that has won them success in the past. They will continue as usual in their farm department and will buy and sell farms as in the past, and will loan money on improved farms at 5 per cent.

Robert H. Carlson, a member of the Fort Wayne Real Estate Exchange, and for the past two years cashier of Commercial Bank, has been chosen to manage the new department.

NEVER MISSED MONEY PUT IN BABY BONDS

A young woman who some time ago started to buy a Baby Bond each month stated that she never felt cramped by setting that amount aside from her wages, although it has previously seemed impossible to "make ends meet" without laying aside one cent of her earnings. So many other investors testify to similar facts that it seems proven that the Baby Bond-a-month plan may be adopted by anyone no matter what his or her income may be. Baby Bonds are in $10 denominations, are secured by first mortgages on local real estate and bear six per cent. interest. There are also some $500 bonds with the same security and the same rate of interest. For further information see the Wildwood Sales company, Shoaff building.—Advertisement.

CANADA WILL OFFER NO WORK TO A GERMAN

There is no chance for a German in Canada, Dick Hauschindler told Judge Kerr in police court Tuesday morning in answer to the question of why he was in Fort Wayne.

"Every place where I would tell them that my name was Hauschindler they would ask me to move on," he said. "I would not go back on my name and there was nothing to do but get out. They won't give a German work up there. I am going to work in Fort Wayne."

Hauschindler, who was taken out of a boxcar Monday night and charged with vagrancy, said he had been in Canada three months. He arrived in Fort Wayne Sunday, he told, and was promised work with a construction company here. He was turned loose to get a job.

Ewing Not in Court.

There was no response to the call for case No. 6234. James Ewing, charged with assault and battery on his wife, could not be found.

"Oh, yes, I remember; I had him let out of jail," Judge Kerr said. "His wife called at my office and asked how she was going to keep her five little children while her husband waited in jail. I did not know how she was going to do it, so I sent for the man. He promised to earn money for the family and I let him go. I thought it was the best thing."

The case was continued and Judge Kerr will investigate as to how well the husband is working in pay for his freedom.

No Fine in Trespass Case.

Mattie Wright Manama was not fined after being convicted of trespass. She was ordered not to enter the property of Jerry Herron again, however. She had admitted going into the restaurant of Herron at 1513 South Calhoun street last Friday against his orders. She wanted money he owed her, she told.

Mrs. Wright Manama has asked a receiver be appointed for the place because of back pay she claims is due her. She threatens damage suit because Herron had her arrested on a trespass charge.

Joe Case and Floyd Smith, saloon proprietors charged with selling liquor to three minors, were granted continuance of their cases again. Their hearing is set for Sept. 9.

No Lights Cost Fine.

John Weiss was fined $1 and costs because he allowed his automobile to stand on Columbia street Sunday night with no lights in front and no license tag at the rear of the car. He said his lights were broken.

"Here is where I start a precedent of fining every man brought in for not observing the common rules for automobile traffic," Judge Kerr said. "All safety guards required by law must be flung out, both day and night."

Brown Case Postponed.

The case against Coleman Brown, charged with assault and battery on his mother-in-law, was postponed again and is set for hearing on Aug. 25. The assault occurred two weeks ago.

Other Police Court Cases.

Charles Garver, charged with wife neglect, will not be tried. Prosecutor Hoffman said that records show payments being made in circuit court.

Case against Henry Havert, charged with child neglect, was ordered dismissed.

Robert Thurston was fined the maximum of $3 and costs on a charge of profanity. He was cursing near the transfer corner when arrested Monday.

Wesson Warfield (colored), who has been in Fort Wayne "since the circus," will be held for trial on Thursday on a drunk charge. He came to Fort Wayne with the Sells-Floto show and remained.

Minnie Cannon (colored), charged with intoxication, was given an opportunity to leave town.

Adam Ferrel was fined $1 and costs on a profanity charge. Case against Alvin Wade, charged with disorderly conduct, will be continued indefinitely.

The following were fined $1 and costs on vagrancy charges: Edward Mitchell, John Hull, Robert Murphy. The following were allowed to leave town after being convicted on charges of vagrancy: Albert Perie, John Miller and Arthur Miller.

Cases of Gerald Jackson and Harrison Ludlum, charged with loitering, were continued until Aug. 16 and 21, respectively. David Monostosky, Italian youth who claimed that he was a newsboy on Coney island until two weeks ago, when he started west to see his sister in Chicago and who was charged with vagrancy, was released.

Mrs. Ralph Valance, of Goshen, is spending a week with her parents in this city.

Mrs. Joseph Drayer, of Chicago, is spending a few days with Garrett relatives.

Senator Taggart Fears He Has Not Had Them Called to His Attention.

(BY WILLIS S. THOMPSON.)

Indianapolis, Aug. 15. Mr. Candidate Hughes has been so quiet on the vital subjects involved in questions propounded by thirty-seven leading writers of the country that Senator Thomas Taggart fears he has not had the questions called to his attention.

To be sure that he does not overlook them, the country being most anxious to hear his answers, Senator Taggart has read the questions into the Congressional Record.

While Mr. Candidate Hughes is making his trip across the country, which he describes as a "fool's paradise of temporary prosperity," the "prosperous fools" he talks about are being treated to a scoldfest by the candidate, who abuses all that Woodrow Wilson has done and offers nothing constructive.

So these writers asked if he would have sent the United States navy to protest against the invasion of Belgium; if he would have followed the Lusitania's disaster with war on Germany rather than diplomatic negotiations; if he would have prevented the shipment of munitions to warring nations; if he would urge universal compulsory military service; if he would have recognized Huerta; if he now favors intervention and war with Mexico; if the will state his specific complaints against the federal reserve; if he still opposes the income tax as he did when governor of New York.

Questions Are Repeated.

All these questions Senator Taggart has had inserted in full in the Congressional Record, and the newspapers in each city where Candidate Hughes appears repeat the questions. These newspapers also point out that as an enthusiastic advocate of votes for women Candidate Hughes did not go to the trouble to register and vote when he had the chance in New York. That Woodrow Wilson went to New Jersey to register and returned to vote in favor of women. In fact, it is pointed out that Mr. Candidate Hughes has not cast a ballot in any election since 1910, since he was given a life job on the supreme bench by President Taft. For a man who speaks so enthusiastically on the sacred duty of all Americans to vote, it is strange that he should have neglected for seven years to exercise his sacred right as a citizen. Probably he had forgotten to what party he belonged until the Chicago convention nominated him.

THREE TRAINMEN KILLED.

WORRY KILLS ENGINEER

Railway Man Whose Train Was in Big Wreck Found Dead in Bed.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Dennis W. Leonard, 52, engineer on the Twentieth Century limited, New York Central train, which was wrecked at Amherst, Ohio, last March 29, was found dead in bed at his home here, yesterday. Heart disease, superindured by worry over the wreck, is given by physicians as the cause of death. He was absolved from blame in the catastrophe.
